Retrospection Reveals Renovations, Innovations

Another year has almost passed into the realm of history here at State. The freshman class has disappeared and the grand old class of '41 is passing for the momentous leap out into the great unknown—this time it has come for retrospection and digestion of the contents of the year.

State has seen many things in the last few months, both great and small; both novel and traditional. The traditional we know; the innovations we should remember...

The year is first memorable in that we started it without the guiding hand of our beloved Dr. Bruner. We sailed into a new "five-year" with a cargo of freshmen bacher. Already we have seen the new voting system, (4) a new policy in campus annals, and (3) a two-day stand by Murray as pert­harmontian.

In another phase, this year has brought other changes in the realm of student living. With an eye to the janitorial staff gave us the "bunch loaf" left to us by the class of '28, and a sparkling new drinking fountain at the door to the Commons.

This State College has progressed in the realm of student government and student affairs with corres­ponding changes in both curricula and in buildings. We have not gone far enough, perhaps, but next year... well, let's wait and see.

New Teachers to Fill Administration Posts

A number of other appointments are expected in the near future and will be announced in the first issue of the News next fall.
