Eagles Meet Tech In Home Contest
St. Lawrence, Clarkson
The Purple and Gold Matron will play host to the R.P.I. Bobcats this evening in Memorial Gym. The Eagles are in need of a win to offset the 74-67 defeat to Union last week. Clarkson's opinion of involving the Bobcats is 'every game is important.'

Bowling and Swimming Each team is important to the Eagles for their individual reasons.
Bobcat coach, Spike Davitt, senior for Clarkson, maintained that there is no way his team can claim the Ivy League title this season. The Eagles, however, are on the verge of becoming the Champions. Clarkson's presence in the final game is crucial.

And Now, Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the last day that Miss M. T. DeLaney, for two and a half years our Director of Women, will be with us. She is going to the State General Association of Women at Atlantic City, New Jersey, where she will go to the National Harmony and Good Will Conference and take part in the National Convention for the National Council of Christian Women. It is a difficult thing for a woman to leave when her duties are being pushed along by others, and to bring up young women to take their places. She has been a tireless advocate and a leader in the movement for women's welfare and progress. She is indeed very courageous. For she is at war and Dean DeLaney seeks active participation. She is the first woman to hold such a position, and she is at her job to the last day. She is at the time of her tenure. She is the first woman to hold such a position, and she is at her job to the last day. She is the first woman to hold such a position, and she is at her job to the last day.

State Quintet Down RPI; Overcome Lead to Win

Young Sinks Clincher in State's Initial Win; Players Earn Pants

The unpredictable RPI squad threw a scare at the end of the game.

State's men were the few to come out of the game with the upper hand. They were able to overcome the lead taken by RPI in the last minute of the game to win 23-21.

STATESMEN DROP PAIR TO CLARKSON, Y.M.C.A.

Jayvees Lose Game To Engineer Yearlings

The State junior varsity lost its second straight game last Saturday night, 35-37, to the RPI Fresh. Only in the first half did the Jayvees even stay in the running; still they were trailing 15-14 at the intermission. During the second half, the Engineers took control of the game and were never further threatened.

At no point in the game did the Jays show any signs of being discouraged by the game, and it was only the final minute that brought 35-37. The Johns' leading scorer was Harry Bora, with 11 points. The other Johns' leading scorer was Robert Colfels, with 10 points.

Reserve Fund

If MAA does nothing else this year, according to its president, it must establish a fund for the purpose of the year. We say this because they believe in the creation of a $1000 reserve to protect the students who participate in athletics. The council has raised something which it believes is of great value as the years go by. "This fund," stated Bombard, MAA president, "will not interfere with any fund now existing in the college. It is merely an additional fund under MAA control."

The need for such a control fund was brought to light this fall when Terry Smyth and "Moose" Gerber were hurt while playing intramural football. This emergency was met by taking money from the Student Association contingency fund. The fund under MAA control will not interfere with any fund now existing in the college as the new fund will not interfere with any fund now existing in the college. It is merely an additional fund under MAA control."

The existence of this fund will improve conditions. It will provide a reserve of income with which to pay for any serious accident which might not be paid for in the usual way.

Ramblers, Potter Still Undefeated

The intramural league standings are beginning to take a definite shape as a result of the games played during the past week. The Ramblers and Potter are now tied for first with two and one victories respectively. The Ramblers, under the guidance of Coach Flax, are the best team in the league, with Potter making a strong bid for the lead. The Ramblers have won all six games played thus far, while Potter has lost only one game. The other teams in the league are in a close race for second place.

Ramblers and Potter Are Now Tied for First

Following this, KDR and the Finks played a hard-fought game, with the Ramblers winning by a score of 33-23. The Ramblers showed that they definitely have the ability to improve their previous conditions, which they did in the second game, when they defeated the Finks by a score of 35-22. The Ramblers played during the past week. The Ramblers" form with 33 points between them, and Flax continued his inspired play with 14.
