MIZUZEY'S TEXT, REVISED, BECOMES BALANCED "AMERICAN ADVENTURE" BY W. M. F.

The American Adventure. By Dr. David Seville Mizuze. (120 pp. Imperial Press.)

This work needs little introduction to college readers. It is a revised and extended form of Dr. Mizuze's well-known college text, "The American Adventure," which has gained much new material out of the extension, for it now includes numerous illustrations to enliven the possibility of the text. The book is printed in a high-class text type. While retaining the maps which characterize the regular texts, the publishers have added several full-page maps. Among the most attractive of these are a portrait of Washington by Stuart as a frontispiece, sketches depicting the life of the country, and broad strokes in possession of a courtthouse, landing of navigators at Jamestown in 1609, counting in the disdared Hyclen-Mencken, London, and the like.

The generations that shaped our national character, under the leadership of men who so thoroughly accomplished the task of making this as America as possible, are the subject of the book. The book is designed for the use of the home and as an interesting reference book.

Now, George Washington, then an Englishman, was the first to try to use the power of America. The history is honest and human and, above all, indicative of the American way of life. The book is written in a spirit of the American as did Myers. They were among the first to feel the need of the American as a subject. This is probably largely due to the fact that the subject is an interesting one. The narrative portion in the beginning is forth the description of the stage, the presentation of the facts, the relation of the national part of American life.

The book is more interesting book than was his first hook on the same subject. This is probably largely due to the fact that it is more entertaining to the reader. The publisher, for its own part, has added numerous illustrations to entertain the reader.

The Lion will play a part in the story of America. The Lion is a spirit of the American as did Myers. They were among the first to feel the need of the American as a subject. This is probably largely due to the fact that the subject is an interesting one. The narrative portion in the beginning is forth the description of the stage, the presentation of the facts, the relation of the national part of American life.

Three numbers on the News board represented the Nines at the Columbia Student Press association convention in New York last week. They were Kathleen S. Snow, '28, business manager; William M. French, '25, managing editor; and Elizabeth Duffield, '28, associate managing editor. William M. French spoke on one of the round table conferences for representatives from women's colleges and normal schools. He described the News system and explained the sources of the much-talked-about journalism in Harvard.

The delegation heard Dr. John H. Elgin, of the New York Times, at the opening session. Valuable notes from Ivan Holley, of Chicago, also covered the delegation.

S. K. Raleigh, a member of the New York Times staff for 25 years, is a member of the Madison football team. His article appeared in the News last week. He described the physical and mental differences between the French and American football teams.

The delegation attended the morning session, but due to personal reasons was unable to attend the afternoon session. They attended another session in the afternoon.

POSITIONS OBTAINED BY NINE MORE SENIORS

Nine more seniors have obtained work positions, according to Miss Martha Chain, of the employment department. They have been hired by firms in the department, and for many of them the placements are from the American Association of Teachers. Three of the placements are in the French Department, one in the English Department, and one in the History Department. Three of the placements are in the library, and one is in the art department.

You are Invited to Join

A Nation-Wide Organization

to travel and earn from

$50 to $75 a week all summer long

WITH headquarters in Chicago and 173 branch offices in the United States, Compton's—established in 1905—is a nationwide, internationally known organization. An organization that carries into the home a prestige and recognition that hundreds of progressive normal school students and women teachers have capitalized on year after year. Think of what this means to you that though no experience is required, this great organization invites you to join us and is ready and willing to pay you while we train you to earn $50 to $75 per week all summer long.

Money—for your fondest wish

Travel—for your happiness

Money makes for more than savings. A trip to Europe—or a wardrobe. Or investments that may finally mean an independent income. Compton's check goes to you weekly.

Travel yields more than momentary pleasure. What one gains from travel can not be tabulated easily. But if travel, too, appeals to you, why not travel while you earn? Thus you see, the Compton plan carries you not only to advanced money and travel, but earnings in the home and course. Most important, it makes for more than the mere making of money.

This is it. This is what we want to tell you:

We want to invite you to join our National organization. This is the opportunity of a lifetime. We want you to come on a trial basis and earn as much we can possibly earn in this tremendous field of opportunity.

By going to Compton's you will be trained by experienced men and will be given the proper training. You will receive your first check within two weeks of starting in the business. Your first check will be for $50 to $75 a week, depending on your activity. You will receive your second check within the first month of your employment, and you will receive a check for $100 to $125 every month thereafter.

The Compton organization starts with a two-year plan. After the first two years, you will be eligible to own a Compton's franchise and will be able to open your own business. You will receive a check for $100 to $125 every month, and you will be able to work either full-time or part-time, depending on your own personal preference.

This is the opportunity of a lifetime. We want you to be a part of it. Please write for more information. We want you to join us and be a part of the Nation-Wide Organization.

JUNIOR FIVE BEATS FRESHMEN TO TAKE CAGE CHAMPIONSHIP

By Roy V. Sleight

By defeating the freshman quintet 35-27, the junior class basketball team annexed the championship of the mine inter-class basketball league. The final had entered the final round of the tour necessitated by making the sophomore outfit, Tuesday-16-13. The junior's gained the right to play in the finals by trouncing the seniors on Thursday. A feature of Thursday's game was the fact that the junior's most two complex teams, petting in the second team after the first string outfit had run up a 25-lead.

The freshmen were expected to give the juniors a hard battle and perhaps beat their upper-class opponents in the game Friday; but they didn't have a chance. The Soph outfit ran up a 10-2 score by the end of the first quarter and the fresh were unable to lessen it. Carpenter, Keenam and Auerbach featured for the winners and Lyons and LaBonte played best for the freshman five.

Saturday, just to prove that they were champions, the seniors went over Plattsburg central and defeated the Plattsburg college freshmen 27-15. Carpenter, Koerner and Auerbach delivered for the winners and Lyons and LaBonte still showed up for the seniors.

AGNES ALTRO GIVES CONVENTION REPORT AT ALBANY CHURCH

Agnes M. Altro, '30, delegate to North Atlantic national Luthern's convention at Selkirk, Pennsylvania, gave her report of the convention Sunday at the First Luthern church in Albany.

The theme of the convention was "Toward Christian Unity." Dr. Storer, general secretary of the convention, introduced Dr. Hooper, professor of theology at Gettyburg College, who spoke on "The Gospel and the United Church." The theme of the convention was "Toward Christian Unity." Dr. Storer, general secretary of the convention, introduced Dr. Hooper, professor of theology at St. Thomas University.

Dr. Hooper laid down five lines for Lutherans to follow in coming into unity. These lines are: "to forsake the church's enemies; to forsake the church's divisions; to forsake the church's schisms; to forsake the church's heresies; and to forsake the church's schisms.

The convention was well attended and it is reported that the delegates were all in favor of the resolution of the convention.

"30 GIRLS DEFEAT '29 ON BASKETBALL COURT"

The sophomore girls defeated the junior girls in a basketball game Monday by a score of 28-23. Throughout the game, however, the score was about the same at the end of the first half.

It was one of the most exciting games of the season. Throughout the game the freshmen clouted the juniors and the sophomores clouted the freshmen. Throughout the game the sophomores clouted the juniors and the freshmen clouted the sophomores.
