Concentration Big Factor
In Basketball—Clair Bee

By Karl R. Howart

LIU Coach Bob McGraw, guest speaker at last night's MAA student banquet, was undoubtedly acclaimed for his versatility evidenced in the form of witty remarks and humorous recollections.

"Adaptation is basic to the game of basketball," he said. "In this era of defense, it's the team that makes the adjustment that wins."

"Play 'em tight"—it is a phrase that has entered the dictionary with the meaning of putting the team into a defensive mode. The LIU bombers are already well versed in this philosophy, and Mr. McGraw pointed out that this year's team will be just as effective in the defense as last year's team was in the offensive.

"The key to victory lies not only in the ability of the team to score, but in their ability to prevent the other team from scoring."

Two States Hit of Festival

The first annual Two States Festival is being planned for this year. The festival will be held at the State College and will feature music, dance, and food from both the United States and Canada.

"The festival will be a wonderful opportunity for our students to experience the cultures of both nations," said Mr. McGraw.

"We hope to attract a large crowd and make this a memorable event for all who attend."
Empty Promises

As a general rule, the many and varied policies of public and private schools, the balanced budget and the ability to carry out the campaign pledges which helped to elect them is nothing new. Last spring, the Student Association voted down a quid pro quo effort to defray their campaign expenses as famous by the "worth not deeds" slogan. The result was a lack of any serious, empty promises, and empty promises are far from the truth. Fortunately, the campaign promises were well advertised and the figures for all of the activities were shown to the Student Body to prove that a lack of funds was not being misused in any other way than what was advertised.

Fearsome among the campaign promises was a measure adopted to center the activities of all activities around the Student Association. This measure was not particularly well understood either by the activities or the coordinated efforts of the Associated Students. This measure tends to centralize the Student Government to the point of an inability to organize or control the student activities in a reasonably effective manner. The Associated Students have not always been able to control the activities of the Student Government. Today Student Association finance must remain in control of a "centralized" system of the Association proper have been administered administratively by a blending of Student Board which administratively remains a secretariat of the Associated Students. The finance of the Associated Students shall be centered in the Student Government's office and the Associated Students shall be a "centralized" system of the Association proper have been administered administratively by a blending of Student Board. This measure is not necessary and it is very likely to cause confusion as well as a lack of funds. It is very likely to cause confusion and it is necessary that this measure be central to the Student Government.

The Associated Students is determined that candidates should make a uniform bookkeeping system. The suggestion of a central bookkeeping center is a fair solution to the problem. It is necessary that the Associated Students be given a uniform bookkeeping center. The suggestion of a uniform bookkeeping center is necessary, and it is very likely to cause confusion and it is necessary that the Associated Students be given a uniform bookkeeping center.

If the Associated Students is determined that candidates should make a uniform bookkeeping system, then the Associated Students is determined that candidates should make a uniform bookkeeping system. The suggestion of a central bookkeeping center is a fair solution to the problem. It is necessary that the Associated Students be given a uniform bookkeeping center.

The men of State have proven the limits of tradition. A New Order? This year more campaign pledges will be made. Most obscure of the three major groups in State's powerful campus organization is the Junior Guides, and as a speaker in the associated youth from every other group on the campaigns this year. The four major candidates for the presidency of the Associated Students this year. These campaign speeches have been a joke. They should undoubtedly again be promised. If the student Associated Students is determined that candidates should make a uniform bookkeeping system, then the Associated Students is determined that candidates should make a uniform bookkeeping system. The suggestion of a central bookkeeping center is a fair solution to the problem. It is necessary that the Associated Students be given a uniform bookkeeping center.

The woman's privilege of changing her mind may be absolutely impossible under the new ruling.

The personal attack is a necessary evil; it is the method used to reveal the character of the opponent. It may be irresponsible, even vicious, but it is a fact of political life. In the absence of facts, one is left with the only weapon at his disposal. These attacks are often the source of opinions, and are usually the result of personal enmity or the desire to gain political advantage. They are often used to obscure the issues at hand and to mislead the public. The use of personal attacks is not limited to politics; it is a common practice in many areas of life, such as sports and entertainment. The personal attack is a tool that can be used to gain power and influence, but it is also a tool that can be used to corrupt and destroy. It is a dangerous and powerful weapon, one that must be used with great care and responsibility. Inter-Sorority Council Revises '40-'41 Statute

Pledge Maximum Now Eight As Body Moves To Reinforce Greek Letter Charter

In an effort to maintain the college's reputation for academic excellence, the Inter-Sorority Council has voted to increase the pledge maximum from four to eight. This move is expected to strengthen the college's image and attract more students.

The new rule, approved by the Board of Directors, states that no more than eight pledges may be accepted at any one time. This change is intended to prevent overcrowding and maintain the high standards of the college.

Additionally, the council has adopted a new charter for Greek letters, which will be stricter and more rigorous. Freshmen and seniors, as well as members of the Inter-Sorority Council, will have to undergo a rigorous evaluation before being permitted to participate in formal activities.

The changes are expected to take effect immediately, and the council hopes to see an increase in the number of active members in the near future.
