Potter Club Tops KB
To Retain AMIA Title

After appearing on 46-38 victory in Potter's last second jump shot last Saturday night, Potter Club topped Kappa Beta for the second straight night, 61-49, to retain the AMIA Title. The game was played before a large turnout of fraternity supporters in Page Gym.

Frosh Houpsters

The frosh houpsters were very worried about the trip, but with the help of their coach, they managed to pull it off. The game started with a bang, and the team maintained their lead throughout the game. The final score was 61-49 in favor of Potter Club.

Frankfort and Yale win
Senior Wins Awards, Plans to Study at Yale

Senior Frankfort and Yale, two of the top graduates in the class, were awarded the Senior Wins Awards. Frankfort plans to study at Yale, while Yale has decided to attend Harvard.

Deferral Exam to Be Held Here

The deferred exam will be held here on April 15. All students who wish to take the exam should report to the exam center at 8 a.m. The exam will be administered from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. The exam will cover the material discussed in class during the past semester. All students are required to take the exam, and the results will be used to determine class standing.

A Ray View of Sports

by Ray McCall

We attended the winter sports banquet last night, and we found some very smooth observations. The first thing that struck us was how many trophies were on the table—enough for everyone! The second thing that caught our attention was the menu. It seemed to be all hors d'oeuvres, and we didn't really notice how much we were eating. We thought about the food, but we didn't really notice. The third thing we noticed was the speeches. They were all very long, and we almost fell asleep. The fourth thing we noticed was the entertainment. It was a very good show, and we enjoyed it a lot. The fifth thing we noticed was the audience. They were all very enthusiastic, and we enjoyed it a lot. Overall, we had a very good time at the banquet.
Award Needs Changes

A bill to establish a service award, which would be given to a student who has rendered service to the University or Student Association, displayed leadership and initiative and contributed to the particular activities in which the student has participated, was introduced at the Central Council meeting Thursday.

It is necessary to have such an award because too often a student's achievements in the non-academic fields are not recognized.

However, we feel that the nature of the award, as stated in the bill, and the manner set to determine the recipient should be changed. As the bill stands now, a student nominates himself, a faculty-administration committee selects the winner who receives a $100 and a certificate.

In all likelihood, the student who will be chosen, will be someone who has held the top position in one of the more important organizations or activities on campus, i.e., Student Association president, AAP editor, student union manager, etc.

This student will have been recognized already for his achievements. We feel that the other students in the organization, who are not well-known but have contributed to follow-through activities, should be recognized.

There are many students on campus who merit such an award. Therefore, we feel that there should be more than one award, possibly several awards each of different stature. Money does not have to be a part of the award. Recognizing it should be enough.

Commissions should nominate students for this award and a student-administration committee, headed by Central Council, should judge the candidates and submit those who deserve the award.

COMMISSIONS

Defends Music Council

To the Editor:

In the last issue the various communities presented their comments on the possibility of mutual challenges and the opinions of the class concerning such challenges. The majority of the comments were in favor of the idea. This is as it should be. The idea of mutual challenges is one of the most exciting and stimulating activities in which a student can participate. It is a way of encouraging self-confidence and self-esteem. I am a member of the class of '68 and I am one of those who appreciate the idea of mutual challenges. I believe that such challenges are necessary for a student to develop his full potential. I hope that the idea of mutual challenges will be continued and that it will be made available to all students.
