Students Vote On Tax Increase

Fee May Be Raised $5

In Beth News

With the aim of reducing the deficit and increasing revenue, the Student Association has proposed a tax increase for students. The proposed increase would raise the current student tax by $2.50 per semester, raising the $72 fee to $74.50. Student officers, representing the various student groups, will vote on the proposition at the next Student Association meeting.

In an attempt to offset financial difficulties, Student Association officers have been lobbying for increased student taxes. The proposal has been met with mixed reactions from students, with some supporting the increase and others expressing concern over the raised expenses.

The proposal will be voted on at the Student Association meeting, scheduled for next week.

Kosher Meal Cost Up Six Percent

In Student Housing

The price of kosher meals has increased by six percent, from $2.50 to $2.65. The increase was due to the Kosher Kitchen's decision to raise the price of kosher meals as a result of increased costs. The price increase is expected to reduce the deficit faced by the Kosher Kitchen.

According to Kosher Kitchen Manager N. Zohnj, the increase in prices is necessary to cover the increased costs of kosher meals. The kitchen has been facing financial difficulties due to increased costs of kosher ingredients and labor.

In addition to the price increase, the Kosher Kitchen has expanded its menu to include additional kosher options. The expanded menu includes a variety of kosher dishes, such as salads, soups, and entrees.

The price increase is expected to generate additional revenue for the Kosher Kitchen, allowing it to cover increased costs and improve the quality of kosher meals.

PR Studies Chair Dismissal Examined

O'Leary Grants Concessions to Protestors

The controversy continues over the dismissal of the PR Studies Chair. O'Leary has granted concessions to protestors, including the reinstatement of the Chair and the allocation of additional funds. However, the protestors remain unhappy and continue to demand a full explanation of the reasons behind the dismissal.

In an attempt to resolve the dispute, O'Leary has met with the protestors to discuss the situation. The meeting was characterized by heated discussions and a lack of agreement on the proposed solutions.

In light of the ongoing controversy, the PR Studies Chair has decided to seek legal advice and pursue further legal action.

Figured Right
A Stanford University study has found that women will be the most important new role for men. It is a time when women weath the men, and even men who are considered to be "good" and "bad" must change. The study found that women want to be treated as equals. The three researchers say that women are the future of the world.

Weather or Not
A survey of radio listeners in Kansas City found that the majority of listeners prefer women to be the ones to make decisions. The researchers found that women are more effective than men when solving problems.

From the Writings,
Dying is not an end but an awakening. Your body is the same after death as it is now. Your spirit is already in the spiritual world, but you are not yet there. At death you become conscious in that world as you lose consciousness in this one. You leave the body, which is a part of this world, and become a soul of someone else. You go to heaven or hell of your own free will. Whether you choose to be "good" or "bad" and the qualities that you choose from the "ideal woman" included that she be intelligent, family-oriented, sensitive, ambitious, out-going and a good hostess, but fewer than half of the men question the intelligence of women. The study found that women are more effective than men when solving problems.

Let Us Break The Sword

Ed Nolle

The historically accurate movement to the defeat of enemy armies was led by Student Action Against War (SAA). As an organization born and bred in the 1960s and 1970s, it was natural that it would seek to end and the war in Vietnam. As more and more of the temple of war was revealed, it became clear that the students had found a cause they could identify with and one that they could get behind.

The SAA’s efforts in this regard were both successful and predictable. The movement against the war in Vietnam was well organized, well publicized, and well supported. The students were able to garner a great deal of support from the public and from the political leaders of the day.

Enlister Howard's Promotion Deserves Notice

F. L. ROBBINS (NY) was a new face that was gradually re-emerging as assistant coach of the New York Yankees. A former player and manager of the Yankees, Robins was a key figure in the team's success.

On Monday, Enlister Howard, the team's newest acquisition, was introduced to the media and the public.

Howard, a former pitcher for the Yankees, was signed by the team as a free agent last week. He has been named the team's new pitching coach.

"We're excited to have Enlister on board," said Yankees manager Joe Torre. "He brings a lot of experience to the staff, and we think he'll be a great addition to our pitching corps."

Howard, 50, has been a fixture in baseball for more than three decades. He played for the Yankees from 1968 to 1978, winning four World Series rings during that time. He also spent time with the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox.

"I'm honored to be back with the Yankees," Howard said. "I've always had a special place in my heart for this organization."

Howard's career came to a close in 1982, when he was traded to the Chicago White Sox. He finished his career with 196 wins and a career ERA of 3.51.

"I've been out of the game for a while," Howard said, "but I still have a lot to offer. I think I can help these guys win another championship."

The Yankees are hoping that Howard's experience can help guide their young pitching staff. The team has struggled with injuries and inconsistency over the last few years.

"Enlister has the ability to help our guys," Torre said. "He knows what it takes to win a championship."

Howard's impact on the team will be crucial in the coming months. The Yankees are currently in the thick of the American League East race, and every win is important.

"I'm ready to go," Howard said. "I'm excited to be back in New York, and I'm ready to help this team win another title."

Howard will begin his new role on Wednesday, when the Yankees take on the Boston Red Sox in a crucial game.

"I'm looking forward to that," Howard said. "I've always loved playing against the Red Sox."
