SHOW KITCHEN SCENE IN COMEDY WEDNESDAY

What goes on in the kitchen while dinner is being served? And what about commercials? English, comedy, "Between the Soup and the Sociology," by Gertrude Janning, which will be presented by the advanced dramatics class, Wednesday evening, under the direction of Lillian Eckler, will answer those questions.

The show will be in four colors; the publication will have twenty-eight pages, the same number as appeared in the December issue.

"We are especially proud of our art work," Miss Flanagan said. She estimated that the cover would take two more weeks to complete, and that it would not be published in the May issue of College Times.

The theme for the second assembly will be "The Reality of the World and Its Implications for Our Lives."
Robert J. Littell, president, of the University of Michigan, was the featured speaker at the annual Michigan Daily banquet on Wednesday evening at the University hotel. Dr. Littell, who was introduced by Mr. William J. Haggerty, president of the Daily, discussed the ideals of journalism and the importance of maintaining a balance between freedom of expression and responsibility in journalism.

Dr. Littell spoke about the importance of journalism in society and the role it plays in shaping public opinion. He emphasized the need for journalists to uphold high ethical standards and to report the truth, even when it is uncomfortable. Dr. Littell's speech was well-received by the audience, who appreciated his insights and his commitment to the principles of journalism.

Following Dr. Littell's speech, the Daily's annual awards for excellence in journalism were presented. The awards were given in recognition of outstanding achievements in reporting, writing, and editing. The recipients were chosen by the Daily's editorial board based on their work during the past academic year.

The Daily's banquet is an annual event that brings together members of the University community and the journalism profession to celebrate the achievements of the Daily and to honor outstanding contributions to the field of journalism. The event is a testament to the Daily's dedication to providing quality journalism and to its commitment to upholding the highest standards of ethical practice.

The Daily is the student-run newspaper at the University of Michigan, and it is one of the largest student publications in the United States. The Daily is known for its rigorous standards and its commitment to covering news with integrity and accuracy.

STATE COLLEGE HAS 2 DELEGATES AT VASSAR

Miss Martha L. Prichard, director of the library school, and Miss Anna Lark Kennedy, extension instructor in the library school and librarian of the Library, High School, represented State College at a recent meeting at Vassar and discussed children's readings. Other delegates from the state also attended.

The discussion of the most interest Miss Prichard said was the one in which many mothers gave their experiences in trying to maintain their children with their own love of reading and their standards of taste for good literature.

"Should the child who starts to read adult standards develop by himself be steered away from it because he will not form the full enjoyment of it?" was a question put to the librarians, Miss Prichard said. "Shall I keep Pickwick from children who enjoy every word, because periodicity, middle age does not longer care for it?"

Building blocks are necessary for "Miss Prospective Teacher"

The John J. Collins, spiritual leader of Newman club, is giving a series of informal lectures at the Roman Catholic church before the alumni of the club. He is related to the Pope and the church and the travels in the church homes.

The next meeting will be Monday April 4.

DINNER MENU

The menu for the French club dinner in the cafeteria tomorrow evening, as announced by the committee is:
- Assorted roasted, baked, stuffed, fried potatoes, French garden peas, raspberries, apples, and pies.
- The dinner will be in the cafeteria at 5:30, and will be followed by the French department.

DISCONTINUE FORUM

The Y. W. C. A. forum has been discontinued for the year, but members of the association will meet at a joint meeting of the Political Science Club, W. V. C. A. and Spanish clubs before Easter, for discussion common interest.

Personality And Frankness Are Necessary

Qualities For "Miss Prospective Teacher"

Does Miss Prospective Teacher have a personality? Does she have personality?

If so, he has qualities, the character of the association which the associate of the group is a joint meeting of the Political Science Club, W. V. C. A., and Spanish clubs before Easter, for discussion common interest.

ELEPHANTS

The elephant is man's most intelligent helper. But—consider this interesting comparison:

An elephant is much larger than the electric motor of a "yarder" or logging machine. The "yarder" has the power of twenty elephants; it handles clusters of logs; it works dependably, twenty-four hours at a stretch, if necessary.

Two hundred elephants would eat daily 10,000 pounds of green food, which a corps of attendants must gather. A motor "eats" nothing but electricity, supplied at the throw of a switch.

Power used in the modern industrial world is applied through electric motors—tireless "iron elephants" that are relegated antiquated machines to museums, along with such oldtime household articles as wash-tubs and ordinary—iron and stuffed animals.

All Copy Will Be Sent Within
Week, Editor Of Book

Announces

Within a week all the copy and figures for this year's Pedagogue will be in the hands of the printer, according to Dr. William P. Franke, 22, editor-in-chief of the publication. "The general theme of the book will be carried out in every department," he said.

Two new departments which are said to be especially keeping with the theme, will be added this year.

"We aim to give the student body a united book which will be personal Pedagogue," she said. "It will contain a complete record of the school year. The entire write-up will carry the 'yes and why, being a complete representation of members of the class.'"

The art section will be entirely the work of State College students. The photographs and statistics have been involved.

According to James Gage, 22, the typewriter monitor, 400 of the 700 copies which have been ordered, have been paid for.

The vanity baseball game with Clark College was announced, and a meet with Cooper Union of New York has been substituted, Ralph J. Stanley, 28, manager of baseball, has announced.

Cook Lumber Co. Baker issued the initial call for baseball material fast enough. Practices will be held in the gymnasium until further notice ends outdoor games.

"On June 1st, we will have the regular workout at Beaverwyck Park."

MR. EDDY TALKS ON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Advises Frequent Visits Of Teachers To Junior Classes.

The junior high school plan, considered the most important development of the last two decades is, after all, a practical one. The plan, he said, "consists in dividing the junior and senior high schools into senior high school and junior high school schools, each of which would be a unit of a complete middle school.

The necessity of "getting together" with the junior high school was stressed by Mr. Eddy through his talk. The two schools must have such a work that they complete each other.

The most important extramural activities of the junior high school should be the school community organizing the school to be the community of the high school. The senior high school should be a part of the school system.

"We established the junior high school to accomplish a part of the mission of the high school," he said, "in the opinion of some we have succeeded. But it is not necessary to make this work one in which you either must excel or fail. In that way it may be impracticable that all of the room may be used efficiently, and even though two high schools are required instead of one to complete the task.
