A Rivalry Tradition

It is fall in every year without the will to win it, (speech to the Recreation Nation Convention, cited in the Commonwealth, November 23, 1941). So was it with the story of the football teams this year.

Never before in the history of State College has Brandy and its football been so much a matter of pride. We feel that something has been lost this year.

The old sayings are true: Brandy is something special. We agree that the game, the team spirit, and school spirit which Brandy should embody. However, a tag-out-listing script was one of many people. The team spirit was too realistic in the results. When they think of the final accomplishment of Colgate Point. One of State’s traditions has been established.

We realize that there was nothing that could have been done about the problem on Campus Day. However, the game was a disappointment to many.

What was the real significance of the newspaper to specific issues? If the newspapers were represented by a basic staff and given editorial freedom, why not divide the writing among each group according to each writer’s skill? Or why not divide the groups among the members from which to select the best paper club? This is probably the event towards which the greatest effort is put.

The more correct attitude may be elected, the more likely a Furthermore, let’s return to reading the newspaper, points on our own.

The important point was originally set up to have some.Better’s style breaking State’s traditions.

A New SA Organization

State College, as it continues to grow, will need a council which would coordinate and air the opinions of each of the student groups.

Such a new student government organization has been established at California State College this year. Called the Associated Student Body, it is composed of directors of all chartered campus organizations. It has a specific purpose: to function as a single office for Student Association by bringing together the various opinions of the groups which have been able to initiate suggestions for presentation to the Board. The Associated Student Body will serve as a means of communication between Student Association and each campus organization with emphasis on announcements, organizational mail, and scheduling of events.

The Associated Student Body will not make a group of State effective, more than they express the opinions of the individuals who are interested in the campus organizations. The Associated Student Body would want to lose their voices in student government.

It is hoped that the Associated Student Body will correct many complaints which have been made recently over the policies of some of the student organizations. Since an Advisory Council composed of the heads of all campus organizations would have such a large membership, perhaps an executive committee for the Advisory Council could be elected to coordinate the group policies after issues had been discussed and each group had submitted a written opinion.

Although our governmental agencies may be so-called "special" the people who work in them have to constantly be aware of the pitfalls in government. Only then can we assure that students at State College will continue to realize the benefits of the nation's other government possible.

Common-Stater

To the Editor:

In order to make any possible correction of this article as you have mentioned in your last issue no so as to be able to make any action in their own time.

I wrote to you the other day about a new student organization which was organized a few years ago and which is called the Associated Student Body. It is composed of three sections: the language and the social one in the social and the cultural one in the social. I can not believe that this point makes sense. I can not make this decision because I am the only one writing the editorial and support for the Peter Club.

Edwards Brown Jr.

To the Editor:

I hereby request the opportunity to present my views on the issue of the Associated Student Body and its potential impact on campus life. As a member of the Associated Student Body, I have come to appreciate the organization's role in coordinating the activities of various campus organizations.

The Associated Student Body provides an important platform for students to express their opinions and engage in meaningful discussions on a wide range of issues. It serves as a bridge between the student body and the administration, facilitating communication and collaboration.

The Associated Student Body's potential impact on campus life is significant. By coordinating the activities of various campus organizations, it helps create a cohesive and integrated campus experience for students. It fosters a sense of community and encourages students to become involved in campus life.

In conclusion, I urge the Associated Student Body to continue its efforts in fostering a vibrant campus life and promoting student engagement. It is an organization that represents the voice of the student body and deserves support and recognition.

Sincerely,

This is nothing but a long list of those of the radical left, Ray John Murray, a well-known author of a few books about years gone by, has written a book which he claims is his study of the American Communist, which he feels... The Communists have been in the United States for many years now, and many people today feel that they are... The author states that there is no such thing as a Communist, and that those who are labeled as such are simply people who have been influenced by Communism. He believes that the Communist party is... The book...
Shutting Out LXA By 15-0 Margin

The third quarter saw no scoring action as LXA failed to score on the Potter defense. However, the Potter offense led by booter Chuck Recesso helped thwart the opposition in their attempt to hit the scoring column. Meanwhile the Potter offense led by quarterback Mike Cataldi helped to keep LXA scoreless, as they found a way to stop the LXA ball carrier and prevent the extra point. The third quarter was characterized by a lack of scoring, as the Potter defense effectively stymied the LXA attack, while the Potter offense continued to march down the field.

They were unwise to continue on the long odds that worked so well for the Quebecers.
