Juniors were the stronger and the game was a thriller from start to finish, for Jessie Darling, with a score of 28 to 15. Both teams were Sophomores who disputed their titleclass basketball championship. In the second game, the deciding factor was the Juniors winning by a score of 8 to 5. This is an opportunity that every athlete should take advantage of. Both Miss Helen Thompson and Mrs. M. B. Taaffe are well-known artists, so it's up to us to show our appreciation by a big attendance.

President Brubacher entertained a party of 15 men, including the team, the coach, the Athletic Council and the Editor of the "News," in honor of the State College basketball team and College President at an evening banquet, March 28. A delicious dinner was served in the private dining room of the College cafeteria, at 6 o'clock. At the conclusion of the dinner, Dr. Brubacher made a few remarks concerning the fine quality of the coach and his men. He then spoke of the unifying efforts of Professor Adlcy toward getting a successful College and the splendid admiration of Mr. Risley as a man, a teacher and a booster, the speaker introduced him to the men as the father of the team.

Professor Risley responded with a toast, "Our Boys." He spoke of their length of the successful basketball season, the splendid work of the men and the untiring efforts of the coaching. He said that their playing and clean sportsmanship compelled all of any of our opponents during the 1919-20 season. He called this an epoch-making factor, a historical affair, and said: "I could not have missed this first annual banquet for our team." He reminded us of the fact that war is over, and that President Brubacher entertained a company of 15 men, in honor of the State College basketball team and Coach Maroney.

CLASS ELECTIONS

Use your heads at elections of classes to-morrow morning. Vote for the best men for the jobs. You know better than anyone else who has the same experience, and if the suspense for an office has been a heavy one it should not be the last word. Use some other job, use your own judgment as to whether he can fill the part you want him for. Don’t let personal feelings enter into your voting at all. Of course, we as students feel that we want to see intelligent, public-spirited candidates. The names are published again in this week’s issue. Read them over and decide definitely before you go to meetings, who the ablest man is. Vote once and be sure you have the right. We do not want a mere show, but a real election. The most important elections are those of the Junior class. As candidates have a lot of dignity to maintain, see to it that the most efficient all-round man or girl is elected.

FOR THE FUTURE

We heard a girl say, “Isn’t this the desolate hole you ever stirred?” It’s her own fault if that’s the way she feels, and besides what she says isn’t true. What she lacks is her own, that little spark of confidence that people possess who realize this “hole” isn’t so bad as it might be. We are young yet and have time and bright outlooks for growing. The culmination of an idea of a life’s work is not to be found during our four years but—all the more reason for growing and working for bigger, better things.

It’s now while we are young that it’s too late to change. We have all the opportunity in the world. This year, two of our students have found work and may be on their way to success. They have not made either the Faculty or students miss a jolly good time. Don’t forget to be on hand Friday, April 3.

Our College is proud to have its students in the college gym, A. A. M. and C. M. W. There are 100 or more who promise to be present. Come every Monday night. Are you the rest of you? It’s the only class that really counts.

FRESH, ATTENTION

Remember it’s the only class that really counts. It’s the only class that really counts. It’s the only class that really counts. It’s the only class that really counts.

O Ye Editor! Does it seem possible that there are still students among us who have never opened the gates of our College, such beloved creature? They know not the citizen’s code of morals? It seems as though the poor, misused things have no respect for the property rights of others. They pay unwelcome visits in old lockers; they gently abscond from therein such small, inconsequential things as perspective, books and lunches, yea—lunches! So, I say unto you, how is it that both incognito lunch is extracted from her bounteous pocket?

and new active service at the front, be the 23rd Infantry, Chateau-Thierry. After spending 31 days at the front he was released from the hospital, the worse for his experience.

He was a member of the Delta Sigma, a high school fraternity, and Kappa Delta, 1800 college fraternity. He was the track judge, Knight of Pythias. The college course will keep him in France until the middle of the summer after which time he hopes to be in this city again, writes — "Kansanbucker Press."

it was indeed a great privilege to be on the honor roll and so hopefully discuss an art of peace. In closing, he praised the outstanding handwriting of the President in the matter of College athletics.

Dr. Brubacher described the situation at the beginning of the year. He said, "We had only 35 men at the beginning of the season—brilliant evidence of our patriotic support of the war." He then praised the work of Coach Maroney who brought a victorious team out of the discouragement.

Saying on the subject "The Athletic Future of State College." Coaching the athletes in 1917, when we had basketball, baseball, track, and tennis, "it was a time of Inspiration and hope for the future." A number of men were more than the number of military men. He said that only a few years hence we would know in intercollegiate circles for baseball, basketball, track, and hockey, as well as basketball. By way of conclusion, the coach said his personal testimonial of the loyal support of President Brubacher and the faculty in general. He stressed the aid given by the Athletic Council, especially emphasizing the value of the training table. Lastly, he lauded the spirit and work of the men on the team.

Dr. Maroney next introduced Captain Fitzgerald of the varsity football team and spoke on "The College Back of the Team." "Fitz" praised the support of Dr. Bickford, Prof. Risky and the Athletic Council in every move the team has made. He emphasized the immense importance of the training table as a social advantage. He mentioned student attendance at games, mannerly support, appreciation of the team for the backing received, and for the honor of the evening.

The next speaker, the Editor of the "News," Donald T. Tower, responded with the toast "The Team Has Done For the College." Among the points brought out were that the team had won every game of the collection of the student body, and that the team had set a splendid example of fine sportsmanship and stick-to-itiveness in the face of discouragement. Further, the team had brought the best body together and the strong bond between students and Faculty. After mentioning the importance of the Board of Regents listed on the 1918-19 schedule, and after stressing the significance of the fact that State College was in position to refuse to join a State league, and that the team now belongs to the Eastern Intercollegiate league, Mr. Tower included his marks with the summarizing sentence, "The team has put State College on the map."

Several rousing cheers for "Fitz" and coach ended the most significant events in the history of State College. When a college president entertains a group of men in honor of the College team, there can be no doubt of the future of the team and of the College.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Soph-Profs game today, 4:00

The much talked of interclass basketball series has been started at last and promises to be very interesting. The first game took place yesterday between the Seniors and Juniors. The second game takes place to-day when the Sophomore team plays the Freshman. The tie is bound to fly in this game, because the two classes have not met in any contests yet, and there is a lot of starry-eyed enthusiasm waiting to be released. The rivalry is keen and it is sure to come out at this game. Both teams are in good condition and seem evenly matched so a lively game is assured. On Friday afternoon the Juniors will try to teach the Sophomore team a lesson in track, and the Freshmen will give the Sophomore team a first look at some of the game. Every man scored at least 100 per cent. If most of the baskets were made at the middle of the floor, the score was 30 to 20.
