Political Poll Will Disclose State Opinion

Council Will Conduct Forum For Fall Midterm Campaign Next Friday Night

An innovation at State college in the form of open forums for first and a poll of the student body to be conducted next Friday night on the topic of the present political campaign will take place Friday, October 13, when the Student council is sponsoring the two events. The poll will be conducted in the morning's coffee and the forum in the lounge of columbia hall, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The forum will be held on the afternoon of Tuesday, November 3, beginning at 2:30 p.m.

Classes to Meet in Pushball Contest Tomorrow; Juniors Battle Former Rivals in Softball Game

The two events scheduled for tomorrow were designed in the last minute, but will be held in the afternoon of Friday, November 3 and will be followed with a basketball game at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, November 4.

Kappa Phi Kappa Has Meshan for Delegate

Thomas Mechen, 27, is representing the national Kappa Phi Kappa, national educational fraternity at the national convention last week in Philadelphia. Mechen, a member of the junior class at State college, is the first delegate to State college in its initial year at State college. The representative is selected by the brothers of Kappa Phi Kappa in the state of New York and the reasons for the individual's choice:

Simmons, Baird Will Head 1940

Kelly, Kingsley, and Trainer To Hold Other Offices:

Walter Simmons and Margaret Baird will guide the freshmen classes to their goals next year, while Margaret Russell and Donald King will head the sophomore class. The three freshmen are the only returning officers.

Classes Will Meet in Pushball Contest Tomorrow; Juniors Battle Former Rivals in Softball Game

The two events scheduled for tomorrow were designed in the last minute, but will be held in the afternoon of Friday, November 3 and will be followed with a basketball game at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, November 4.

Student Assembly Will Hear Debate

Sophomores to Oppose Senators; Classes Strive For Cup

The first interclass debate will be staged tomorrow morning at 11:30 when representatives of the junior class will meet the sophomore class.

Senior Hop Chairman Announces Committee

The senior class will conduct its Hop Friday, November 24 and the chairman, general chairman, is an announced.

Committees appointed to conduct this Hop are as follows: chairman, John Colton, chairman, Thomas Mechen, and vice-chairman, Jack Berman; secretary, Donald King, chairman, Margarett Russell, and co-secretaries, Jeanne Meehan, John Murphy, and Richard Steiner; chairman, John Murphy, and Richard Steiner; chairman, John Murphy, and Richard Steiner; chairman, John Murphy, and Richard Steiner; chairman, John Murphy, and Richard Steiner.

Newman Will Breakfast

Newman club will conduct a breakfast on Tuesday, November 21 at 10:00 a.m.

Coronation of Fifteenth Campus Queen To Climax Annual Program Tomorrow

This will be the final coronation of the campus queen for the year, and the ceremony will be climax of the annual program. The coronation will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Friday, November 3, and the queen will be present at the opening of the annual program.

Hocky and Pushball Counts To Constiutute Program In Afternoon

To Present Stunts Events of Evening to Begin At 8:15 Ethan Will Open Program Of Page Hall

The fifteenth in State college campus queen will be crowned in Page hall midnights, tomorrow evening at 7:45, climaxing the events of Campus day. Starting at 8:15, Ethan will feature athletics for both men and women. The evening program will include the coronation of the queen at 7:30, with events presented in page hall, followed by dancing in Page hall gymnasium from 10:30 to 12:30 a.m.

The athletic program of the afternoon and evening will be presented by the senior and sophomore classes, with the juniors and freshmen in attendance.

The important events of the afternoon program will be the freshman-sophomore basketball game, with ten points in interclass rivalry at stake; and the junior-senior basketball game, with ten points in interclass rivalry at stake.

The candidate receiving the highest number of votes will present the queen's pageant, which will include the coronation of the queen and a pageant of song and dance.

The identity of the queen and her court will be kept a secret until the coronation ceremony.

The royal party will proceed to the ballroom for the coronation ceremony, and will remain sequestered while the coronation takes place.

The student body's welcome to the queen will be given in the ballroom. The students' welcome will be presented in the order of the seniority of the classes.

Mary Linn is the director of the senior student assembly, which will include the cast of: Fred Davis, Anthony Bonsall, John Edwards, Donald Knapy, and others, as announced by the Student assembly.

Continued on page 7, column 3.

"Hoople For President" Is Cry Ridiculing Present Politicians

A new political party has sprung up in State college and its leader, Paul Hoople, has put Major Hooole, of comic strip fame, in the White House. Serving as a successor of the "Victory" party, the "Hoopleites" have been formed to appeal to college students.

The idea was originated in Union magazine by the "Hoopleites." The party was organized by the "Hoopleites" at State, and is controlled by the "Hoopleites" at all colleges, including State college.

Major Hoople was nominated by Paul Hoople and was accepted by the "Hoopleites." The campaign is characterized by a clever and shrewd presenta-

I. America must rule

2. To avoid insanity

3. To return to the British tradition of governing, to return to the old British tradition of good government

4. A far better government than our present one

5. A government that is friendly to the American people
Economics And The National Political Campaign

There are a number of popular explanations of how people are going to vote November 3. We are inclined to think that a great many of them are not Roosevelt. Regular Republicans will vote for Landon, regular Democrats for Roosevelt. Conservatives are presumably with the Republicans.

The exact truth of these presumptions we neither affirm, deny, nor attempt to qualify. With the first two we attempt no comment for the one about liberals and conservatives we have this to say—that with those voters interested in economic affairs, the economics of the New Deal seem the vital issue in the campaign.

Governer Landon is in the early days of the campaign. As to the laws that regular business were enacted by the State. As the years went by, conditions became more complex and gradually the Federal government became active in protecting the economic freedom and welfare of our citizens. As a result we have laws on pure foods, public health, banking, transportation, workmen's compensation, safety appliances, monopolies and unfair trade practices, and more recently, our laws regulating public utilities and the insurance of securities.

Governer Landon states that this is an "insurance" campaign and that his main effort is for the public welfare. It is an "insurance" campaign, "It has marked America as a progressive nation." But the New Deal economic measures are supposed to have been marked as a desire for a different kind of legislation. They tend to the giving the Federal government too much power, and smack of a socialistic philosophy that is wholly un-American. Therefore to Republicans the New Deal measures have become experimentation of a rather dangerous kind. New Deal expenditures have become vast, with the figure of the politicians Farley looming in the background.

The President Roosevelt, on the other hand, the administration policies have been an extension of the imposing list of economic legislation in America's future. Roosevelt's plan of legislation is that of a man who will, we think, prevail. The expenditures of the last three years have become the administration's investment in America's future.

That Roosevelt gets instruction from Moscow is absurd; that he could make the United States a socialist state even if he wanted to is being highly imaginative, if not piffling. That Landon is a swimming recommencer is likewise absurd; and that he could check water is about as reasonable as people's argument of economic affairs is to overlook the increasing complexity of our civilization.

We believe that the New Deal is largely depa­rting on partisan grounds. But we upset the jiones that those voters who have been prejudiced against the party will carry certain doubtful states, will decide the election on the basis of economic issues.

How To Handshake

And then there are the girl and the boy who went up to the French professor after upper classmen had told him the only way you can get good marks in college is by hand shaking.

Regarding the French: "You know, professor, you are the most wonderful French professor I have ever seen!"

The professor beams and says, "Shake the girl's hand, just one more. It's not true."

Handshaking probably started with our Anglo-Saxon forefathers, who in the time of the Grand Riddle of War would have been the only people in the English-speaking world who could fire a cannon. But in the world of today we see a number of races of people of whom we have heard little or nothing, who are more likely to be in the student association installing one of these penny arcades in the heart of our community.

In addition to physical exercise, some students have taken up scholary research in order to better their hand­shaking technique. The dictionary has made excellent strides in this field, although in Professor York's eyes, it is "a little bit disconnected."

An athletics note, we think hand shaking is the easy way to put yourself through college. At least 99 per cent of the people who have gotten anywhere around State college have been handshakers. The reason is simple. When the professor says, "Shake the hand of the student who is being handshaking. Professors or visigods students shouldn't dream you had examined them to talk about putting just a little part of your apple-picking. They cannot read true character.

People will tell you that handshakers are a long way, and often a little bit off. Even so, we would rather believe that the people who have the most fun are the handshakers. We would be willing to list our reasons in these terms: It is a great way to learn about people; people who are shaking is a very good way to learn about people; people who are shaking is a good way to learn about people; people who are shaking is a bad way to learn about people; people who are shaking is a bad way to learn about people; people who are shaking is a bad way to learn about people. They cannot read true character. A modern man, who speaks to the faculty because they have to, and who speaks about nothing at all, is likely to have a better friend in the faculty than any other group. Hand shaking for friendship any day is better than deceit.

Cover To Cover

(Ad photo in the Diary)

Handshaking probably started with our Anglo-Saxon forefathers, who in the time of the Grand Riddle of War would have been the only people in the English-speaking world who could a cannon. But in the world of today we see a number of races of people of whom we have heard little or nothing, who are more likely to be in the student association installing one of these penny arcades in the heart of our community.

In addition to physical exercise, some students have taken up scholary research in order to better their hand­shaking technique. The dictionary has made excellent strides in this field, although in Professor York's eyes, it is "a little bit disconnected."

An athletics note, we think hand shaking is the easy way to put yourself through college. At least 99 per cent of the people who have gotten anywhere around State college have been handshakers. The reason is simple. When the professor says, "Shake the hand of the student who is being handshaking. Professors or visigods students shouldn't dream you had examined them to talk about putting just a little part of your apple-picking. They cannot read true character. A modern man, who speaks to the faculty because they have to, and who speaks about nothing at all, is likely to have a better friend in the faculty than any other group. Hand shaking for friendship any day is better than deceit.

Hellicons

Flash! Things are happening in our fair town. The making (where have I heard that before?) is in the air. No one is talking. All are trying to look at every word as if it were a new word. All are trying to look at every word as if it were a new word. No one can make out what is happening. Mrs. Smith is being handshaking, Professors or bigshot students are being handshaking, everyone is being handshaking. Professors or bigshot students are being handshaking, everyone is being handshaking. Professors or bigshot students are being handshaking, everyone is being handshaking.

The freelance stand will be di­rected by Miss Blan, assistant professor of Latin, and Miss Duke, instructor in the history of the department. The decision of the judges will be announced, I am sure, will be just as uncertain as the women's voting for a good man.

The freshman stand will be di­rected by Miss Blan, assistant profes­sor of Latin, and Miss Duke, instructor in the history of the department. The decision of the judges will be announced, I am sure, will be just as uncertain as the women's voting for a good man.
TIMES NOMINEES FOR QUEEN. Top row, left to right: Rea La Grua, Virginia Stoel, and Elizabeth Murray; bottom row, Alice Allard and Eula Smith. One of the candidates will be chosen, and two will be her Queen attendants.
Varied Events Have Made Up Campus Days in Past Years

On October 23, 1920, State College had "a real get-together on the college campus for a day of sport" under the direction of the Physical Education club. Included in the events were a cross-country run for men, obstacle races, tug-o'-war, potato races, and a basketball game. At night there was a sing followed by dancing, with music furnished by the Milne High orchestra. This was the first annual Campus Day.

The first Campus Day was crowned in 1921, when other features included somersault racing and a bizarre relay of Eskimo-walking and elephant-tugging. This first queen, a member of Mykania, was attended by five girls in long white robes with Greek head-dresses of their class colors, and was crowned with a coronet of autumn leaves. Stunts were given for the first time this year, too.

In 1923, the scheme of things revolved around a circus in the gymnasium. All the class stunts were molded along these lines, each being an act in the circus. Crowd filled the gym.

In 1924, the highlight of the day was a football game with Colgate freshmen. State scored a moral victory only, according to the "NEWS," the score being 33-0 in favor of Colgate.

Campus Day has seen many changes since Mykania took it under its wing in 1921. The years 1928-30 were so well-attended that it became necessary to issue tickets for admission.

Last year, in accordance with an amendment to the constitution, Campus Day was transferred to the control of student council who will supervise it this year.

NEW VOTERS—AND OLD
GET FACTS BEFORE NOV. 3
Second in series of Little Books About Big Subjects, in which
Dr. Hutchison has a part.
Order from Harvey Clark, Student Mail

At the ANNEX
You'll find the very best
Ice Cream in Town
WAGAR'S
For the daily snack
For parties large and small

Smoke-O
...that's the whaleman's signal for a smoke

And on land and sea, from coast to coast... with millions of smokers, men and women... when they take time out to enjoy a cigarette it's "Smoke-O... pass the Chesterfields"
Chesterfields are milder... and what's more they've got a hearty good taste that leaves a man satisfied.

Waldorf Tuxedo Company

Bill's Barber Shop
By Luce
42 Robin Street
Specializing in Men's Haircutting
Wilhelm Streck, Prop.

Waldorf Tuxedo
Hop to the Senior Hop in a New Waldorf Tuxedo or Full Dress
TO HIRE
DRESS SHIRTS—COLLARS AND TIES, ETC.
See "Bob" Margison, '37

EAT AT JOHN'S LUNCH
Dinners 35c and up
Delicious Sandwiches and Sundaes
7:30 A.M.—11:00 P.M.
Opp. the High School

Boulevard Cafeteria and Grill
198-200 CENTRAL AVENUE ALBANY, N. Y.