Communications

Activity Card Error

---

Save Chapel House

Brother Paul Nathe...

---

Frychstudents, Perlmutter hash it out

---

How to vote on Mandatory Student Fee

---

Concrete Devastation

---

Legislative Letdown

---

Elections tomorrow Determine 1969-70

---

Be A Star! Work on the ASP technical staff.

---
Harpur plans new government

by Judy Novicky

The budget is one of the most important issues facing Harpur College. The new government will be responsible for the budget along with the budget cuts, priorities, and the future of the فى

Budget cuts, priorities, and the future of the college will be discussed at the next meeting of the college government. The meeting will be held on the main campus in the Arts Center.

Collins discusses pertinent issues

by Judy Novicky

The college government will meet to discuss budget cuts, priorities, and the future of the college. The meeting will be held on the main campus in the Arts Center.

Solarz to talk about abortion law repeal

The college government will meet to discuss budget cuts, priorities, and the future of the college. The meeting will be held on the main campus in the Arts Center.

Statute Qued 1969-70 Residents

by Judy Avner

The college government will meet to discuss budget cuts, priorities, and the future of the college. The meeting will be held on the main campus in the Arts Center.

Senior Vance Hartke (D-Indiana)

"Who Censors the Censor"

by Judy Avner

The college government will meet to discuss budget cuts, priorities, and the future of the college. The meeting will be held on the main campus in the Arts Center.

Vote Norm Rich for

Central Council

by Judy Avner

The college government will meet to discuss budget cuts, priorities, and the future of the college. The meeting will be held on the main campus in the Arts Center.
John Cage's music played by Masselos

by Norma Hunt

Last Thursday night, purely through a happy coincidence of traveling schedules, pianist Riley Lakeson and composer and percussionist William Masselos performed a program of Cage music at the Campus Center Ballroom. The program was part of a series of Cage concerts sponsored by the Music Department in conjunction with the New York and Boston December conventions.

The purpose of this concert was to present Cage's music to New Yorkers and Americans. The concert consisted of a series of short fragments, arrows to the behavior and 3 interludes entitled, 'Hearing, the Continuum', 'Dance Music', and 'Harmoика'. The pieces were performed by a group of three percussionists and a pianist who have become well known for their Cage interpretation.

This evening Cage's music was presented by a group of three percussionists and a pianist. The group was composed of three men and a woman. The program consisted of a series of Cage's music, including 'Dance Music', 'Harmoika', and 'The Muses'. The music was performed by the group in a variety of ways, including using a variety of instruments, such as gongs, tam-tams, and glockenspiels.

"The music of Cage is unique, and it is a privilege to perform it," said the pianist. "The music is full of surprises, and it is up to the performer to bring it to life."

The concert was well received by the audience, who appreciated the complexity and beauty of Cage's music. The group performed with great enthusiasm and skill, and the audience was captivated by the performance. The concert was a great success, and it was clear that the group had put a great deal of work into preparing for the event.

The concert was part of a series of Cage concerts sponsored by the Music Department in conjunction with the New York and Boston December conventions. The concerts were designed to introduce Cage's music to New Yorkers and Americans, and the group was well received by the audience. The concerts were well attended, and the audience was captivated by the performance. The concerts were a great success, and it was clear that the group had put a great deal of work into preparing for the event.

"The music of Cage is unique, and it is a privilege to perform it," said the pianist. "The music is full of surprises, and it is up to the performer to bring it to life."

The concert was well received by the audience, who appreciated the complexity and beauty of Cage's music. The group performed with great enthusiasm and skill, and the audience was captivated by the performance. The concert was a great success, and it was clear that the group had put a great deal of work into preparing for the event.

The concert was part of a series of Cage concerts sponsored by the Music Department in conjunction with the New York and Boston December conventions. The concerts were designed to introduce Cage's music to New Yorkers and Americans, and the group was well received by the audience. The concerts were well attended, and the audience was captivated by the performance. The concerts were a great success, and it was clear that the group had put a great deal of work into preparing for the event.
Sports

Golf Tournament

The Albany State Invitational Association's annual golf tournament will be held on Monday, May 11, at the University golf course.

Van Cleve Stars As Trackmen Win Two

Van Cleve won the men's 100-yard dash and the men's 200-yard dash.

Laurence Overcomes RIT; Play At Home Wednesday

Laurence defeated RIT in the deciding game of their series.

Girls' Tennis Wins

A sweeping victory has marked the opening of the women's tennis season. The women's team defeated Binghamton and Robert Morris in their first matches.

Sailors Hold Their Own

The sailors continued their strong performance in the America's Cup challenge.

Mandatory student fee - vote YES!

(For the 157.7 per semester) You are not paying too much for a superior service. A total survey of the Athletics Association, as requested by an independent investigation, indicated that tuition and fees are necessary to cover the needs of the Athletic Association. It is important that each and every member of the student body as a whole, take part in the current funding of the Athletic Association, as a way of helping to make our lives more enjoyable. The $28.76 you pay per semester will not be more than half of 1/6 of you support the Athletic Association. It costs less than $28.76 per semester to help pay for these goods and services. A student with $28.76 in his or her pocket can make everyone pay? Well the answer is yes. It can. In this way we can demonstrate our adherence to the democratic government (your money) in our government and the need for new interests on campus.

What's New in Jears?

Complete Travel Reservations

- Foreign & Domestic - Land-Sea-Air
- For Information: 459-9010

American Travel

- Thruway Motor Inn, Washington Ave.

Group Flight with Lufthansa

Transportation Only

Kennedy Intl Airport, New York to

- Cologne or Stuttgart

Depart June 29—Return Sept. 3 (283 round trip)

For Information Call: 457-8410 Deadline: May 3

State University Bookstore

Discount on all film

Film Developing, Enlargement

$1.69

Leaving the Country?

You might need a passport.

We can help you leave legally with inexpensive, professional passport photographs.

Sign up C.C. C.C. Desk this Friday only.

Picture takes next week and Wed. 6-9 p.m.

Questions? Call 617-4003.
Communications

All communications must be addressed to the author and must be signed.

Revisions Tonight

The Faculty Committee on Student Publications will meet tonight to consider the revision of the University Student Press. The meeting will be held at 8:00 p.m. The Faculty Committee is composed of five members: Professor John C. Nash, Professor of English; Professor Elizabeth G. Sill, Professor of History; Professor William J. Boll, Professor of Economics; Professor Robert A. Brown, Professor of Sociology; and Professor Andrew M. Hill, Professor of Philosophy.

Tutoring Help

If you need help with your studies, tutoring is available at the University. The University offers tutoring in a variety of subjects, including mathematics, science, foreign languages, and more. To find a tutor, visit the University's website or contact your academic advisor. Tutoring helps improve your understanding of the material and helps you succeed in your classes.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.

Equal student-faculty voice for Waterman-Rhodes review

The most important aspect of the Waterman-Rhodes review is the equal student-faculty voice in the process. The review committee is composed of 10 members, with 5 student representatives and 5 faculty representatives. The student representatives are elected by the student body and represent the interests of the students. The faculty representatives are appointed by the president and represent the interests of the faculty.