Albany Institute Features
Trio of One-Man Shows

Harold Mordoch will have a one-man show in February, and George Wexler in March. April will bring the Lafayette art shows, formerly shown to a show of their sculptures and prints. Mr. Mordoch received inspiration for his paintings from his immediate environment, the rolling farm acres around his home in Connecticut, and his deep affection for the Canadian landscapes he has painted. He is a prolific artist and has exhibited in many museums and galleries. His work has been recognized in several New England art festivals, including the New Haven Festival of Arts.

A 1965 spring showing of Mr. McIntosh's nature paintings featuring birds was held at the Shangri-La (Conna). David Mordoch, Mr. Wexler was educated in Canada and studied art at Winnipeg under Fitzgerald. Wexler's works will be shown with the Canadian Armed Forces until 1966 came to the United States. He painted scenes for the "Saturday Review" and did other magazine illustration.

Morden River Valley

George Wexler, an artist of great promise, has been exhibiting in the Hudson River Valley, especially the mid-Hudson and eastern mid-Hudson. Mr. Wexler was first prize oil in the 1965 Regional Art Show, held at the W. A. W. Memorial Prize in the same show in 1964 and 1965. His work is characterized by his ability to capture the essence of his subject and to create a mood that is both realistic and evocative. He has been honored in the mid-west, and since leaving Cooper Union School of Art has shown his works systematically. He is represented in the collections of Walker S. Chrysler Jr., New York University, Michigan State University and New York University. Wexler has been a member of the faculty at the State University of New York at New Paltz.

The Minusa Duarte and Dorothy Lathrop have been exhibiting in the Hudson Valley for some years. In 1967 they exhibited their work with that of their mother, Mr. Mordoch. This year they will have a show in the Round Gallery.

Supreme Court Sees Arguments
On Constitutionality of Election Bill

The Supreme Court heard the arguments in the case concerning the constitutionality of the 1966 Election Bill at an open hearing Monday night.

The hearing lasted almost three hours, and the arguments for the plaintiffs, (Mr. Mcintosh) and the arguments for the defendants (Mr. Stevens and the script and the New Testament) were heard. The Court was unanimous in their decision and it is expected that the case will be decided in the near future.

George Wexler will show oil paintings and drawings of the Hudson River Valley, especially the mid-Hudson and eastern mid-Hudson. Mr. Wexler was first prize oil in the 1965 Regional Art Show, held at the W. A. W. Memorial Prize in the same show in 1964 and 1965. Tribute Dance Company Explained for All Skilled

by Karen Clark

On Friday, May 11, the Tribute Dance Company will perform, in its first appearance in the Albany Student Press at the Classic Theater, 8 p.m. The performance included dance and mime, which is a unique combination of visual and dramatic elements. The performance also featured a special effect known as the "Golden Gate Bridge," which was created using the projection of a bridge in the background of the stage. The performers also included a special guest, a professional dance instructor.

Larger Theatre Needed

An Institute will be performed when only a limited number of people will be able to see the State University Theatre's production of "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off!"

This is due to the limited seating capacity of Rensselaer 200 where the play is to be performed.

This has been the case of many of the theatre productions in the past. The most disheartening part about this is that many of the people who attend these performances are not members of the University.

Instead they are usually avid theatre goers from the Albany area. We do not have a theatre against all mechanical or physical limits. This is due to more close knowledge of the University Theatre and the outside community.

However, we do feel that since Student Association fees and other money help finance these productions, a large bleed of tickets should be reserved for the student body. As we have said, this has not been the case in the past.

This is especially necessary now that students do participate in the theatre. The student body feels that they should have priority in any activity which is financed with their money.

Many times all the tickets are sold out before the student body learns about the performance and as a result, they are unable to attend.

We feel that the people connected with these productions should offer more to the University community and should have priority over non-members.

A solution to this problem whereby everybody could be satisfied would be to extend the run of the play or perform it in a larger theatre.

S.U. Theatre To Present Scenes at Yale Drama Festival

The New York State University at Albany Theatre will present a scene at the Yale Drama Festival, which will be held at Yale University from March 18 to 22. The Yale Drama Festival is organized by the Yale University Theatre and is considered one of the most successful dramatic organizations in the country.

On Thursday, March 21, Dr. A. M. Davis, Dean of the New York State University at Albany, will present six scenes, each one representing a different level of dramatic presentation. The scenes will be taken from the productions of the New York State University at Albany and will be performed by members of the University Theatre Department.

The theatre will be open from 7:30 to 10 p.m. each night, and the public is invited to attend. Admission is free.

A RAY VIEW OF SPORTS
by Ray McClellan

There are a few things I should like to comment on right now, but without getting too far ahead I would first like to wish Cooper a happy birthday. He is a number of ad template on the page. It was decided that sports would come out only on Saturdays, and it was hoped that the number of ad template would be at a minimum to allow for a decent amount of sports content.

However, the present condition of the ASP necessitates such a move, and all we can do right now is apologize.

Nobody asked me, but the varsity baseball team, with its first four games on April 4-14, has bawled a tough first half of the season. And with only four players with any pitching experience, the second half won't be any better.

The top performer at the annual Association of College Basketball Tournament is Albany, the most clutch-performing teams Albany has ever had. The Danes Lose, 63-68, to the Waverly, 68-74, in the final game. The loss brings Albany's remaining matches at home and at Utica to a total of 4-5-1.

...Dane 137 pounder Mike Peploiki, averaging 22,000 points, was too outweighed to help out, and sophomore Larry Marcus 137 pounder was unable to make his mark. 8-2-1.

Although this was the last match of the season, the Central Council's power or need to declare any match Invalid was questioned at the election bill ruling that the Central Council shall provide proper and just Student Council sets Elections, Approves Budget Bill

The only provision a student association had to present to the legislature was "the Central Council shall provide properly and just Student Council qualities, and handle the Central Council's power or need to declare any match Invalid was questioned at the election bill ruling that the Central Council shall provide proper and just Student Council sets Elections, Approves Budget Bill..."
Decision Allows Flexibility

Although the New York Times has reported the constitution says but will be able to take a grievance committee for the student body, a grievance committee for the student body, it would be difficult to make a recommendation and channel it to the proper authority where it could be corrected.

Since the first made public this idea, many people have endorsed it. We hope that it may become a working reality.

MYSKANIA as Grievance Committee

We feel that the following people are the best suited for this position:

Jim Costantino
Eugene Davis
Roger French
David Frazer
John Grcw...

Joseph Mahay
Paula Michaels
Tad Parks
Sharyn Teva
Suzanne Wade

The idea of a screening committee is in accord with the new philosophy of the student government. That is, only qualified and deserving people who are willing to work or have shown their desire to work should be consulted.

We do find fault in their decision to declare the previous unopposed which disenfranchised second semester transfer students from voting in the election. These students do not know the people who are running for office and their voting will be done on the basis of the Constitution.

We would like to congratulate the Albany Student Press on their election. The course has been steeped in the past and many students have come and gone. We have been pleased to see the Albany Student Press grow and develop into the paper we know today.
