I have to make this column just a feature on a subject that I want to write about. I will try to make it more interesting and informative for my readers. I hope you enjoy it.

A RARE DEEP BAYE CONCLUSION OF THE FIRST ALBANY INVITATIONAL CROSS-COUNTRY MEET which moved the first-place finisher to the state team in New York City, was the clinching goal in the fourth quarter without having to worry about the goalie and into the corner by a cross from halfback Tony Glass. The same combination clicked hand in hand, thus, no runner took individual honors. The five All America runners, however, share the course and the score might have been higher.

A knighting ceremony was held to honor the Albany City Council at its meeting last night. The council, which is composed of five members, was presented with certificates of appreciation by the state Senate. The certificates were presented by Senator John Smith, who said that the council had done an outstanding job.

Albany College game was not scheduled for homecoming. The game was originally set for Saturday, but I do feel an apology is in order. After the game, I plan to write a more detailed report on the performance of the teams.

By W. T. C. Wooten

The Student Association will meet for the last time to submit proposals for the fall semester, tomorrow night.Mr. Collins, president of the Student Association, is scheduled to give his final address to the Student Association. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in Room 364 of the Student Union.

Discussion of the proposals will be limited to 30 minutes. After that, Mr. Collins will present his final address. This will be followed by a formal coffee hour discussion by William T.C. Wooten, 7 p.m. LR 2, Business Administration.

The day care center would have a staff of eight to 10 workers, including one who would work in the center. Any woman who has children will be able to work in the center. This center will provide a place for women to work while their mothers attend to the needs of their families.

The center will have the use of the facilities of an Albany church which would not prove awkward since the center would be housed in the basement of an Albany church.

The center will start operations when the center will start, but Collins stated that although he did not have a specific date, the center will be operational by the time the center will start.

Students held Monday, President of the Student Association, will hold all members of the University to a year behind and by the time they reach high school they are 10 years behind.

Courting Disaster

Last week Central Council issued a proposed amendment to the Student Association Constitution providing for immediate action to be taken in amending the Student Association Constitution to allow reappointment of Student Council members who may have resigned or been expelled.

However, the Council, which had other ideas about the importance of maintaining discipline among members, voted to consider the issue for two more weeks in order to make sure it was handled fairly.

The proposal would require any member who wishes to resign from the Student Council to submit a letter of resignation to the Student Council President. The letter must be signed by the member and must state the reason for resigning.

In addition, the proposal would require any member who is expelled from the Student Council to be suspended for one year before being eligible to run for the position again. This would give the member an opportunity to complete their education and work towards reinstatement into the Student Council.

The proposal was met with mixed reactions from members of the Student Council. Some members were in favor of the proposal, saying it would help maintain discipline among members and prevent them from resigning from the council without giving proper notice.

Others were against the proposal, saying it would be too strict and would discourage members from resigning from the council if they needed to.

The proposal will be considered further in two weeks, but the Student Council is expected to vote on it in the next meeting.

Editors Note: Lastly, the length of letters that became published was not more than three letters.

All That Jesus

In the Editor's Note to our recent issue's article commenting the teaching of Jesus, we fail to include the words of Jesus printed in the first line of our note.

The article refers to the words of Jesus printed
in the first line of our note, and they are not included in this letter.

The Jesus referred to in this letter is

Questionable Support

To the Editor:

I read with interest the editorial commenting the teaching of Jesus in the most recent issue of the Albany Student Press.

I feel that the article is not entirely fair or accurate, and I would like to clarify some points.

Firstly, the article
fails to mention that Jesus' teachings were not limited to the 'golden rule.'

The 'golden rule,' while an important and central teaching,
was not the only teaching
Jesus imparted.

Jesus also taught deliberatively about the necessity of compassion
and love,
the importance of prayer and reflection,
and the need for moral courage.

These teachings were all inextricably linked to the 'golden rule,'
and together
they constituted a holistic vision of morality and ethical behavior.

I thus question
the accuracy
and completeness of the editorial's account.

Sincerely,

Cropped Photos

To the Editor:

I think the article about the recent student demonstrations
is very important, and I would like to add a few points.

Firstly, I
agree with the writer's argument that the demonstrations
were justified by the goals
they represented.

However, I
also believe that the manner in which the demonstrations
were handled was problematic.

The police response was often
unproportional,
and
improperly restrictive.

In
addition,
demonstrators were subjected to harassment
and violence, which we should all condemn.

Sincerely,

'Private Life' Seen Typical Brecht Play

By Francisco Pelle

It is a long way from Berlin to New York. It is also a long way from reality to the theater. However, it seems that the distance between the two is less than it once was. The present season has opened with a Brecht play, and it was superb, it was grand. The first play of the season, in fact, was 'Private Life,' the first play I've ever seen by Brecht. And it was superb. It was grand.

The play is about a young woman, named Gertrude, who is married to a man named Hagen. She is a good wife, and he is a good husband. But they both feel that their marriage is not fulfilling. So they decide to have an affair, and they do. But it is a flawed affair, filled with guilt and regret.

The play is written in a sort of verse, and it is very poetic. The language is beautiful, and the themes are universal. It is a play about love, and it is a play about marriage. It is a play about the human condition.

The actors were excellent, and the production was well done. The set was simple, but effective. The lighting was used to great effect. The sound was clear.

Overall, it was a great play. It was a play that made me think. It was a play that made me feel. It was a play that made me care.

The play opens the season here. It is a great way to start the season. And it is a great play. I recommend it to everyone.

Hoopsters Strengthened; Addition of Seven Newcomers

"This year's team will be one of the best," declared Albany State University's basketball coach Steve Boone. "Our team has improved a lot over the last two years, and we are now considered one of the top teams in the conference."

The addition of seven newcomers to the team has bolstered the roster and increased the depth of the squad. The team is now well-rounded and has a good mix of experienced and talented players. The coach is confident that the team can compete at a high level this year.

Harriers Romp To 15-50 Win

by Thomas Niles

The Harriers, men's track team, continued their winning streak during the week. As the team broke away from the other Big Ten schools, it was late in the season that the Harriers finally began to show the results of the hard work that had been put in by the coaches. The Harriers' three meet this Saturday were against the likes of Princeton, Columbia, and Pennsylvania. The team was able to take advantage of the weather conditions and put up some good times. The Harriers' meet with Princeton was the first of a series of meets for the team. The meet was held in the rain, but it did not stop the Harriers from putting up good times.
