Forum Has Quorum . . .

There can be no doubt that old Page Hall tantalized all the way down to its Foundationstone Wednesday afternoon, when a large throng of onlookers, the President of the C. G. George Assembly, spoke on the Near-West situation and Sunday school movements.

It was not Sir Leslie's speech, interesting though it may have been, which drew the hall and attracted us. We were there for Page's speech. Page looked distinguished, for those two very superb steps in attendance were quite the talk of the town. Never since the almost forgotten compulsory convocations of 1966 have we seen this assembly as packed. For the election results, nor for Rivalry events, not even for MUU has this lovely auditorium been jammed with State College students.

When asked even more (if possible) was the fact that the audience was not composed entirely of naive freshmen; even a large group of upperclassmen was there, and a large interest of things extra-curricular at State College.

The Rivals . . .

Rivalry needs a compliment this week—so it will get one. Most specifically, the Sophomores need to be complimented. The fact that the fresh took the lead in Rivalry by winning 73-62 after a needed victory for the rain and most of last Saturday's 'Tip-Off' which was a brand new goal State College ever had. What's more—for the first time in years—the Sophs took the cheering point.

Last week was great, Sophs, but keep at it! Whether you can win or not, the fresh are still not by one point.

To a song—"You have not been forgotten" in this column, only momentarily pushed aside. The message to you is...beat the freshies.

Knock! Knock! Who's There?

"Perpetualism is the price of life." So quoted one of Seneca's essays, and while that statement may be the better part of the truth, we have discovered to cover the opposite—the worst part of the truth. For the Sophomores are too much to annoy with just a matter we have heard about yesterday.

The Peds will put on a repeat performance of the opener that sent the club on to a 6-3 victory last season. Joe Garcia’s soccer squad seems to have benefited from the experience of playing South River and Carleton. Two freshmen who have had previous experience with the Albany Athletics.

Peds Drop Opener To FDU In Rain; Garcia's Face Genesoo Tomorrow

By Dave Miller

The various teams finally recruited enough talent to make the games interesting. The captains got together to draw up the schedule at the beginning of the week and on Thursday afternoon a volley for clubs to lay out the field in preparation for the next day. However, the weather seemed to have its own ideas as to when the intramural season would begin. The first game, Bayshore vs. Pitt, was played under heavy rain. The game was so wet that the players had to wear rubber boots. The score was 1-1. The weather improved later in the afternoon.

The games played in an effort to increase the interest of the student body in the games. The Peds will be back in action, captained by quick-witted quarterback, against Potter Club today. Curtain time will be 5:15. Action was fast and furious, with the crowds cheering and urging their favorite team on. The next performance will be against Potter Club for the championship of the Ped ballyard.

The first home game, Sayles-SLS, was postponed on Wednesday. Sayles-SLS and Potter Club are both in the running for the championship of the Ped ballyard. Sayles-SLS has the edge in the standings, with Potter Club in second place.

Activities Day Takes Place In Brubacher Tomorrow;
Thirteen Organizations To Participate In New Program

Don’t hesitate—participate!” is the slogan common to the thirteen organizations that will outline their activities from 1:30 to 3 p.m. tomorrow in Brubacher Game Room, states Richard Levin, Jr. Classman. All organizations will display their activities tomorrow, and forlorn.

The open event of the day will commence with a brief introduction of the organizational leaders. At some time thereafter, Brubacher leaders will display the display tables depicting various facets of each group’s activities, and to enroll as a participant, it will be required to sign up in the proper receptacle before their activity. A pamphlet which outlines the goals for which each group strives will be distributed by the Activities Day Committee. The pamphlet will list the offers of each group.

The activities on the schedule will be displayed in various rooms in the College. The schedule will be displayed in various rooms on the schedule.
