BUST AND NEAR-BUST

by Attila

This spring a proposal was presented to the President by the Committee for the Protection of Students Against Unlawful Search or Seizure of Personal Property. The recent events at a party in Stuyvesant Tower involving drugs, LSD, and opium have brought into focus the need for the University to respond. A proposal was presented in April to the President and was rejected. The proposal was rejected because it was felt that the University should not respond to student demands in this manner. It was felt that the University should not initiate an investigation of drugs at a party in Stuyvesant Tower unless it was brought to the attention of the University by some other means.

Two weeks ago this Saturday, a party was held in Stuyvesant Tower for the purpose of distributing drugs. Because of the large quantity of drugs distributed at the party, the police were called to the scene. The police discovered that the drugs were being used at the party and a warrant was obtained for the arrest of the students involved. Two weeks later, the students were arrested for possession of drugs and were taken to the police station. The police discovered that the students had been complaining both to the security personnel and the police about the drug activity on campus. It seems a number of students had complained about drug activity on campus, but the police had not taken any action until this past Saturday. The police decided to take action because of the large quantity of drugs distributed at the party.

Experiment College... Spring Awakening

by David G. Snell

Experimental College is a group of students and teachers working to improve the educational system. It is a group of people who have tried to improve the educational system in the past, but have failed. The purpose of Experimental College is to provide a new approach to education. The group believes that the educational system is based on a series of rules and regulations, which are designed to control the students and make them conform to a certain pattern.

They want to change the educational system so that it will be more flexible and adaptable to the needs of the students. They believe that the educational system should be based on the needs of the students, and that the students should be allowed to choose their own courses and follow their own interests.

They want to create a system in which the students are encouraged to think for themselves and to develop their own ideas. They believe that the educational system should be designed to help the students to think critically and to evaluate the information they are given.
