Booters Get Defensive And Defeat Siena, 2-0

By Beth Seltzer

A strong defensive performance by the Albany Booters was the key to their 2-0 victory over Siena on Wednesday night. The Booters held Siena to just one goal, while scoring two of their own. The victory was important for the Booters as they continue to push for a NCAA Tournament berth.

The Booters were led by their defense, with goalkeeper Mike Fiorito making several key saves to keep Siena from scoring. Fiorito stopped all 10 shots on goal that Siena had on the night. The Booters also had a strong backline, with defenders Tim Brunelle and Bob Ford keeping Siena at bay.

Despite the fact that Albany has tallied one goal and three assists, the team is very young. We need to work on our passing and our finishing, head coach Jihe Danes said. "We need to work on our ability to create chances and put the ball into the back of the net.""}

Dane Gridders Face "Must Win" in Brockport

By Beth Seltzer

The Albany Gridders face a "must win" situation when they travel to Brockport on Wednesday night. The Gridders are currently 6-4-3 on the season and need a victory to keep their NCAA Tournament hopes alive. Brockport, on the other hand, is 8-2-2 and is in the thick of the playoff hunt.

The Gridders will be looking to continue their strong defensive play, with goalkeeper Alberto Giordano having made 36 saves in their last three games. Brockport's offense, on the other hand, has struggled recently, scoring just three goals in their last five games.

Drugs on Duty
Two former Auronians, Columbia's police force, got a 2-drug bust—thus adding to their own personal collections. They got in the drugs during undercover operations—and then they allegedly became addicted to them.

The officers, John Averbeck and Jack Basetti, say the were victimized by the drugs and became addicted to them. Averbeck is the vice president of the police union, who was interviewed.

They say they only tried the drugs once and were caught by the Police Department. They stated that they were addicted to the drugs.

This is the latest in a series of the so-called "forced use of drugs" as the former Auronian cops describe it.

A Casual Look!
Chickens have their "pecking order," and we humans seem to do the same thing.

Among the defendants named in the suit arc Aurora's mayor, its police chief, and its former police chief.

Oil Overflow
Here's a switch: A number of oil companies are predicting that the price of oil won't go any higher without a change in the supply of oil. The report also states that the supply of oil will go down for the first time in years.

Cyclist Visits
Ellen Tuck, age 36, a former member of the Peace Corps, is going to ride a bicycle across the U.S. to raise money for the Peace Corps Foundation.

The women's bike tour is planned to raise money for the Peace Corps Foundation, which provides scholarships for students who want to work in the Peace Corps.

The trip will begin in New York City and end in Los Angeles, with stops along the way to raise money and awareness for the Peace Corps Foundation.

Five riders will be taking part in the trip, which is expected to last several months. The riders will be riding in pairs, sleeping in a tent and cooking their food as they go.

The tour is expected to raise over $1 million for the Peace Corps Foundation and will be the first of its kind for women.

The cyclists are expected to cover over 4,000 miles during the trip, with stops in some of the most scenic areas of the U.S. They will be riding through the Rocky Mountains, the Sierra Nevada, and the Oregon Cascades.

The riders are expected to arrive in Los Angeles in June of 1981 and will be welcomed by a group of Peace Corps volunteers and supporters.

All are Welcome

Return Of The Thin White Duke
Major Bowie Strikes Again

James Jaffe

I'll tell you what. I just heard a whole million songs today, and all I can say is that it was like listening to a million different bands. Bowie is the man of the moment, and I can't wait for his next album. It's going to be a real bombshell.

``I-I-I Wanna Hear A Talk Show''

I was fresh out of bed in the studio, and I heard a voice on the radio. It was a talk show, and I couldn't resist the temptation to listen. The host was a real charmer, and he had a whole bunch of guests on the show. It was a real treat.

Concert Board Responds to Students

To the Editor: Allowing each person the freedom to decide his or her own destiny is the power to decide the fate of the nation. If the nation decides to turn its back on its heritage, then it will suffer the consequences. If the nation decides to turn its face to the future, then it will be victorious.

We will have to make this decision. The people who think they have power to shape the future must take responsibility for the consequences of their actions.

Governor Reagan chose the right path for the people he represents. His program is designed to return government to the business of government. It is not designed to remove government restrictions on the way of life that we enjoy.

Governor Reagan's program is in the interest of all the people in the country. It is especially needed by those groups, who are often the targets of special interest groups. The Governor's program is designed to make government work for the people. It is designed to make government work for the people.

Is the Martinez Accusation Justified?

To the Editor: After reading Friday's article on the Martinez case, I was surprised to learn that the student's character was being questioned. As President of Student Association, Inc., a national service organization, I am concerned about the treatment of students in the nation's colleges and universities. The treatment of students should be based on due process and fairness. It should be based on the principles of equality and justice.

Gridders Top Brockport; Snap Losing Streak

But Win Still Leaves Questions

by Bob Bellaflore

The offense also had to put out a lot of lifting. There were, they say, more than 200 men in the end zone. But the defense had to stop the attack of the fifth-ranked team in Division III. In the third quarter, the Vermontians were still only leading by three.

The special teams were becoming a weapon — a force that could influence ball games. It did, with Albany defensive back Don Saturday and came home with a 1-0 team.
