Danes’ defense prepare to shoot down Cadets

By Marc Stierman

When Coach Bob Ford is talking about the defense, he always has plenty of stock success stories, he always sounds excited. It’s another great season, and the starters are showing off some great skills at practice. Coach Ford has a lot of confidence in his young defensive line, which will see more playing time this season. The team has high expectations for the defense, and it’s not surprising to see them dominate in practice.

The Danes’ defense has been working hard to improve their skills, especially the young players. They are expected to contribute more starting this season. The team has made some adjustments to their defense, and it’s paying off in practice. Coach Ford has been impressed with the progress made by the defensive players.

On the offensive line, Coach Ford is optimistic about the team’s performance. The young players are showing signs of improvement, and the team is expected to have a strong offensive attack.

The Danes’ defense is looking forward to facing some tough competition this season. They are ready to step up and prove their skills against some tough opponents.

Netters taste defeat in last five

By Perry Trumper

The last five games have been tough for the Danes. They have lost four of the last five games, with the only win coming against the Red Dragons last weekend. The team is looking to bounce back this weekend.

The Danes have been having a tough time against some of the top teams in the league. They have faced some tough competition in recent games, and it’s showing in their performance.

The team is working hard to improve their skills, and they are looking to turn things around this weekend. They are expecting a tough game, but they are ready to face the challenge.

Mondale still trails Reagan

Both candidates consider 2nd debate a success

By Mike Strong

Vice President Walter Mondale and President Ronald Reagan continued to battle it out in the second debate of the campaign. Mondale was considered the underdog going into the debate, but he did well to keep up with Reagan.

Reagan, who has been the beneficiary of strong fundraising, was expected to dominate the debate. However, he was forced to defend his record on the economy, and he was not able to avoid getting caught in some of his past promises.

Mondale was considered the winner of the debate, and he used it to make a strong case for why he should be re-elected. He emphasized his work on the economy and his commitment to improving the middle class.

The debate was held on October 21, and it was a close contest. Reagan and Mondale were neck-and-neck throughout the debate, with neither candidate able to secure a clear win.

The second debate was held in a different setting than the first one, and it was considered a success for both candidates. They were able to engage in a constructive debate that highlighted their differences.

Pres. Ramaley asserts need for more women in administration

By Lisa Mlrabella

President Judith Ramaley has been working hard to improve diversity on campus. She recently held a town hall meeting to discuss the issue of women in administration.

Ramaley believes that there are not enough women in top-level positions. She wants to see more women in leadership roles, and she is working to make that happen.

Ramaley was pleased with the turnout for the town hall meeting. She was able to address some of the concerns raised by attendees, and she was able to outline her plans for improving diversity on campus.

Ramaley is working hard to make SUNYA a more diverse institution. She is committed to creating a campus where everyone feels welcome and valued.

Sports Friday

OCTOBER 19, 1984

Danes’ defense prepare to shoot down Cadets

Cuban novelist

Miguel Barnet to speak in PAC on Wednesday night

By Naomi Erickson

Cuban novelist Miguel Barnet will speak in the Performing Arts Center (PAC) on Wednesday afternoon. Barnet is an accomplished writer and poet, and he is known for his powerful and moving works.

Barnet is a well-known figure in the Cuban literary scene, and he has been recognized internationally for his contributions to literature. His works have been translated into many languages, and he is considered one of the most important voices in Cuban literature.

Barnet’s visit to SUNYA is part of the Institute’s “Cuban Dialogue” series, which brings together Cuban writers and intellectuals to share their perspectives on the island nation.

The Institute of Cuban American Literature was established by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and Cuban American novelist Tami Morrison, winner of the National Endowment for the Arts’ 1985-86 Genetha Foundation Grant. The Institute is a non-profit organization that promotes the study and appreciation of Cuban literature.

The Institute’s “Cuban Dialogue” series is designed to bring together Cuban writers and intellectuals to share their perspectives on the island nation. The series is open to the public, and it is free of charge.

The Institute of Cuban American Literature was established by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and Cuban American novelist Tami Morrison, winner of the National Endowment for the Arts’ 1985-86 Genetha Foundation Grant. The Institute is a non-profit organization that promotes the study and appreciation of Cuban literature.

The Institute’s “Cuban Dialogue” series is designed to bring together Cuban writers and intellectuals to share their perspectives on the island nation. The series is open to the public, and it is free of charge.

The Institute of Cuban American Literature was established by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and Cuban American novelist Tami Morrison, winner of the National Endowment for the Arts’ 1985-86 Genetha Foundation Grant. The Institute is a non-profit organization that promotes the study and appreciation of Cuban literature.

The Institute’s “Cuban Dialogue” series is designed to bring together Cuban writers and intellectuals to share their perspectives on the island nation. The series is open to the public, and it is free of charge.

The Institute of Cuban American Literature was established by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and Cuban American novelist Tami Morrison, winner of the National Endowment for the Arts’ 1985-86 Genetha Foundation Grant. The Institute is a non-profit organization that promotes the study and appreciation of Cuban literature.

The Institute’s “Cuban Dialogue” series is designed to bring together Cuban writers and intellectuals to share their perspectives on the island nation. The series is open to the public, and it is free of charge.

The Institute of Cuban American Literature was established by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and Cuban American novelist Tami Morrison, winner of the National Endowment for the Arts’ 1985-86 Genetha Foundation Grant. The Institute is a non-profit organization that promotes the study and appreciation of Cuban literature.

The Institute’s “Cuban Dialogue” series is designed to bring together Cuban writers and intellectuals to share their perspectives on the island nation. The series is open to the public, and it is free of charge.

The Institute of Cuban American Literature was established by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and Cuban American novelist Tami Morrison, winner of the National Endowment for the Arts’ 1985-86 Genetha Foundation Grant. The Institute is a non-profit organization that promotes the study and appreciation of Cuban literature.

The Institute’s “Cuban Dialogue” series is designed to bring together Cuban writers and intellectuals to share their perspectives on the island nation. The series is open to the public, and it is free of charge.
Statewide

Regents calls for aid

(AP) SUNY president George Counts, the representative of the board of trustees, lashed out in a speech on Wednesday against Gov. Mario Cuomo's policy on minorities.

"The governor's policy on minorities is a socialist, anti-American, anti-consumer policy," Counts said.

"I have never for one moment thought that it was a good idea to have a concentration of the one group of people in one place," he added.

"But if the governor wants to do that," Counts said, "I'll do it for him."

The governor has already announced plans to create a New York City campus for the state's public schools, and the SUNY board of trustees has already approved the plan.

"I don't think it's going to work," Counts said. "I think it's going to be a disaster."
O'Leary's probation ideas to be enacted in four states

By James O'Leary

Demonstrating a sharp record on community-based correction, SUNY Albany Howard Nolan, director of the School of Criminal Justice, has won a grant to pay for a new approach to parole. The new program is expected to be implemented in four states by 2020.

The new approach to parole is called "O'Leary's Plan," and it is designed to reduce recidivism among parolees. The program involves implementing a "risk assessment" strategy for parolees, which will be based on a parolee's past criminal behavior, employment history, and family stability.

Nolan said the goal of the program is to help parolees "get back on track" and reduce their chances of returning to prison. He said the program will be funded by a grant from the National Institute of Justice, and will be implemented in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and California.

"We are excited to be able to test this approach and see if it can make a difference," Nolan said. "This is a major step forward in our efforts to reduce recidivism and improve public safety."
Rising elderly crime perplexing courts, prisons

A recent study by Professor Donald Newman, a SUNY Albany sociologist, has shed light on the growing trend in criminal activity among the elderly.

"Elderly crime is a phenomenon that we as a society ought to understand," said Evelyn Newman, the professor's wife. "It's not just a matter of numbers, but also of the impact it has on our justice system.""...

According to Elderly Criminology, the number of elderly people has increased over the years. However, the percentage of those committing crimes has remained relatively constant. However, the book notes that elderly offenders are often more difficult to deal with due to their age and health issues.

"Elderly offenders often require special accommodations and may need more comprehensive treatment programs," said Mr. Newman. "It's important for courts to consider these factors when making decisions about elderly defendants."
The Halloween Party
Sat. October 27
8:30 p.m. — 1:00 a.m.
Doors Open at 8:00
Campus Center Ballroom
Best Individual, Best Group, Best Couple
SUNYA ID and 1 other form of ID needed.
Only SUNYA students and their escorted guests are invited.
No Dangerous Costumes or Accessories Please
Advance Ticket Sales Only
CC Lobby, M-F, 10/22-10/26
11 a.m. — 2 p.m.
Price: $4.00
Sponsored by the classes of '85, '86, '87 and '88

GSEU seeks fiscal benefits but not a scholastic function

By John Crawford

"The message for a Graduate Student Employees Union (GSEU) for Graduate Assistants, Teaching Assistants and Research Assistants issued by the SUNYA Student Newsroom, Tuesday, October 23, 1984 reports that the SUNYA Student Newsroom is offering 1,200 tickets for its annual Halloween Party.

The newsroom, which is a student-run publication, is inviting SUNYA students and their escorted guests to attend the party on Saturday, October 27, from 8:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. at the Campus Center Ballroom. The tickets are available for $4.00 and can be purchased at the CC Lobby from 10/22-10/26, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Halloween party is expected to be a fun-filled event with a variety of games, refreshments, and music. The newsroom is offering advance ticket sales only at the CC Lobby, and attendees are encouraged to come dressed in their best costumes. Those attending must show their SUNYA ID and 1 other form of ID to be admitted.

The GSEU seeks to raise fiscal benefits for SUNYA employees, while the newsroom's Halloween party aims to provide a fun and enjoyable event for students and their guests.

The GSEU's goals include increasing employees' salaries, keeping all current GA/TA/RA lines, and gaining more control over their workplace. The newsroom's Halloween party, on the other hand, focuses on providing a fun and entertaining night for SUNYA students and their guests.
For My Father

By Daniel Barth

The real ones bore gaping charcoal holes in them, and even then I came to the conclusion that perhaps some of the things I'd been told about my father were true. I had never met him, my mother wouldn't talk about him, and it was only through whispers and rumors that I pieced together the story of his life. But as I sat in the middle of the car, where the seats facing me and the opposite were closed, I couldn't help but feel like I was looking at him through a veil. The sun was streaming in through the window at my left and close my eyes and fall into the remaining window seat, and I let the blood rush to my head, I notice a tear that streaks through the dirt of the middle of the car, where the seats facing me, the opposite, and the corners of the walls were stained with dirt. I let the tears fall and continue staring at the window.

A gristy faced bum looms for track 23, and I turn to him and say, "Sorry." He doesn't say anything, just stands there and looks at me. I watch as she turns to me and says, "I'll spend the night in the car." I nod and go back to my seat, but I can't help but feel like I've failed. I've got to shave and brush my teeth. Lather rinses my mouth. Red white water splashes over my face. I let the water fall into my lap and sit there, but she catches my hand. "I love you," she says, and her eyes are filled with something that I can't quite put my finger on.

I spend the night in the car, but then I wake up the next day and it's all over. I walk outside and see the sun shining through the window, a fresh start. I take a deep breath and let it out, and then I know that I have to move on. I have to find a way to live without him. Without my father.

So here's to you, Mr. Glass...
EDITORIAL
A chain editorial

Dear Reader,

Here’s what you have to do:

1. Read the rest of this editorial.

2. Talk to your friends or more pertinent classmates about what this affects this campus, because it’s possible to hurt student interest in social life. Whatever’s important to you is a student.

3. Make three copies of your editorial. Put them in envelopes — just fold them in. And, for sure, you are who will do what you have done and do not make this kind of a chain editorial, a mass statement of opinion, from the readers of the Albany Student Press.

4. On Wednesday, October 31 — Halloween Day — all the editorials will be brought to the ALP by a bus. You can join campus and clean the campus, which is the thing going strong. Prove that we’re not just as apathetic as the critics would like to think.

Sincerely,

Alpine

COLUMNS

Whom are minorities challenging?

I was presented to and Chancellor Whartenby’s rule,

"The Minority Student Challenge" position in the that Black in Higher Education.

Japhet Zvara

As is the case with these ventures, if the Alpine-Amricans in pos!-secondary education arc:

from graduate studies, professional programs and the the majority of predominantly white schools. Professors, their out. Clearly the educators the policymakers that over the years, the question has not been what the "W." institution of an academic punishment named

over the years, the question has not been what

"W" policy gives students only 10 days to has this in mind, she has also shown that she is

It is quite disappointing and embarrassing to several of it is quite disappointing and embarrassing to several of

“W” would allow the half of the students who are

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

Beverly Boyd

Positional. Undergraduates are —-

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to

“W” policy gives students only 10 days to JOBS

RECRUITMENT OFFICE JOBS

SALESMEN-

ENGAGE IN A CAREER, NOT A JOB!

A DAY IN THE LIFE:

- CAMPUS VACATIONS, 26 COURT
- NOW HIRING. Your Area.
- One Spring Break Trip to Daytona.
- TUNA AT 3 A.M. ?
- The Albany State Bowling Club is
- ONE BEDROOM AVAILABLE IN THREE
- Flannel Sheets, Black Handle, $10
- kappa Delta Pi, The University Women's tuition assistance available.

Join the ASP

We do our best work at NIGHT!!!
State University of New York at Albany

October 23, 1984

Dear Campus Citizens:

As many of you know, during the 1983-84 academic year a committee consisting of faculty, professionals and students discussed and recommended campus policies on the use of alcohol. Having received the approval of campus governance, the University Council and the President, the University, on September 1, 1984, implemented its first campus-wide policy on alcohol.

The Statement of Policy which follows is in compliance with city, county, state and federal regulations. It is presented as one method to educate the campus community.

We seek your cooperation and compliance.

Thanks.

[Signature]
Frank G. Page
Vice President for Student Affairs

Controlled Drinking and Alcohol Abuse

History of State University of New York at Albany

The University was established in 1841 as a college of liberal arts and scientific studies. During the early years, high quality of instruction was emphasized and student discipline was strict. In the 1960s, the focus shifted to student involvement in the institution and the community. The university's alcohol policy was developed in response to growing concern about the effects of alcohol use on students.

Statement of Policy

The University policy on alcohol is designed to minimize the negative effects of alcohol use on the campus community. The policy is intended to promote responsible drinking and to discourage abuse.

Responsibilities

1. The University assumes responsibility for itself and for the conduct of events, including participation in events, so that federal, state, and local legislation and policies governing alcohol use are enforced.

2. Anyone who is apparently intoxicated or is behaving in an intoxicated manner is not to be served alcohol. Violations of this policy will be dealt with as prescribed by federal, state, and local laws and by University policies and regulations.

3. The Vice President for Student Affairs is responsible for implementing and interpreting this policy.

A. Residence Halls

1. Only persons nineteen (19) or older are to purchase, be sold, given, or served alcohol.

2. Administration of this policy is the responsibility of the Director of the university's properties.

3. Alcoholic beverages may only be provided by UAS or the function sponsor, the manner to be determined by the appropriate Dean in conjunction with the Downtown Campus Administrator.

4. If alcohol is provided by UAS or a charge is made by the sponsor, a special permit is required.

5. Alcoholic consumption by individuals outside buildings is governed by the City of Albany Open Container Ordinance (which prohibits such use unless a special permit is obtained).

B. Academic Pinnel Buildings

1. Consumption of alcoholic beverages in academic buildings is prohibited, except for authorized social functions.

2. The use and rental of space for social functions for a function requires the prior formal approval of the President of the College of Business and neck.

3. Alcoholic beverages for functions in the Physical Education Complex may be provided only by UAS or the function sponsor-

4. If alcohol is provided by UAS or a charge is made by the sponsor, a special permit is required.

5. Consumption of alcoholic beverages outside the academic buildings is governed by the City of Albany Open Container Ordinance (which prohibits such use unless a special permit is obtained).

D. Physical Education Complex

1. The Physical Education Complex consists of the Physical Education Center and all athletic and recreational fields and areas.

2. Alcohol is not to be served or consumed in any area of the Physical Education Complex.

3. Alcoholic beverages for functions in the Physical Education Complex may be provided only by UAS or the function sponsor.

4. If alcohol is provided by UAS or a charge is made by the sponsor, a special permit is required.

5. Consumption of alcoholic beverages outside the Physical Education Center is governed by the City of Albany Open Container Ordinance (which prohibits such use unless a special permit is obtained).

F. Quad and Room Complex

1. The Campus Center includes the Library, Dormitory, Dining Halls, and the Physical Education Center.

2. The use of alcoholic beverages to celebrate special occasions under the Special Function Policy. Certain areas such as Study Areas and Lounges are expressly designated in consultation with the Quad Board to provide for the administration of the Special Function Policy.

3. Alcoholic beverages may only be provided by UAS or the function sponsor.

4. If alcohol is not provided by UAS or the function sponsor, the manner to be determined by the appropriate Dean in consultation with the Quad Board.

5. Consumption of alcohol is prohibited on all University-operated buildings.

PHILADELPHIA HALL

1. Eighteen hundred students reside on the Philadelphia Hall campus.

2. Eighteen hundred students reside on the Philadelphia Hall campus.

3. Eighteen hundred students reside on the Philadelphia Hall campus.

4. Eighteen hundred students reside on the Philadelphia Hall campus.

5. Eighteen hundred students reside on the Philadelphia Hall campus.
constituents," he said.

They don't bother any of their office," said Ablelow, "by taking it, they might be voted out of office, the bill," Ablelow added.

"What I would like to do would be to hold public hearings around the state and focus particularly to the students what is their concern," Nolan said, adding that a public hearing on the

Joseph Frangella no account is too high. Concerning Nolan's claim that his bill is lower than that of the

According to Edward Martin, all sensors are doing, it's what they're doing. Let them focus their farm, we'll focus ours," Frangella said. "I won't take per diem payments. However, in an October 14 Times-Union story he was bora in 1932 and worked as a consultant to his son's food brokerage, but now, after the farm shut down two years ago, he worked as a consultant to his family-owned mushroom business. After the Frangella, a Slingerlands resident, said he has spent 28 years in the Albany-Selkirk school board in order to get them to get rid of that policy of apartheid.

It is "absolutely unconscionable for a nation such as South Africa to have a great many of its citizens suffering under a regime," Frangella said. "It's unconscionable in this country we've got great gains, more and more we arerestricted in the top, and that's what it would be." On an area of interest to many, Nolan was born in 1932 and

A couple 'o bucks, how can you go wrong?

SUNYA campus would be

Middle Earth, the peer counseling and crisis intervention center on campus, will be sponsoring and co-sponsoring the following activities:

- MIDDLE EARTH
- STRAWBERRIES
- ALL COMMUNITY BOX OFFICE LOCATIONS

P.S. Frangella, a Slingerlands resident, said he has spent 28 years in the Albany-Selkirk school board in order to get them to get rid of that policy of apartheid.

It is "absolutely unconscionable for a nation such as South Africa to have a great many of its citizens suffering under a regime," Frangella said. "It's unconscionable in this country we've got great gains, more and more we arerestricted in the top, and that's what it would be." On an area of interest to many, Nolan was born in 1932 and worked as a consultant to his son's food brokerage, but now, after the farm shut down two years ago, he worked as a consultant to his family-owned mushroom business. After the farm shut down two years ago, he worked as a consultant to his son's food brokerage, but now, he said, he is campaigning full-time for the state senate. Though a poll released two weeks ago by the Commons to the Times-Union showed Nolan's support declining, Frangella said he believes he can turn the situation around.

SUNYA students from Long Island, Nolan suggested that the best cure for the Long Island Lighting Company's financial problems would be to open the Shoreham Nuclear Power Plant, which has consistently gone over budget in construction costs. He enjoyed the possibility of government subsidies to help build deep water ports on Long Island, and he was not opposed to recommendations by Niagara Mohawk. "Unfortunately some of these electric companies are poorly managed and I think that for some people as a whole to support a poorly managed company would not in any way be in favor of," he said.

SUNYA students from Long Island, Nolan suggested that the best cure for the Long Island Lighting Company's financial problems would be to open the Shoreham Nuclear Power Plant, which has consistently gone over budget in construction costs. He enjoyed the possibility of government subsidies to help build deep water ports on Long Island, and he was not opposed to recommendations by Niagara Mohawk. "Unfortunately some of these electric companies are poorly managed and I think that for some people as a whole to support a poorly managed company would not in any way be in favor of," he said.

SUNYA students from Long Island, Nolan suggested that the best cure for the Long Island Lighting Company's financial problems would be to open the Shoreham Nuclear Power Plant, which has consistently gone over budget in construction costs. He enjoyed the possibility of government subsidies to help build deep water ports on Long Island, and he was not opposed to recommendations by Niagara Mohawk. "Unfortunately some of these electric companies are poorly managed and I think that for some people as a whole to support a poorly managed company would not in any way be in favor of," he said.

SUNYA students from Long Island, Nolan suggested that the best cure for the Long Island Lighting Company's financial problems would be to open the Shoreham Nuclear Power Plant, which has consistently gone over budget in construction costs. He enjoyed the possibility of government subsidies to help build deep water ports on Long Island, and he was not opposed to recommendations by Niagara Mohawk. "Unfortunately some of these electric companies are poorly managed and I think that for some people as a whole to support a poorly managed company would not in any way be in favor of," he said.

SUNYA students from Long Island, Nolan suggested that the best cure for the Long Island Lighting Company's financial problems would be to open the Shoreham Nuclear Power Plant, which has consistently gone over budget in construction costs. He enjoyed the possibility of government subsidies to help build deep water ports on Long Island, and he was not opposed to recommendations by Niagara Mohawk. "Unfortunately some of these electric companies are poorly managed and I think that for some people as a whole to support a poorly managed company would not in any way be in favor of," he said.
Final debate

- "Front Page"

Mondale argued during the debate that he would continue as a strong executive while Reagan defended a limited presidential budget, which would "incur our nation's strength by no means double that of the Soviet Union."

But he acknowledged that he had opposed the B-1 long-range bomber, saying, "For 15 years the Soviet Union has been preparing to meet the B-1. The Secretary of Defense himself said it would be a "suicide mission" if we ever attempt to use it."

Reagan said, "It's always been easy to argue for restrictions to prevent spending, but it's not in America's best interest. We have to be prepared."

On the issue of nuclear arms, Mondale said he supported a mutual and verifiable nuclear freeze, whereas the Reagan administration wanted to continue reductions. However, two years later, he is putting a "hair trigger on the nuclear war." The Administration, by going into the Star Wars system, is going to add a dangerous new escalation.

President Reagan attacked this by saying it was "for more headlines" and that we can afford another nuclear war because it is a "limited defense" against a "limited threat." Mondale's stance is "dangerous for millions of people."" It is not in our best interest to share this technology with the Soviet Union as they can use it and destroy us."

The President also accused the Carter Administration of "unilaterally disarming which Mondale did not oppose, but instead said there would be no unilateral disarmament during his administration."

Reagan said the peacekeepers withdraw because they were not able to complete the mission they were sent to do.

But Mondale charged that the administration had reported to the Senate the Marine barracks that ruined 241 U.S. lives. In the closing statements, Mondale stressed domestic issues from leadership, and discussed how to get rid of all nuclear weapons. The President also accused the Democratic Administration of "unilaterally disarming which Mondale did not oppose, but instead said there would be no unilateral disarmament during his administration."

Reagan said the peacekeepers withdraw because they were not able to complete the mission they were sent to do.

But Mondale charged that the administration had reported to the Senate the Marine barracks that ruined 241 U.S. lives. In the closing statements, Mondale stressed domestic issues from leadership, and discussed how to get rid of all nuclear weapons. The President also accused the Democratic Administration of "unilaterally disarming which Mondale did not oppose, but instead said there would be no unilateral disarmament during his administration."

Reagan said the peacekeepers withdraw because they were not able to complete the mission they were sent to do.
The Cadets started their game with a strong drive early in the second period and ended up scoring 17 points against the Norwich Cadets. The Cadets were led by tailback Bruce Johnson, who was able to gain yards on the first drive. He rushed for a total of 14 yards, which eventually led to a 9-yard touchdown.

On their sixth drive, the Cadets started at their own 10-yard line and gained 111 yards, breaking loose for a 20-yard pickup to the I-yard line. On the next play, they scored a touchdown.

The penalty set up a first and goal at the 1-yard line, and the Cadets scored another touchdown. The penalty was followed by a missed field goal, but the Cadets were able to close the game with a 17-14 victory.

The game was marked by controversy, particularly during the second half. Norwich had a penalty called against them, which seemed to be a clean hit. However, the referees called a penalty, and the Cadets gained a first down.

Coach While expressed his concern about the referees' performance. He believed that the referees were not the best in the country and that they were not able to make correct calls. The situation was exacerbated by the referees' treatment of the players, who were not always treated fairly.

The referees' performance was a major factor in the game's outcome, with several controversial calls affecting the game's flow. The referees' mistakes and the players' reactions added to the tension and controversy that marred the game.
Sports Tuesday

Dane harriers regain SUNYAC title

By Tom Kacandes

The two-mile record set by SUNY Buffalo's Anthony Lord and SUNY Stony Brook's Bill Cottone came to an end this weekend as SUNY Brockport took the SUNYAC cross-country championship.

The Danes had briefly led a year ago, but SUNY Albany had opened up a big lead. Meanwhile the guys that I wanted them to go out very quickly shake them (Fredonia) up some. I told our team to get up in the back end of the Dane pack slowly picked up the pace and got back on our heels. Gaughran finished 3rd overall (26:17) right behind McCull, and their second. Art McCull led the Danes to the finish line by 10 seconds.

Norwich's second half rally stuns Danes, 27-17

By Barry Simmons

For more than 29 minutes of the second half, the Norwich football team dominated the Norwich's light but successful offense, which was held to just 106 yards of total offense in the fourth quarter.

Vandalism threatening safety in dorms

By Philip Scharf

Vandalism is threatening safety in the dormitories at SUNY Albany. The administration, Stevens said, has made a serious effort to ensure safety in the dormitories.

Students split on quality of academic advisors

By Lisa Stringfellow

Students at SUNYA are divided on the quality of their academic advisors. Some students believe their advisors are knowledgeable and helpful, while others feel they are not as effective.

Buffalo students pull $4M from Marine Midland

By Lisa Stringfellow

Buffalo students have withdrawn $4 million from Marine Midland, a bank that invests in South Africa. The move is part of a larger effort to divest from companies that do business in South Africa.

Sports Thursday

Dome has no investments in South Africa

By Philip Scharf

The SUNYA administration has confirmed that the SUNYA Student Association (SUNYA SA) has no investments in South Africa. The SUNYA SA is one of the largest student organizations in the United States, with a membership of more than 35,000.

Weekend getaway with a purpose

By Lisa Stringfellow

A group of SUNYA students is planning a weekend getaway with a purpose. The students will be visiting a local school to help with their educational needs.

PUBLISHED AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK AT ALBANY BY THE ALBANY STUDENT PRESS CORPORATION

VOLUME LXXI

NUMBER 14

Friday October 28, 1984