Koch, a candidate from Brooklyn, would run as a Democrat in last year's primary election. However, Ohrenstein, a staunch supporter of the Democratic Party, said Ohrenstein also felt the Koch can be the individual who, if he does not address himself to the internal issues of the Democratic Party, will be second in size only to the Republican party in the election.

In contrast, Ohrenstein said the Democratic Party had been in turmoil, finding itself in a leadership crisis which was causing the party to lose support. Ohrenstein continued:

The Democratic Party had been in turmoil, finding itself in a leadership crisis which was causing the party to lose support. Ohrenstein continued:

"The Democratic Party needs to organize and to unify, to establish effective leadership and to take the lead in the election.

Quad Mice continued to run unopposed to the leadership of the Democratic Party, which is currently dominated by the moderate elements within the party. Ohrenstein warned that the moderate elements within the party were not able to represent the needs of the working class.
A One Man Mandate

Michael Perlman

When one considers with what frequency he is mentioned as a likely candidate for major political office in the near future, there is little doubt that Ronald Reagan has this concept of the presidential mindedness of the American people. Reagan has for a reason of the unique office he holds a unifying force in the public eye. A public figure such as he is drawn to the public eye whenever he is mentioned in either the public's view. He is extremely popular, and his name is synonymous with the success of his policies. When Reagan speaks, the public listens. He has a talent for getting his way. I believe he would receive by such action for the execution of his political ideals, yet because he represents the "lesser of two evils," his effect on the country's reputation as a great democracy, which serves only to shroud the political realities of our modern age."

With Fear And Favor

Robert Schneider

SCTV is quite possibly the most controversial of the major TV variety shows. Its version of the 'Kentucky Fried Chicken' commercial, considered by some to be offensive and by others as politically incorrect, has been a source of much debate and controversy. The show's unique blend of humor, music, and commentary has both won praise and criticism. The recent inclusion of the Dregs music band on the show has further fueled the debate. With the album doing very well in the U.S., and especially Canada, it is clear that demand for their rambunctious performances is high. Their rambunctious style has proven so popular that their shows are sold out well in advance. Their music, characterized by a mix of humor and Social commentary, has made them a household name in Canada, and their fans are legion. Their performance on SCTV, playing on Doug In that game, was a hit with the audience, and their presence on the show has brought them national recognition.

Rocky Awakening: Music is a powerful tool for healing individuals and communities. The Dregs music band's performance at the Mendieta Music Festival, held in the beautiful setting of Mendieta, was a highlight of the event. The band's performance, featuring a mix of rock, blues, and pop, was well-received by the audience. The performance ended with a powerful song, "Ain't Got No," which was met with enthusiastic applause. The audience was left in awe of the band's musical prowess and the message of their performance. The band's music continues to resonate with fans, and their message of empowerment and healing continues to inspire.

What We Need

By the end of the semester, Mark Dunlea will no longer be Director of O'Connor Association (OCA). As seen in an SA President's column this week, the SA President, Dave Robin, finds a replacement for this position will be Moreira.

We were surprised to hear that a search for a new director of OCA has been made. This is a significant position within the university community, and it is important to ensure that the person selected is well-qualified and experienced.

The search process should be transparent and the candidates should be given the opportunity to present their qualifications and experiences. The selection process should be based on merit and the candidates should be evaluated on their abilities to lead and manage the association effectively.

It is important to note that the search should not be limited to current SA members or students. The OCA has a strong tradition of individuals from diverse backgrounds and experiences.

We encourage all interested parties to apply for the position and we hope that the search process will lead to the appointment of a highly qualified individual to lead the OCA.

Not In The Spirit

To the Editor:

Of course, we have to change our curriculums, SUVA instructors, and the likes. However, I don't think that students need to change their curriculums when they want to get a better job. I think that the main goal of the college is to provide students with the knowledge and skills they need to succeed in their future careers.

The problem is not the curriculum but the lack of student involvement. Students should be more involved in the decision-making process to ensure that their needs are met.

In my opinion, the college should provide students with more opportunities to get involved and participate in the decision-making process. This will help to ensure that the curriculum is relevant and meets the needs of students.

The Center for Undergraduate Education (CUE) is co-sponsoring this event. After a busy morning of "experiential learning," students will be treated to a sumptuous lunch at a local restaurant provided by the Rotary Club. The Center for Undergraduate Education (CUE) and the Rotary Club have agreed to donate one morning, April 1st to the career exploration of SUNYA students to participate in a one day on-the-job experience. Here are some of the responses CUE received in reaction to last year's event:

"It provides an excellent opportunity to observe what one might be doing in a career area of interest." — Robert T. Bugbee

"I enjoyed every aspect of this event." — Wayne Klieger

"It's a real rush getting picked up in a Fleetwood Cadillac." — Neil Saffer

Parker, who is currently third in the nation, said he will turn off his television and avoid competing for the first time since the long jump was dropped from the Olympics. "I'd like to be the first to do 19 feet. I'd like to be the first to do it on 24 March." — Jeff Fromm
What Will Gretzky's Encore Be?

Buffalo, NY (AP) -- Gretzky's encore wasn't as great as his first act. The Philadelphia Flyers scored with 1:50 left in the first period, then hung on for a 3-2 win over the Edmonton Oilers.

The three-game series between the teams was held Oct. 30-31-32, and it was the last three games of the regular season for both teams.

"We didn't play very well," said Gretzky, who had three points in the series. "We didn't have the kind of game we wanted.

"It's not a good feeling," Gretzky added, "but it's a good way to end the season."

The Flyers scored on Edmonton goalie Grant Fuhr with 1:50 left in the first period on a shot by Gregtera Thompson. Edmonton tied it at 1-1 on a goal by Mark Messier with 7:30 left in the second period.

"We played good enough to win," said Flyers coach Bob Mott. "We've been playing well lately and we're looking forward to the playoffs.

"We're playing as a team and we're playing well."
Danes Drown Lakers, 87-68, in Last Tune-Up...

BY LARRY KAHN

In what is probably the last tune-up before the NCAA's Top 25 and rank. SUNYAC, the Albany Great Danes, played as themselves, the Oswego Lakers. The Danes won, 87-68, on Saturday night, giving SUNYAC its regular season title. The game was played before a record crowd of 600 at the Alumni Lounge at SUNYAC.

SUNYAC, which is currently ranked second in the nation, has been one of the most exciting teams in the nation this season. The Danes have been on top of the SUNYAC standings since the beginning of the season.

SUNYAC will face the number one team in the nation, the University of Florida, in the first round of the NCAA tournament. The game will be played in Gainesville, Florida, on Thursday, March 11.
