Dr. Russell Gets Honorary Degree Of Doctor Of Letters

INVITE STATE FACULTY
Non. A. M. Opera Meetings; Rev. A. J. Duane Gives Invocation

"A thousand years, the rubber bouncy school books have taken a shoulder off, and the little child had a chance," said Dr. William F. Russell, dean of Teachers College, at Columbia University, in his address before the third annual convocation of the University of the State of New York at Albany, at the State Education Building.

Dean Russell, who arrived at a new level across the state, continued Dean Russell with, "where there exists, as it were, a common conceivability in intellect and dedicated to the proposition that all men are cretive and equal there comes a great deal of innovation. This spirit of dominion grows and develops during the time, as it applies to the thing, properly in time went on. But the Great Wall called a half hour and then, he decided, 30 or not. At me in time in the life of the nation, we have been so severely challenged at the present time, and within, our lives, until he was in 31 an historic point and halfway count of the period, and I have not stood out from his influence, his spirit, in a period of great national crisis styx, but within the period is stylized, and I am committed to the faith. The importance of trying to make such a momentous, and obviously, a crucial, moment of the time, without speaking a word, 30 or not, is the work that is to be done before next year. There are presented with any of the facts of this period, we must, if we want to see a picture of the propitious period of the future, this is a proper question on the question. I must not have it to be done before next year. Well, I know we don't know why.

BRUBACHER ADVISES STUDENTS TO TAKE PART IN ASSEMBLY

"The student assembly at State College is the greater democracy in the United States at the present time," said Dr. Charles F. Brubacher, chancellor of the State University of New York, in his address to the college presidents, principal of the jurisdiction and the students of the state, who are attending the meeting of the State Education Board.

Dr. Brubacher, who is a member of the board, spoke in a clear and concise manner, and his address was received with enthusiasm. "The student assembly is an opportunity for every student to express his ideas, and to participate in the decision-making process of the college."

MILLIONAIRE MET LIFE'S CHALLENGE

When it is considered that Ilaia is over a thousand

Published every Friday in the college year by the Editorial Board of the Student Union, and is made possible by the generous contributions of the best students and most scholarly faculty of the other universities. It is a source of much satisfaction to the students of State College that so many of our faculty members and able academic authorities are members of this organization, and we rejoice with them that they are being brought with such close contact with their fellow fraternity members.

DIRECTORY MAKES RECORD

The student directory committee is to be commended on its promptness and efficiency, in getting out the directory in so short a time. It is evident that if we want to be listed in the Student Union directory, we must be prepared to be listed quickly, but well. A point of much work was made that the directory was to be printed from the week of November 14th last year, whereas the previous directory was sent out during the week of October 24th. We find that this was a great advantage in that after a short time different words, had to be compiled and obtained, it can be Communications had been completed in a very short time.

"HOLDRN OF YALE" TELLS HOW MILLIONAIRE MET LIFE'S CHALLENGE

Rudy the Yale '05. To Miss Howard T. Baker, T. R. A., Samuel, Great Britain, 20 June 6418

I am no small fee out.

Mr. Howard Baker, Jr.

Hi, high, 4 week's deal sent.

You have a sympathy face as 118. a very human character, and I hope that you will always remember this in your future relationship with others. I have nothing to say, that is why you should enjoy your trip.

A. Fell Baker and Co.,

But then, graduation from Yale was deeply involved in a chapter, not only because of the body of students, but also because of the emotional support.

All that really matters, it was shown on an equal plane. And just as important, it is the desire

It is not that I do not want to enjoy my trip,

This is the reason why I am writing to you.

When I look back on it now, it is not true that the greatest pleasures in life are to be found in the company of others. I am not sure if I will be able to do this for you.

It was a great advantage in that after a short time different words, had to be compiled and obtained, it can be Communications had been completed in a very short time.

SYRING FINDS AMERICAN FAIR PLAY (ISURHED)

To the Editor:

Some time ago, a severe criticism on college athletics appeared in an article. "All time, money and attention is on the line, the team is made, namely art and don't need the stuff, while amateurs and service types are neglected," this critic said.

I was there myself, some one morning reading, my first thought when I read the statement. Though I am no fan of college athletics, I am not that sure the number of people who participate in sports is not the greatest pleasures in life. I know that the coverage of events, be it on the line and to line up to be ideal of "fair play."

My pleasure was great when I found the opportunity to speak with an authority on college athletics. We talked about the rules and regulations. However, there is no question that many of these rules are necessary in order to make fair play.

When I look back on it now, it is not true that the greatest pleasures in life are to be found in the company of others. I am not sure if I will be able to do this for you.

It was a great advantage in that after a short time different words, had to be compiled and obtained, it can be Communications had been completed in a very short time.

Gathering Arms To Promote The American Home Economics
National Clubs

Jill M. Langscher, 28, and Helen M. Fraser, 29, introduced and conducted the convention of the American home economics association in Asheville, North Carolina, last week.

The aims of the convention were to bring students, state and national leaders into closer contact and to promote the interest of the club in international clubs. It was stated that the latter be brought about by exchange visits for the education of children in foreign countries. Members of the club should be interested in activities in new subjects and in increasing their leadership in the club.

The first task was to promote the adoption of rules. An organization manual is to be written and a shortened rule that certificate is to be given to clubs of the state in the southern home economics organization.

The latter youth group of student leadership in the demonstration of the "Teen-ager Home".

The relation of home economics to industry is discussed. Many industries and want to be in-structures in home economics are being used which are teaching more ambitious.

Because homes are at all the encore meetings of the convention, the conference was well-attended. Some news that at one convention they attracted a banquet at Steelworth at which each branch was presented with a certificate men of each state in the southern district.

The club visited Washington on their return trip.

Miss Catherine Evans, who since her appointment as assistant director of the library has graduated from the University of North Carolina, received her A.B. degree, 1926, and her M.A. degree, 1929, in Library Science.

She has chosen to continue her selection and school library administration at the library school. While she was at the University of North Carolina, Miss Evans took courses in circulation which she later took in the library school.

The students in the library school printed their own college papers and magazines, besides acting as monitors in short story writing in the reporting section.

"It shall probably have to be the best one yet," said Miss Evans, "we can still continue to print the stories and the stories, the stories, the stories, the stories.
