SOPHOMORE SOIREE
1921 Gives Delightful Dance

The college gymnasium was the scene of the Annual Soiree given Friday, February 28. The dance began at the close of the Hamilton-State game, and lasted until midnight. Those present included the sophomore class members and their dates and several of the faculty.

In the receiving line were: Regina B. Bruce, class president; Mr. Deyo, Mr. Walser, Miss Louise Carmony, Miss Barbara Wever, Miss Mabel White, Miss Dorothy Beichle, and Ada Ballagh. To any churlish chairman: Esther Conner, Albert Allworth, and Esther Miller after the decoration committee made much praise is due for the effective use of the class colors, red and white. Palms, soft red lights, sorority and fraternity banners were also used to advantage.

O'Neill's orchestra furnished music. The class banner occupied a prominent position at one side of the gymnasium. The freshmen attempted to make away with this most cherished possession of the sophomores, but the flagpole slipped, or someone availed his leg getting in the window, and the stunt failed.

Later in the evening refreshments were served in the cafeteria. The class congratulated gratefully the Committee of Music and refreshments in making this our best entertainment such an unparallelled success. On this committee were: Ada Ballagh, chairman: Catherine Hall, Hamare Darling, Helen Chase, William Stain, Theodore Hill, Ralph Baker, and Martin Barry.

RESULTS OF PEDAGOGUE CONTEST

The results of the Pedagogue contest are as follows:

Senior.—Helen Fay, 28
Junior.—Lovisa Veder, 25
Sophomore.—Mabel White, 28
Freshman.—Helen Walser, 19

A free Pedagogue will go to Helen Fay, 29. Lovisa Veder, 23. Mabel White, 21, and Helen Walser, 28. Credit for half the price of a Pedagogue will be given to the other two juniors in recognition of their work.

The Board thanks the students for their cooperation. Fanny.

CANTERBURY CLUB

"How Thought Became History" held our interest every minute of the regular meeting, February 21. Mr. Walden of the Library School had with him many photographs of old parchments, and some very old books published just after the invention of printing in 1456. He treated his audience as a whole with a letter and collector could.

MATHEMATICS CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

A meeting of the Mathematics club was held February 26. Miss Mildred Reserve discussed "Angular Measurement in Field Artillery," Miss JoSketch Smith Smith discussed "Methods of Locating the German Seculations." These problems were among those actually confronting engineers at the front, and the method of solution was very interesting.

STATE WINS FROM HAMILTON

Clean Game Delights College Fans

Those who attended the Hamilton-State game, Friday evening, February 28, saw an exhibition of clean sportsmanship. Both sides were well matched, and played a fine game. The final score was 24-17 in State's favor.

LOYALTY AND CRITICISM

Of all things to be gained from Professor Riley's lecture of last Friday morning, perhaps the most helpful is the realization that we, as individuals of a nation, still possess the right to voice our own leaders. The audacious gospel which followed the speaker's warning against the Other Power to the United States, was evidence of the fact that we are partners, or that we have not awakened to the fact that war in one and we are not bound, by blind devotion to the principles of our leader.

American support of policies in the war was, no doubt, a great victory. Loyalty MUST still be our attitude, but unquestioning loyalty is not to be demanded.

Not one of us has any feeling of duality. But Mr. Riley said, our education gives us the right to question, to discuss and to express our own opinions. The fact that Mr. Wilson has acted is not sufficient grounds for silent acceptance of the act. To make the nation this will be rank heresy. But free education must make non-partisans of us. The analogy between Marxism, the honest broker, and Wilson the model of European opinion was startling, but was the just we need do? To make us to the realization of our rights of citizenship.

We appreciate Professor Riley's emphasis on this point, and hope that the spirit of the lecture will grow.

NOT MISSING

In contrast to conditions noted in last week's editorial, where the "sisters '19 and '21," published last week, was the faculty action at the State College, and where we found the extremely human side of these men, there are hundreds of students who have State College without the knowledge of the existence of this human side. The men got-together last year was a splendid start toward unity of feeling. And this was instigated by the faculty. It is to be regretted that the movement was not kept up this year.

Faculty interest in student curriculum activities is awakening.

A full realization of common grounds for faculty and student body will do more perhaps to State College spirit than any other thing. Now that interest is in full swing, let us stimulate it. Let us do our best, yes, our two-thirds, of the part in trying to find and keep it, a common meeting ground of faculty and student body.

EULA HICKS SECURES EXCELLENT POSITION

Eula Hicks, who completed her course in the commercial department at the end of the first semester, is now teaching at Cowanville. Yesterday afternoon, a position as secretary of the commercial department in the Home High School, beginning September next, at a salary of $1,200.

SOPHOMORE PRACTICE

Last Thursday afternoon, 1922 had a class sing and cheer practice. Walter Miller, song leader, and Allen D. Bluhm conducted a good practice session. The first hour, the first twenty minutes being given over to the singing, the last ten to the cheering.

DI D THE DESIRE TO SERVE PASS WITH THE WAR?

Where, oh where are the gay young Sophomores? Where are the jolly Juniors? Where are the grand old Seniors?

Not with us, doing Red Cross work, collecting, or canvassing for Red Cross supplies for the Fighting men. Our Juniors have probably heard the expressions of appreciation of State College students and leaders. They were at the American Legion meetings in New York City and gave a splendid performance. Many have expressed the desire to serve the country, but the demand for refugee garments is very great.

We want to thank you, both for your enthusiasm and your interest in helping in this work.

MISS PIERCE ATTENDS REUNION

Miss Louise Conkey will speak before the Chemistry club tomorrow. Her title will be "Perfumes and Extracts."

PSI GAMMA REUNION

On Saturday, February 8, twenty-one Psi Gamma met at "The Yellow Aster" in 34th street, New York City, where they held a reunion luncheon. The docile blue and gold place cards arranged the girls at three tables, 1920, 1921, and one including members from the past six years' classes. The junior girls performed a suggestive bouquet of sweet peas tied with Psi Gamma colors. In an attempt to entertain the senior girls, the musical comedy "Sometimes" was performed and separated into smaller groups and games for the evening. The musical is enjoying great popularity, and there are plans for the evening. Miss Louise Conkey will speak before the Chemistry club tomorrow.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The series of games that have been played between the class teams has been the putting of the Junior and Sophomore teams in the lead. Much interest and speculation is displayed among the girls concerning the final victory. Games which will figure in the final count will be played nearly every day.

FRESHMEN-SOPHOMORE MEET

To-morrow evening, March 7, at eight o'clock, the Freshmen and Sophomore classes will turn out with all their place for the big gym meet of the Junior and Sophomore men. Support the blue and gold, the school colors. Both girls and boys in the Junior and Sophomore classes, support your sister classes. Everybody out for the great occasion.

SOPHOMORE PRACTICE

Last Thursday afternoon, 1922 had a class sing and cheer practice. Walter Miller, song leader, and Allen D. Bluhm conducted a good practice session. The first hour, the first twenty minutes being given over to the singing, the last ten to the cheering.
ECONOMIC NOTES

Miss Marion S. Van Liew recently spent several days in St. Louis, Mo., where she attended the meeting of the National Society for Vocational Education, as a delegate from the Russell Sage Foundation. The meeting was the largest ever held in the society. Delegates from forty-two states were present, representing the support which various state teachers training institutions give the society. Miss Van Liew also visited the University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati, the University of Illinois at Urbana, University of Chicago at Chicago, and the University of Wisconsin at Madison. Observations of the Home Economics department were made the subject of these visits.

Professor and Mrs. Sayles and son Charles were entertained at dinner at the Practice House last Wednesday.

H. E. Course, 20, is cooperating with the Juvenile Department of the Government Employment Bureau in soliciting photographs for a series which will explain why girls leave school, where they go, and what they are doing. They are taking the photographs of the different industries which employ girls under fifteen years of age, to find what industries the girls go into, what education is necessary for these trades, what opportunities are offered for advancement, and the reasons these industries operate this way.

Better conditions individually and socially are being sought by Herbert C. Quentin, Commissioner of Charities, who has asked the department to send a copy of the report of the Commissioner of the County Almshouse and Hospital. The department expects to make a study and give a recommendation.

Mabel Kelly, '19, has been acting as substitute for Miss Jessie Cole in teaching Elementary Foods to the Freshmen.

Marjory Bachelet, '16, is teaching at Pleasantville, N. Y., teaching at Pleasantville, N. Y., Miss Mabel Kelly, with Miss Hoochevver of the Junior and Sophomore Soiree. Refreshments of sherbet, chocolate cakes and punch were served.

SPANISH CLUB

A thoroughly enjoyed meeting of the Spanish Club was held Wednesday afternoon, February 26, in the Milne High chapel. The program was mainly a club sing, done in Spanish, and accompanied by Esther Craner (piano), Marjorie Brand (violin) and Gertrude Southard (violin). The members are planning a repetition of the occasion, with the possible addition of Spanish song books.

INTERESTING CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED IN MILNE HIGH

During the month of March a campaign will be held in Milne High school. The pupils will work toward a hundred percent efficiency in works compiled by the Russell Sage Foundation. This campaign is designed to make sure that the work will be held up to the standards of the practitioners. The campaign will be in charge of the practice English teachers.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

If we do not expect to gain all they claim, they are talking in the language of boundary line cutters, said Professor Ralston. "It is not opposite but different. It is possible to understand their motives. We can appeal to better motives."

He reminded us that the treaty of Vienna and of Berlin, whose work was territorial, fails to prove that from this fact we must not think that treaties can never be kept. We need only to remember the agreement between America and Great Britain concerning the Great Lakes. The first two treaties were made by authoritarians. Professor Ralston said that the new treaties must be based on hating the country, the spirit of man, democracy, open for all. The next forty years we have not had the future. He named certain ghosts of the past that raise questions about the future: the death of a subdued nation, the tragic return of a conquest spirit, and the domination of one man at a conference.

As regards the Monroe doctrine, Professor Ralston pointed out that it has been given up, that non-intervention is a base of the League of Nations. Intervention is not possible anymore.

Professor Ralston added that American public opinion should be allowed to express itself, and says that it is demanded that we wake up and think.

INTERESTING EXPERIENCE

was prepared. It was a big bomber with two motor engines, a perfect beauty. We were bundled up to our ears and wore great overcoats and helmets. I had a fur-lined coat. Helen sat beside the pilot in the bomber's seat and she had a brother beside her to set off the bombs. I sat in the back all by myself. There was nothing to strap me in and the pilot told me when we got up high I might stand up if I wanted to.

Like Trip in Auto.

"Last night when I was out of the hospital a military officer came to the majors told me how awful it seemed for the first five minutes, and when our propellers started to go around, and all of a sudden we crossed the field and began to ascend I felt only the sensation of an auto trip. It was glorious. Then I began to look down on the tiny miniature towns below. We flew over the forests and towns and we were so high up that the clouds looked like a misty clouds. The one landmark we had was the River Marine.""How far we went or how high I do not know though Dad said we were a little specks in the clouds. However, we did not go above the clouds because they were so thick we might not have found our way back and also we had several bump which dropped us swiftly. The sensation was not as bad as it was in an elevator to me though. The worst motion was that of the wind which rocked the plane from side to side and was dangerous enough for the pilot to decide he must descend. Never did I expect to leave the earth, but now I went to fly about the earth and I have never experienced it. Even our planes did not bother me and I was so sorry to have it over I called to "ensure." However, the mechanics told the pilot when we landed that he was wanted at the headquarters for flying on such a day, and he said it was allowed up again.

Chance of a Lifetime.

"When the boys at the station learned what we had done they were proud, because they said it was a Yankee girl who was a pilot in the air. A French pilot came to tell us that he had been summoned before his friendly Italian government because flying was forbidden, also that it was against the regulations to take women up. Therefore, we felt we put one over on the others."

PEDAGOGICAL CONTEST

Fluch, '19, of the Pedagogical Museum, was selected special prize for having scored over fifty subscriptions.

The people who pledged to pay for a Pedagogical on or before the first of February are asked to keep their promises. Remember, we are judged by the way we meet our obligations. Names will be posted next week.

native inhabitants of those areas were succeeded by the Irish when Irish immigration set in. These were displaced by the Italians and Jews who in turn are being displaced by Greeks, Syrians and Armenians. Slum conditions from a standpoint of congestion were dealt with as to the number of persons per room, amount of persons per household, number of persons per room and number of persons per sleeping room, together with the effect of these conditions upon self respect, cleanliness and decency. The fact that the household of the foreign born family contained a large number of boarders was considered in the same connection.

"The dream as a training ground for citizenship or for effective industrial efficiency is a failure."

Gerard, with perseverance; for, as "raiting.—Now, to help me with this next trick, I want the services of a boy — just any boy.

"You're a charlatan," said the barber, "how would you like your hair cut?"

"Why, silly, it grew there," said Evelyn.

They cleaned up just the same. "I shouldn't say a word about our army, I know," said Mr. Murphy. "But, really, they must be sadly in need of a good, competent housekeeper at those camps — it's something scandalous the way the papers tell about them dining in a month like this time."

The wrong direction. A teacher was explaining to her class that if one wished to do anything well, he must begin at the bottom, when a voice from the back interrupted her: "How about swimming, teacher?"

Fortune's Favorite First Broker: "Some people are born lucky." Second Broker: "And the man who is born with plain common sense is one of them."

From Willie's Essay We oughta eat more fish. The fish is a clean animal you will never see it romping in the dusty road or scratching in the dune when it takes a bath every day whether it needs it or not.

Just Like Dad's "Newspaperman" said the barber, "how would you like your hair cut?"

"I just like papa's," little Joseph replied, "with a round hole at the top."

So Do Most Of Us "How did the seed get into the orange?" asked Evelyn.

"Why, Willie," said his mother, "I know it," he answered, "but, really, they must be sadly in need of a good, competent housekeeper at those camps — it's something scandalous the way the papers tell about them dining in a month like this time."

Constant Variety. Crawford: "Don't you find that home-cooking becomes rather monotonous?"

"All right," said Evelyn, "I wish it had grown on the outside."

Siable had been bailed before the court on a charge of chicken-stealing. A great deal of very damaging testimony had been adduced to substantiate the charge. There was no lawyer present to defend Siable, and when the prosecution had completed its case the judge turned to him and said:

"You are charged with stealing chickens; have you any witnesses?"

"No, sir!" answered Siable.

"When you write me I don't have any witnesses!"

Flattery Did It. "You seem a healthy and healthy; you ought to be strong enough to work," she remarked reassuringly.

"Yes, ma'am, I know. And you seem beautiful enough to be on the stage; but evidently you prefer the stoves.

You've never seen me before, have you?

Boy (innocently). — No, father!"

Not So Foolish. Sambo had been bailed before the court on a charge of chicken-stealing. A great deal of very damaging testimony had been adduced to substantiate the charge.
