WASHINGTON — The Soviet news agency Tass today said the formal announcement would be made by the White House at a later time. Tass said Carter is expected to announce his decision to register women to serve in the military.

"Carter is a man who has always been committed to the defense of the United States," said Assistant Secretary of Defense William Perry. "He has demonstrated that he can make difficult decisions in the best interests of the country.

Carter is scheduled to meet with the leaders of Congress on Monday to discuss the issue of registering women. The decision to register women has been a contentious issue for many years, with some arguing that it is necessary to ensure that the United States has a strong military force.

Tass said Carter is making the decision because he is under increasing pressure from both the military and the public. Carter has been under pressure to make a decision since last year, when he first announced his intention to register women.

"Carter is making a wise decision," said Senator Tom Harkin. "It is time to end the discrimination against women in the military.

The decision to register women has been met with some opposition, with some arguing that it is not necessary and that it will be expensive. However, Carter believes that the decision is necessary to ensure the strength of the military.

Hey Hugh

Dear Governor Carey,

I am a junior at SUNY Plattsburgh and am writing to express my opinion that the cuts to SUNY are a waste of money and an outrageous way to cut your budget. I understand that there are problems in the current state and that Governor Carey has reduced SUNY’s budget by $100 million. However, I feel that these cuts are unfair and will only make our current problems worse.

In addition to the $100 million in cuts, there are also the 475 faculty positions that were eliminated last year. This is unacceptable and will only lead to a decrease in the quality of education. When Governor Carey cut 475 faculty positions, SUNY lost an estimated $775 million in revenue. This means that SUNY is not only losing potential students but also losing the potential revenue from those students.

Furthermore, Governor Carey has also eliminated $22 million in state aid to SUNY. These cuts were made to offset the $22 million increase in state aid during the same year. This increase in state aid was necessary to prevent the state from losing $22 million in revenue. However, Governor Carey did not make any cuts to other programs to offset this increase in state aid.

As a result of these cuts, SUNY has been forced to make drastic changes. We are losing programs, faculty, and staff, and the quality of education is decreasing. This is unacceptable and must be stopped.

I strongly urge Governor Carey to stop these cuts and to find a way to balance the budget without compromising the quality of education. SUNY is an important part of our state and we cannot afford to lose it.

Sincerely,

Save Our Education

Our education is in great danger. Governor Carey has cut 475 faculty positions and is planning to cut an additional 300 positions this year. This is unacceptable and will only lead to a decrease in the quality of education. When Governor Carey cut 475 faculty positions, SUNY lost an estimated $775 million in revenue. This means that SUNY is not only losing potential students but also losing the potential revenue from those students.

"Why are our values so jumbled that men like Ted Kennedy exist?"

The way we were taught, we were expected to value certain things above all others: family, faith, and country. But in today's society, those values are often overlooked in the pursuit of material wealth and personal gain. It's as if we have forgotten the true meaning of life.

Ted Kennedy was an exceptional man. He was a true leader who dedicated his life to serving the people of his country. He was a man who fought tirelessly for the rights of the underprivileged, and he always put the needs of others before his own. His legacy will live on forever in the memories of those who knew him.

The Morning After

Conchita Rodriguez & Shirley Beans

It's the morning after, and I'm feeling a little bit groggy. I can't believe what happened last night. It was like a dream, but it was real.

I was out at a party with some of my friends, and we were all having a great time. We danced and laughed and drank too much. Then, suddenly, it was time to go home.

I was so drunk, I didn't even notice when I got in the car. The next thing I knew, I was being driven by my friends. I had no idea where we were going, but I trusted them.

Finally, we arrived at my place. I was so tired, I didn't even notice when we walked through the door. I just collapsed on the couch and fell asleep.

I don't know what happened next. I was so drunk, I can't remember. All I know is that when I woke up, I was in bed with my friend. It was like a nightmare.

I don't know what to do now. I'm so confused. I don't know how to talk to anyone about what happened last night. I don't know what to do.

Friday Observer

You know, I'm a big fan of the Grateful Dead. They're one of my all-time favorite bands. I've been following them since the early days, and I've seen them in concert many times.

It's amazing to see how they've grown and evolved over the years. I remember when they first started out, they were just a bunch of kids playing music in a garage. But now they're a massive rock and roll phenomenon.

I think the Grateful Dead are great because they're so different. They don't follow any rules or conventions. They do things their own way, and they never stop创新. I love that about them.

I'm looking forward to seeing them in concert again soon. I just can't wait to see what they'll come up with next.

You have got to be kidding me, he was talking with the man in the white beard, mustache in the corner. Tumbled into the world of the land of the living. Everything was in place.
A sense of the man's presence was felt. The beard was bushy and full of life. The man was sitting on the edge of the stage, talk about the Sixties. The man's voice was musical and flowing. He spoke of the changes that had taken place in the last fifty years. The Sixties had been a time of change and revolution. The man spoke of the music, art, literature, and the social movements of the time. He talked about the counterculture, the hippies, and the anti-war movement. He spoke about the role of the media in shaping public opinion. The man's words were powerful and inspiring. He ended his speech with a call to action, urging the audience to continue to fight for justice and equality.

Walt Dis And World War Too

The Disney movie traditionally known as a "fast-moving, action-packed, adventure saga of the birth of Disneyland" is actually a "fast-moving, action-packed, adventure saga of the birth of Disneyland." The film features a young man (played by Dan Aykroyd) who, after a series of adventures, is stranded atop the periscope of the surfacing submarine. Unfortunately, it cost in excess of twenty-five dollars to produce, but it is still a fun movie for the Saturday night crowd.

Stranger In Paradise

Mmm... was my hero. Care was the product... that I knew. I could tell. I wanted to be the new California dancer. Almost always I began to dance. I fot about the best of it. Care was thirty-five, and violet eyes would be a good sign. I focused the yellow stains appeared.

She rescued me from the life of darkness and sterilization.

In the dark corner of the Secret Garden. Mmm... was the true guide and showed the way to us. Care was the son of the air, and not the veal, the carrot soup, the cordon bleu. She rescued me from the life of darkness and sterilization.

As Lara looked up, she realized that she couldn't live without the bluest one.

I am the Poet

I'm the poet, I'm the poet. I am the poetry. She rescued me from the life of darkness and sterilization.

Later looked up. Her body, her head, and light blue sky.

The blind eyes, the white face. I am the poet, I am the poet. I am the poetry.

The Enemy is Here

Approximately 3000 years ago, man started a technological journey that took him from the advances of his ancestors' to the creation of the atomic bomb. Now, 3000 years later, there is a movement that believes that this technology must be used to further mankind, and to replace an entire system of existence in this age for the future.

These people believe that the war against war is the battle of the century, and that we must end the Cold War immediately.

Editorial

The current world situation brings to light, with all its wish to preserve, the fact that mankind has not achieved the goals that it set. The world is not a peaceful place, and the struggle for survival is far from over.

We urge anyone considering participating to study the issue objectively and carefully, and to make an informed decision.

DRAGON SLAYERS: Danes Whip Cortland, Oneonta

Two SUNYAC Wins Leave Albany 12-2; Utica Sat.

by Paul Schwartz

CORTLAND -- A disciplined, pivotal Albany State basketball squad pooled all their diverse resources last month and, against a determined Cortland team, 78-61.

Offensively, it was the trio of guard Winston Royal (20 points) and forwards Ray Centre and Pete Stamatilas (18 points each) that provided the Danes with enough firepower to stifle the nagging Red Dragons. On defense, it was an aggressive Albany second half zone, coupled with some wild last-minute shots by Cortland guard Tom Baez (21 points), that allowed the Danes to pull away.

"This win puts us in a good spot," said Albany coach Dick Sauers. "Our scoring was balanced for us, but those guys happened to have the shots. I'll take those ways any day.

Albany, now 12-2 overall and 4-1 in the SUNYAC, led 40-35 at halftime, but after Cesare's juniper gave the Danes a 48-41 advantage, Cortland relied on its size to split the game in the second half, pushing the Danes' lead to 27-18.

"We had them on the ropes early in the game," said Clarke. "But we haven't found any consistency in our offense." Albany ended the game with 12 assists and 11 turnovers.

While Albany got the victory, Stokes said, "We weren't prepared for this. We were just trying to play catch-up basketball. Albany was leading our game, but we didn't have the intensity on defense." Albany's defense was balanced for the game, with 12 assists and 11 turnovers.

Residents Frightened; Administrators Calm

by Susan Milligan

Although administrators at the University of New York at Albany said they had done all 1 can to help protect it from recriminations from friends, the campus was hit by the news that former SUNYAC student Sharon Robinson had been charged with a sexual assault.

Robinson was convicted of a sexual assault in 1986, but was later acquitted on charges of sexual assault.
