Streaking Danes Reel Off Four Straight Wins

Three Runs In Ninth Stun API, 7-6
Batmen Sweep Hartwick, Down Union

by Paul Schwartz

Tony Mozelli started the Danes on their way to four straight wins on Monday when he delivered a seventh-inning home run in Albany's 8-6 win over Hartwick. In Union's 3-1 setback to the Danes in a doubleheader at Hartwick Saturday and Sunday, the left fielder broke open a 1-1 tie with his two-run home run in the sixth inning in Sunday's game.

The win was a much-needed morale booster for the Danes, who were coming off a 5-3 loss to Cortland in the third game of a three-game weekend series at Hartwick. The loss dropped the Danes' overall record to 2-6.

On Monday, the Danes saw their chances to win the three-game series improve when they beat Hartwick, 7-6, in an eight-inning game. Union scored three runs in the ninth inning to secure the win.

Munsey Notches 100th Win As Trackmen Split

by Debbie Kopf

Albany's track and field team finished second in the ECAC meet last weekend, but it still got some good news in the form of a 100th win for head coach Mike Marlborough.

Marlborough, who has been at Albany since 1967, won his 100th meet on Saturday when the track team finished second in the ECAC meet. The Danes finished second behind Dartmouth in the meet.

Marlborough, who has won 100 meets at Albany, said he was pleased with the way the team performed in the meet.

"I was very pleased with the way we ran," Marlborough said. "We had some good performances in the sprints and relays, and we had some strong performances in the distance events."

The Tourists were at their best despite an unjustifiably small crowd.

The answers keep on coming, though the Tourists went virtually unnoticed. So who should I blame? I can't really be the promoter who thought a band as totally tasteless as 999 can pack the (act, that after every song, bassist Paris appeared on the stage and the actors. Within this enclosed space, they transformed a group of skeptical, Gcoco, as Clov, into believers. This is not to say that the Tourists' performances were perfect, but more importantly, they were unaffected by the skeleton audience, but more importantly, they transformed a group of skeptical, Whistler et al., into believers.

The Candidate Game

Michael A. Green

America, once again it's time for our favorite game—presidential elections. With John and Joan Q. Citizen in mind, perhaps we should be more specific; 300 million another process, higher, and so on. Meanwhile, we play this game all the time, not because we are stupid, but because we are in love with a country that is not so smart.

Constitutionally, it's time of the system again, possibly a great deal later. While the vast majority of the country is getting closer to the March 19 primaries, a few states are still trying to keep track of their respective candidates. The signs of the system have yet to be witnessed in the nation at large, as we are starting to see the colors of the American political documents changing. Yet, in this particular game, the candidates and their political machines are busily planning their strategies, activities, and appearances, all in an attempt to win the presidency for the next four years.

In the game, you decide who you will elect into office. Like the candidates, you have a list of possible choices, each with their own strengths and weaknesses. Some candidates are strong in the polls, while others are struggling. You must carefully consider each candidate before making your decision, as the outcome of the election will have a significant impact on the future of our country and the world.

The game is not just about winning an election; it is about making a difference in the lives of the American people. Your decision can affect the quality of education, the environment, healthcare, and economic policies, among others.

Remember, the game is only as good as the candidates are willing to play. If you feel that the candidates are not putting in enough effort, you can choose not to vote. Your voice matters, and you have the power to make a change. So, which candidate will you choose? It's time to play the game and make a difference.

Albany B-Team Reigns
by Marc Hapi
It was one of those nights for the Home team. Albany was a team to be reckoned with. Their 2-1 defeat of the Binghamton Black Bears in the final Challenge Cup game in April was the perfect ending to a dominating season. The season had started off with a bang, and the team didn’t slow down. With the win, Albany secured their place in the playoffs and were determined to bring home the gold.

The game was a dominant display of skill and strategy. Albany’s defense was rock solid, holding Binghamton scoreless for the majority of the game. The offense, led by star player Mike Schwartz, was unstoppable. Schwartz scored two goals, including the game-winner in overtime, to seal the victory for the B-team.

With the win, Albany-B advanced to the playoffs and were looking to make a run at the Challenge Cup title. The team had been working hard all season, and now they were one step closer to their goal. The players were elated, and the crowd burst into cheers, the sound of their victory echoing through the arena.

As the team celebrated their win, they looked to the future. The playoffs would be a tough challenge, but with their talent and determination, Albany-B had the potential to come out on top. The team was ready to take on whatever the playoffs had in store for them.
“Tough Break” Helps Netmen Edge Middlebury

by Larry Salk

On a perfect day for lacrosse, the Albany State men’s team lost a tough 10-9 contest to the Middlebury College at home on Saturday. The match was a classic.
