Spikers Surprise Themselves And Cortland

by Larry Kam

The Albany State men's volleyball team stepped out of their comfort zone on Saturday, Feb. 5, with a series of remarkable performances. The team, led by their coaching staff, surprised everyone when they managed to come out on top against the Cortland Red Dragons, winning 3-1. The game was played at the SUNY Albany fieldhouse, and the team's victory marked a turning point in their season.

The match started off with a dominant performance by the Albany State team. They quickly took the first set, 25-15, setting the stage for a strong showing. The second set was a bit closer, with the Red Dragons putting up a fight, but Albany State managed to secure the victory, 25-22. The third set was another blowout for the Albany State team, who won 25-15, and the fourth set was a narrow victory, 25-23.

The team's victory was attributed to the strong performance of their libero, John Smith, who had an exceptional game, and the excellent teamwork of the team. The victory was a turning point for the team, and they hope to continue their winning streak in the upcoming matches.

The Olympic Torch passed by Stony Brook University on February 5, 1980, as it made its way from New York to Los Angeles. The torch carried by the flag bearer was lit in Olympia, Greece, and it is the official symbol of the Olympic Games. The torch relay is a tradition that dates back to the first modern Olympic Games in 1896.

The Olympic Torch was carried by four torchbearers on this leg of the relay, including a member of the United States Olympic Committee. The torch relay is a symbolic journey that represents the spirit of the Olympic Games and the values of peace, unity, and friendship.

Olympic Donations Still In Question

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the victory, the Danes are expected to account for less than 1 percent of the $2.4 million for the Summer Olympic games. "Both will go above that," said Kidder, "but we're just not sure if they'll make it."

Danes Season Falls On Hard Times

Albany Falls To Hartwick;
Shocked In Oneonta, 63-62

by Paul Schwartz

The energy gains in maintaining their furious comeback proved to be too heavy a price to pay by the Danes last night. After the nationally ranked Division II Hartwick Warriors soared to a 26-10 lead, Albany downed back, closing in 20-23 at halftime, and after trading baskets with the Warriors, the Danes finally overhauled and passed Hartwick at 4:16 remaining. Albany led 41-40, but the effort expended in gaining the lead could not be duplicated. Hartwick kept their pace, utilizing their substantial size advantage, and held on to defeat the Danes 71-63 at University Gym.

"I think the comeback took something out of us," said Albany coach Dick Saurers. "But I don't think we were a little down, but I didn't think we'd be that far. Then our selection got pretty good - until the last three or four minutes. But Jerry Palmer was unstoppable, and they were quite strong. We just didn't get enough help from the reserves." Albany's record is now 2-3.
