An 877 Tower

In the past few months there has been increasing discussion over residence halls and the more recent changes in the food service plan. While the past few years have included minor changes, the previous plan had students having to subscribe to a meal plan. Mr. Fisher believes that this plan has been the reason for the continued popularity of the popular banquets held by the University's Student Body. It is also of interest to note that the previous plan was a cost-effective method of ensuring that students were fed on a regular basis. In the past, the cost of living in a dormitory was about two dollars per day, and this plan was able to cover the cost of living in a dormitory.

In a recent interview with Dr. Charles Fisher, Director of Residences, these points were made. According to Dr. Fisher, contracts are binding for the full academic year for which they are signed. Exceptions can be made in the case of early withdrawal, but these must be agreed upon in writing. Dr. Fisher emphasizes that, in general, contracts are not modified without written consent from both parties.

The original version of the "new" proposed constitution was contained in the Central Council. The new proposal would provide a more democratic and responsive system. The opinions of students in the government are still mixed, however, as the student associations must adjust to the new proposal. It will be interesting to see how this affects the current system and whether the student associations are able to adapt to the new constitution.

International Day Marked by Teach-In Today
by Kathy Volak

The moment of Women's Liberation at SUNY has planned a day of activities recognizing International Women's Day. The whole week, in fact, has been designated as Women's Liberation Week. Numerous activities are scheduled this week, including a conference on Thursday, March 11, at noon in the Union Building, sponsored by Women's Liberation. Panel members will include led by Eva Donovan, a professor of American literature, and a professor from the University of Illinois, both of whom will discuss the issues of women's rights. The conference will be open to the public and will be followed by a panel discussion on the same topic. The conference will be concluded by a discussion of the issues of women's rights and the role of women in society.

Amendment Required:

Federal Voting Action Due

WASHINGTON (AP) - A bill which seeks to add a woman's suffrage amendment to the U.S. Constitution was introduced in the House of Representatives on Thursday. The amendment would give women the right to vote in national elections and would be submitted to the states for ratification. The amendment was introduced by Representative John Doe, a member of the House of Representatives. The amendment would be submitted to the states for ratification in 1973 and would become part of the U.S. Constitution on that date. The amendment was introduced in the House of Representatives on Thursday and was referred to the appropriate committee for consideration. A similar amendment was introduced in the Senate on the same day and was referred to the appropriate committee for consideration. The amendment was introduced in both houses of Congress on Thursday and was referred to the appropriate committees for consideration. The amendment was introduced in both houses of Congress on Thursday and was referred to the appropriate committees for consideration.

Supporters are necessary to sponsor the voting amendment. A vote on the amendment is expected to take place in the Senate in early April, and the amendment is expected to be approved by both houses of Congress and sent to the states for ratification. The amendment is expected to become part of the U.S. Constitution on July 4, 1973.

‘Good Nucleus for Next Year’ - Doc

by decision

by Robert Zarrella

After the disappointing season of 1970-1971, Alan Reid, Coach of the University Men’s Basketball team, expressed his hope and confidence in the upcoming season.

"I am very pleased with the nucleus that we have right now," said Reid. "We have a good group of players who are returning next year. I am confident that we will have a good season." Reid also expressed his belief in the team’s potential to improve.

Reid mentioned the importance of teamwork and practice in preparing for the upcoming season. "We will work hard in practice to improve our skills and work together as a team," he said.

Reid also discussed the team’s schedule for the upcoming season. "We have a challenging schedule, but I am confident that we will be able to handle it," he said.

Reid ended by expressing his enthusiasm for the upcoming season. "I am very excited about the possibilities that this season holds," he said.
