C. C. N. Y. Students Publish Rival Paper As Protest Against Alumni Supervision

New York—(IP)—Allied to the Campus, undergraduate publication at the City College of New York, was too much under the control of the college's alumni, the staff of the paper resisted this fall and began the publication of a rival sheet, The City College Student.

The first issue of the rival paper was estimated; sold off campus about 50 more papers than The Campus.

An editorial in the new paper noted the form of an opinion for The Campus, declaring the older paper was dead because it was too lower a student newspaper.

The Campus, on the other hand, asserted editorially that the staff of the former editors in residence was "so closely controlled by the Alumni Association" it was "not the paper the students wanted to read." The Campus made it known that it would continue to publish under its old name, and that its circulation would be increased.
