Good Government? ? ?

It is the desire of the Student Assembly to continue this line of action and to make the students the basis of their decisions. They have already taken several steps in this direction and hope to take many more.

Our present form of government was developed to meet the needs of the present situation. It is not an entirely new representative form, it is an adaptation of an old representative form. The original representative form was a direct form, the modern representative form is an indirect form. In the direct form, the people elect the representatives, in the indirect form, the people elect the people who elect the representatives.
