The enemy is not people.
Kill people, who shall we live with then?

The enemy’s name is cruelty
Its name is its conscience
Its name is hatred; Its name is bitterness

It’s a group of phantoms
The enemy wears a coat of doctrine
The enemy wears the false front of freedom
It wears a deceiving appearance
It sifts out our worth

People, oh people have compassion for the weak
People, oh people have compassion for the innocent
Have compassion for the sellouts
Have compassion for the cheats
Have compassion for those who pity us
The enemy’s name is unjust accusation
The enemy’s name is ignorance
Its name is ambition
Its name is jealous hatred

The enemy is no stranger
It lies here, inside each one
The enemy is an igniting fire
The enemy is a head
In it lonely head
In a narrow mind
In the dream of conquering

People, oh people love people more and more
People, oh people love people as people
Love people forever
Love people night and day
Love people as hand in hand

The enemy is not people

KILL PEOPLE, WHO SHALL WE LIVE WITH THEN?

PROF FIRED!

Palo Alto, Calif. (AP) — A sine of two decisions, the Palo Alto Unified School District board fired the principal of Franklin High School, Douglas F. Franklin, and the school's computer lab coordinator, Alexei Kosygin.

The principal, who was fired in connection with a scandal involving hundreds of students and faculty, had been under investigation for months. The coordinator, who was fired for insubordination, had been accused of taking part in the scandal.

Franklin High School is a top-ranked school in the Palo Alto Unified School District, and the firing of both individuals has sent shockwaves through the school community.

National

WASHINGTON AP — President Nixon has called for the end of S/U grading at the University of California in Berkeley, which has long been a controversial issue in the university's admissions policies.

S/U grading has been used at the University of California for decades, allowing students to choose between a pass/fail system and a traditional letter grading system. Nixon, who has long been a critic of S/U grading, said it is "an outdated system that is harmful to students and to the American people."

S/U grading has been favored by some because it allows students to avoid a permanent record of grades, while others say it devalues the traditional letter grading system.

State

The Media is Barred

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The state's top education official, Dr. Thomas H. C. Ferguson, today announced that he will bar all newspaper and television cameras from his office and the headquarters of the Pennsylvania Department of Education, effective immediately.

Ferguson said the move was necessary to protect the privacy of state employees and to prevent the distortion of public information through the use of the media.

The decision comes after a series of controversial episodes involving the media, including a recent controversy over the release of secret documents.

Other Stories

Proposals for alternatives to the current S/U grading system were made in a report released today by the state's top education official, Dr. Thomas H. C. Ferguson. The proposals, which include a "mixed" system, would allow students to choose between S/U and traditional letter grades.

The report's recommendations are not yet finalized, and the state's education department is considering feedback from the public before making a final decision.
POW's: Pawns of War

In "The Selling of the President," journalist Joe McGinninis portrays how Richard M. Nixon captured the presidency with a staged, skillfully pre-packaged press and advertising campaign. The book gained additional significance this year as former Embassy in Saigon correspondent for the Associated Press, Mr. McGovern, suggested that Nixon might use the POW issue for political gain. Nixon himself has refused to discuss the matter, to the knowledge of the administration's "dissidents."
"moved too quickly into the mandatory system."

The Community Service Bureau is responsible for the welfare of students who have been in the State Training School. During their stay, they are given an opportunity to learn vocational skills. The school's goal is to prepare students for a successful reintegration into society after their release. The Bureau provides individualized case management services to help students make the transition from incarceration to community life. They work closely with students to develop a plan that addresses their specific needs, including education, employment, and housing. The Bureau also offers ongoing support to help students successfully navigate the challenges of returning to society.
Beethoven's Fifth

by Paul Ehrlich

The ability of a certain piece of music to appeal directly to the emotions is almost universally true. Usually, if a piece, little loved by the general public, is played by a conductor and orchestra and then heard by a large audience, the reaction will be, "What do you mean, it's so good?"

In the case of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, which was first performed 140 years ago, the situation is different. The Fifth Symphony, although not as popular as the Ninth, is loved by all who have heard it, and its opening motif is so well known that it is almost a cliché.

The first movement of the Fifth Symphony is a symphonic masterpiece. The opening motif, "da-capo" style, is a phrase that is repeated throughout the movement, and it is this phrase that gives the symphony its name. The symphony is in four movements, and the first movement is a sonata form. The second movement is a slow movement, and the third movement is a scherzo. The fourth movement is a final movement, and it is the most famous.

The Fifth Symphony was written in 1804-05, and it was the first of Beethoven's five symphonies. It was dedicated to his patron, Countess von Keyserling, and it was first performed in Vienna on December 11, 1805.

The Fifth Symphony is a masterpiece of musical expression. It is a symphony that is loved by all who have heard it, and it is a symphony that has stood the test of time. It is a symphony that is loved by all who have heard it, and it is a symphony that has stood the test of time.

SAN DIEGO"

The Republican Party is coming to San Diego, according to Bob Wilson, John Agnew, Sal Nisbet and Mike Nelligan, the leaders of the Republican Convention Coalition. The coalition will work to prevent the alternative convention from being held in San Diego in 1972.

The coalition plans to hold a meeting of leaders of groups who will work to prevent the alternative delegates from being admitted to the Republican National Convention in 1972. The meeting will be held in San Diego on April 28th. The purpose of the meeting is to organize the coalition and develop strategies for preventing the alternative convention from being held.

The coalition will be made up of groups from all parts of the country. It will include representatives from the National Republican Lawyers Guild, the National Republican Women's Centers, the National Republican Women's Clubs, and the National Republican Veterans Organizations.

The coalition plans to use a variety of tactics to prevent the alternative convention from being held. These tactics may include legal challenges, protests, and efforts to persuade Republican leaders to change their decision.

The coalition is not a legal entity, but a coalition of groups who have formed to prevent the alternative convention from being held. The coalition is not affiliated with any political party, but is an independent organization.

REGENTS PROPOSE $900 TUITION FEE FOR 1974

State University of New York at Albany

Vol. LIX, No. 4

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK AT ALBANY

Tuition Fee for 1974

Friday, January 28, 1972

The Regents of the University of the State of New York at Albany have proposed a tuition fee of $900 for the 1974 academic year.

The proposed tuition fee of $900 would apply to all full-time undergraduate and graduate students. The fee would be effective for the academic year beginning in the fall of 1974.

The Regents' decision to propose the tuition fee was based on several factors, including the increasing cost of operating the university, the need to maintain a balanced budget, and the need to ensure the financial stability of the university.

The Regents noted that the proposed tuition fee is necessary to ensure the financial stability of the university, which has been facing increased costs due to rising operating expenses and decreasing state funding.

The Regents also noted that the proposed tuition fee is based on a careful analysis of the costs associated with providing a quality education at the university.

The Regents emphasized that the proposed tuition fee is necessary to ensure the financial stability of the university and to maintain a balanced budget.

The proposed tuition fee will be effective for the academic year beginning in the fall of 1974.
