Now that you have earned your degree and found your feet in the professional world, it is time to turn to the most important matter of the season: what to wear to Christmas dinner.

Dubhanna or pullovers—it's a matter of taste. No one would claim that the winking, as we know it today, would not be possible. The cardigan (which, curiously enough, was invented on a whim and not for any specific purpose) may be the rage again this year. But I digress. Let us get back to campus fashions. Certain to be the rage this winter are the cardigans, which today are a staple of the modern American wardrobe.

Selection of Religious Articles—Handbags That Are Difficult to Find

During the invasion of the Spanish Armada, Dame Fashion—this is Dame History—had other things on her mind. She was more concerned with the fate of her children than with the fate of her husband. However, the group will not be concerned with these matters. The women's group was started last Monday, with the aim of providing assistance to transfer students. The way in which the women of the group will assist is by responding to any questions that the transfer students may have.

Who'll Be Ambassador?

This year State University will again participate in the College Ambassador Program. It is good to see that applications are being considered early in the school year, and it is good to see that an overwhelming degree of student support and response is demonstrated.

Any Junior with a cumulative average of 2.0 is eligible for consideration. A relatively simple method of application is being used, and it should be easy for any interested student to apply. The benefits to be derived are many and should be well worth the effort extended. One can be a language major or to speak a foreign language in parts.

The purpose of this program will require travel and scholarship amounting to approximately $1,000. This will enable him to spend two months in a foreign country living with a family and traveling in neighboring countries. Each year twenty students are selected from more than 27 countries on five continents.

We hope that our guests will take advantage of the various societies, religious, recreational, and athletic activities available. There will also be an opportunity to work and demonstrate.

The Parents Day Committee, headed by Sue Murphy and staff, has planned a number of activities for the weekend. For example, they have scheduled a meeting of the Alumni Association, a tour of the campus, and a special dinner for the parents. We hope that all of our guests will take advantage of these opportunities.

Dr. Sheila Cooper plans to go to Taiwan next year, and she answered that English was her major while she was doing research at the state university.

We reluctantly relinquish our title as "Mud-slingers of the Year" to Robert Wieboldt, and we sincerely hope that an over-border spirit and I really want to lose to you our score than the best grade of the season. A 2.0 cumulative average is not an all-important food dye legislation, but most enlightening. I was amazed when he was covering in my courses would be a language major.

1962 N.Y.S. Gubernatorial Election - II
Pay A's You Go Financing, Home Rule

by Joseph Cote

Home rule has been an issue in virtually every New York political campaign of the past two decades. Several of the major candidates have made the promise to return control of local government to the municipalities, and this has been especially important in upstate New York. In the past, those who have favored home rule have been the ones who have called for a new state constitution.

The results of the gubernatorial election have given rise to the possibility that the state may be able to pay off its $1.5 billion in outstanding debt and that the state budget may be able to pay for additional programs. The fiscal situation is such that the state is in a position to pay off its debt and to pay for additional programs, and this is a step in the right direction.

The results of the election have caused the state to consider the possibility of paying off its debt and of using the money to pay for additional programs. The state has been in a position to pay off its debt and to pay for additional programs, and this is a step in the right direction.
