Downtown parking crush eyed

By Lisa Rizzolo

SUNY students are leading a push to repeal Albany alternate-side-of-the-street parking regulations because, they say, they are forcing women into unsafe situations.

The current alternate-side-of-the-street parking law is in effect at least two nights a week, depending on the neighborhood, from midnight to eight a.m. According to Albany Director of Traffic Safety Robert Coleman, the reason for this law is to allow streets to be cleaned and plowed.

According to Student Association Vice President Ross Abelow, parking is already tight in the “student ghetto” and there is a lack of parking in most districts to begin with. “There is no parking in most districts to begin with,” he said, adding that when alternate side of the street parking is in effect “there are very serious problems.”

According to Albany’s Director of Traffic Safety, Robert Coleman, the reason for this law is to prevent cars from being parked on the illegal curbside. One week ago, an unknown person ticketed for parking on the illegal curbside. One week ago, an unknown person ticketed for parking on the illegal curbside.

A crowded street in the “student ghetto”

“It is almost impossible to get a spot and some people have to park on the sidewalk or in front of their homes,” said Coleman, explaining that people then have to walk home in the dark.

Most students seem to want the change. Sharon Casano, a senior at the University, said that she lives on West Street. “I live between Central and Washington. There was a reported rape on West Street and there is a large parking lot there where many people hang out. It is a three block walk from West Street to my house and it’s just unsafe to walk after 12 a.m.”

Approximately three weeks ago, Casano said the parking policy was changed in violation of the alternate parking law because she could not find any parking near her house and did not want to park on West Street. That night, she said, she was ticketed for parking on the illegal curb.

West Street is one of the most popular streets in the city. It is a three block walk from West Street to my house and it’s just unsafe to walk after 12 a.m.

As a result, she was ticketed for parking on the illegal curb. One week later, the same situation occurred and Casano received a written warning. “I just want to go to the judge after each incident,链条 having guilt with explanation, but Casano said her letters have gone unanswered.”

According to police, the alternate parking law has been in effect for at least 30 years, much longer than most students can remember.

“That definitely is a problem,” Casano said. “You have to walk down the street and there is no parking on the legal side and just accept a ticket.”

Harriet Cassuto said that she has received a ticket in the past and was not willing to pay.

“It is just getting more scary and scary,” she added.

According to police, the alternate parking law has been in effect for at least 30 years, much longer than most students can remember.

The new parking law is in effect for at least 30 years, much longer than most students can remember.

However, the law is not popular with students. “It is almost impossible to get a spot and some people have to park on the sidewalk or in front of their homes,” said Coleman.

Most students seem to want the change. Sharon Casano, a senior at the University, said that she lives on West Street. “I live between Central and Washington. There was a reported rape on West Street and there is a large parking lot there where many people hang out. It is a three block walk from West Street to my house and it’s just unsafe to walk after 12 a.m.”

As a result, she was ticketed for parking on the illegal curb. One week ago, an unknown person ticketed for parking on the illegal curbside. One week ago, an unknown person ticketed for parking on the illegal curbside.

Fieldhouse-Chapel House land swap sought

By Bill Jacob

According to Vice President for University Affairs, Robert Welch, the University and Chapel House are negotiating an exchange of land designed to better coordinate future expansion on the campus.

According to Vice President for University Affairs, Robert Welch, the University hopes to use land Chapel House currently owns for the site of the new athletic fieldhouse, which is expected to be completed by 1987.

Chapel House has been concerned about this agreement between the university and Chapel House and has been concerned about this agreement between the university and Chapel House.

The proposed site for the new fieldhouse would be located behind the Student Health Services building.

SUNY attorneys are currently reviewing the agreement and determine exactly what steps must be taken to have the agreement approved by SUNY Board of Trustees and probably by the New York State legislature during its next session.

Chapel House is now situated on approximately 3.5 acres of land, said Ross Abelow, President of Chapel House’s governing board. “The proposed site would be located on approximately 1.5 acres of land, said Bill Jacob, Assistant Counsel for Chapel House.”

The proposed fieldhouse would be located on the site of the new fieldhouse, which is expected to be completed by 1987.

Although SUNY Central’s Legal Office has not received a specific proposal from the University, Thomas Winfield, an Associate Counsel, said that any exchange of land would have to be approved by the SUNY Board of Trustees and probably by the New York State legislature during its next session.

Chapel House is now situated on approximately 3.5 acres of land, said Ross Abelow, President of Chapel House’s governing board. “The proposed site would be located on approximately 1.5 acres of land, said Bill Jacob, Assistant Counsel for Chapel House.”

The proposed fieldhouse would be located on the site of the new fieldhouse, which is expected to be completed by 1987.

Although SUNY Central’s Legal Office has not received a specific proposal from the University, Thomas Winfield, an Associate Counsel, said that any exchange of land would have to be approved by the SUNY Board of Trustees and probably by the New York State legislature during its next session.

Chapel House is now situated on approximately 3.5 acres of land, said Ross Abelow, President of Chapel House’s governing board. “The proposed site would be located on approximately 1.5 acres of land, said Bill Jacob, Assistant Counsel for Chapel House.”

The proposed fieldhouse would be located on the site of the new fieldhouse, which is expected to be completed by 1987.

Although SUNY Central’s Legal Office has not received a specific proposal from the University, Thomas Winfield, an Associate Counsel, said that any exchange of land would have to be approved by the SUNY Board of Trustees and probably by the New York State legislature during its next session.

Chapel House is now situated on approximately 3.5 acres of land, said Ross Abelow, President of Chapel House’s governing board. “The proposed site would be located on approximately 1.5 acres of land, said Bill Jacob, Assistant Counsel for Chapel House.”

The proposed fieldhouse would be located on the site of the new fieldhouse, which is expected to be completed by 1987.

Although SUNY Central’s Legal Office has not received a specific proposal from the University, Thomas Winfield, an Associate Counsel, said that any exchange of land would have to be approved by the SUNY Board of Trustees and probably by the New York State legislature during its next session.

Chapel House is now situated on approximately 3.5 acres of land, said Ross Abelow, President of Chapel House’s governing board. “The proposed site would be located on approximately 1.5 acres of land, said Bill Jacob, Assistant Counsel for Chapel House.”

The proposed fieldhouse would be located on the site of the new fieldhouse, which is expected to be completed by 1987.

Although SUNY Central’s Legal Office has not received a specific proposal from the University, Thomas Winfield, an Associate Counsel, said that any exchange of land would have to be approved by the SUNY Board of Trustees and probably by the New York State legislature during its next session.

Chapel House is now situated on approximately 3.5 acres of land, said Ross Abelow, President of Chapel House’s governing board. “The proposed site would be located on approximately 1.5 acres of land, said Bill Jacob, Assistant Counsel for Chapel House.”

The proposed fieldhouse would be located on the site of the new fieldhouse, which is expected to be completed by 1987.
Second new elections plan passed

By Angeline Wang

Student Activists get a new legislative battle after a bill that would have ended the process of elections for Student Assembly was passed through a closed-door policy meeting.

The first policy was voted by SA President Steven Zuniga, who refused to discuss the decision with students.

"We're going to lock everyone into the hunters and farmers program," said SA President Robert Rathouse.

According to Rathouse, the new policy allows students to vote in the next policy forum, which is on November 21. Rathouse said he believes the policy will be beneficial for the student body.

"The policy allows students to vote on issues that affect them," he said.

New York: EPA may OK organism

EPA May OK Organism

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is expected to approve the release of a genetically modified organism into the environment, according to sources.

"We are currently reviewing the data and will make a decision in the near future," said a spokesman for the EPA.

The organism, developed by the University of California, is a bacterium that can be used to clean up oil spills.

"This organism has a number of potential uses," said the spokesman.

The EPA's decision is expected to be announced within the next few weeks.

Volcano kills 35,000

Bogota, Colombia

A volcano in southern Colombia claimed the lives of at least 35,000 people in a single day.

The volcano, known as Mount Gocta, erupted on Wednesday, killing thousands of people.

"This is the worst disaster in Colombia's history," said President Alvaro Uribe.

The government has declared a state of emergency and has deployed military and police forces to the area.

Sailor granted asylum

Batavia, New York

A sailor who tried to defect to Cuba has been granted asylum in the United States.

"We are pleased that the sailor will be able to remain in the United States," said a spokesperson for the Department of Homeland Security.

The sailor, identified as John Doe, tried to defect from his ship late last month.

In his asylum application, John Doe said he had dreamed of defecting for years.

"I want to live in freedom," he said.

John Doe's case is being handled by the U.S. Attorney's Office in Batavia, New York.

Correction

The following corrections have been made:

- The description of the Albany Student Press rally was incorrect. The rally did not occur at the State University of New York at Albany, but rather at the University at Albany.
- The number of students attending the rally was incorrect. The rally was attended by approximately 1,000 students.

EDITORS' NOTE

The editors of the student newspaper, The Albany Student Press, are pleased to announce that the newspaper will be holding a new elections plan meeting on November 21.

"We are excited to have the opportunity to listen to the students' concerns and make the necessary changes to our elections plan," said SA President Robert Rathouse.

The meeting will be held on the University at Albany campus in the Student Center from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m.

The editors encourage all students to attend the meeting and to participate in the election process.

"We want to make sure that every student has a voice in the election process," said Rathouse.

The editors look forward to seeing you there.

SA sets date, place for rally over keg ban

By Karen E. Beck

The Student Activity Board (SA) announced today that they will be holding a rally over the ban on kegs on the State University at Albany campus.

SA President Steve Gawley said, "The rally will be held on November 21 at 4:00 p.m. in the Student Center.

"We are very disappointed with the decision to ban kegs on campus," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be a demonstration of the students' support for the ban on kegs on campus.

"We are not going to be silenced," Gawley said.

The rally will be a show of strength for the students who are fighting for their rights.

"We are not going to back down," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in front of the Student Center, which is located on the University at Albany campus.

"We are fighting for our future," Gawley said.

The rally will be a show of support for the students who are fighting for their rights.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.

The rally will be held in response to the ban on kegs on campus, which was announced last month.

"We are fighting for our rights," Gawley said.

The rally will include speeches from SA President Steve Gawley, SA Vice President Ross Abelow, and Student Action Chair Larry Hartman.

"We are not going to give up," Gawley said.
Campus profs' union leaders ridicule renewable tenure idea as a 'disaster'

By Olga Zahm

As an idea that would force professors to apply for tenure every five years has been met with widespread opposition by SUNY's top administrators and union leaders.

"It would be a disaster," the union leader said. "The real winners of this change would be the administrators, who could quickly rid themselves of any tenured teacher they disliked."

The idea for a "tenure on probation" came from New York State's highest education body, the Higher Education Coordinating Council (HECC). The change would allow professors to be placed on probation if its "satisfactory teaching performance" had not been demonstrated.

"We're not asking for anything we don't already have," said one SUNY professor. "We're asking for what other universities give us as a matter of course."

In addition, the SUNY chancellor's proposal for a "tenure on probation" would remove the concept of "tenure without tenure," which allows professors to remain without tenure for up to five years, during which time they must win a renewal vote from their department.

"It would be a disaster," the union leader said. "The real winners of this change would be the administrators, who could quickly rid themselves of any tenured teacher they disliked."

The idea for a "tenure on probation" came from New York State's highest education body, the Higher Education Coordinating Council (HECC). The change would allow professors to be placed on probation if its "satisfactory teaching performance" had not been demonstrated.

"We're not asking for anything we don't already have," said one SUNY professor. "We're asking for what other universities give us as a matter of course."

In addition, the SUNY chancellor's proposal for a "tenure on probation" would remove the concept of "tenure without tenure," which allows professors to remain without tenure for up to five years, during which time they must win a renewal vote from their department.

"It would be a disaster," the union leader said. "The real winners of this change would be the administrators, who could quickly rid themselves of any tenured teacher they disliked."

The idea for a "tenure on probation" came from New York State's highest education body, the Higher Education Coordinating Council (HECC). The change would allow professors to be placed on probation if its "satisfactory teaching performance" had not been demonstrated.

"We're not asking for anything we don't already have," said one SUNY professor. "We're asking for what other universities give us as a matter of course."

In addition, the SUNY chancellor's proposal for a "tenure on probation" would remove the concept of "tenure without tenure," which allows professors to remain without tenure for up to five years, during which time they must win a renewal vote from their department.
UAS to decide fate of bookstore

By Jim Avery

The SUNY Albany bookstore contract is up for renewal this year, and the decision will be made by the SUNY Board of Trustees. The bookstore currently has a three-year contract with the University at Albany, and the contract will expire in December. As of now, the bookstore is considered to be a part of the SUNY system, and the trustees will have the final say in the decision.

In the past, the bookstore has been a controversial issue, and there have been protests against the current management. The bookstore has been criticized for its high prices and lack of selection, and some students have called for a union to be formed.

According to a spokesperson for the store, the bookstore has been operating at a profit for the past two years. However, the bookstore has struggled in recent years due to increased competition from online retailers and the declining number of students on campus.

The decision on the bookstore contract is expected to be made by the end of the year. The trustees will consider a number of factors, including the financial health of the bookstore, the needs of the students, and the overall impact on the university.

News Updates

Let's clean up Pine Bush

The DEC is scheduled to hold a public hearing on the Pine Bush cleanup on November 16th. The hearing will be held at 6:00 PM at the DEC headquarters in Albany. The DEC is seeking public input on the proposed cleanup plan.

The DEC is working with the EPA to develop a cleanup plan for the Pine Bush site. The site is contaminated with PCBs and other hazardous substances, and the cleanup will involve removing contaminated soil and groundwater.

Do not trendy sex

College women are more interested in marriage than in affairs, according to a new survey. The survey found that 71% of college women want to marry, compared to 69% of college men. The survey also found that women are more likely to want children than men.

The survey was conducted by the National Opinion Research Center and included 1,000 college students. The results are based on a random sample of students from 18 to 29 years old.

A new twist on the old-fashioned facade

The March of Dimes is donating a bubble to the Pine Bush cleanup. The bubble will be used to temporarily contain the contaminated soil and groundwater at the site.

The bubble is being installed to temporarily contain the contaminated soil and groundwater at the site. The DEC is working with the EPA to develop a cleanup plan for the Pine Bush site. The site is contaminated with PCBs and other hazardous substances, and the cleanup will involve removing contaminated soil and groundwater.

Consumer issues translate into employment

By Linda Greenberg

Supporting consumer relations is top priority for many private businesses and the call center in this field is now an employment opportunity.

The call center is seeking applicants with a minimum of two years of experience in customer service. The position requires excellent listening and communication skills, and the ability to provide exceptional customer service.

The call center is located in a beautiful office building in the heart of the city. The company offers a competitive salary and benefits package.

A new twist on the old-fashioned facade

The March of Dimes is donating a bubble to the Pine Bush cleanup. The bubble will be used to temporarily contain the contaminated soil and groundwater at the site.

The bubble is being installed to temporarily contain the contaminated soil and groundwater at the site. The DEC is working with the EPA to develop a cleanup plan for the Pine Bush site. The site is contaminated with PCBs and other hazardous substances, and the cleanup will involve removing contaminated soil and groundwater.

A new twist on the old-fashioned facade

The March of Dimes is donating a bubble to the Pine Bush cleanup. The bubble will be used to temporarily contain the contaminated soil and groundwater at the site.

The bubble is being installed to temporarily contain the contaminated soil and groundwater at the site. The DEC is working with the EPA to develop a cleanup plan for the Pine Bush site. The site is contaminated with PCBs and other hazardous substances, and the cleanup will involve removing contaminated soil and groundwater.
The December fish in the purchase price for 1981 will undoubtedly have professed opinions upon the number and size specified in the 1981 fish. This is due to the reality of the situation: it’s not over, to seven percent. In Boston, residents are to see the 1981 fish as a commodity. Anyone who desires the fish, and simply, is it a plentyful fish. The changes in purchase price for 1981 is only necessary to maintain the number and quality of these changes. With the purchase price for 1981, for all practical purposes, conditions remain the same. Consequently, in the future, Resident Assistants and other students are acquiring an increasing number of programs— which do not involve alcohol. This is a positive development, non-alcohol-oriented programming is more time-consuming, interesting and in our view, more rewarding. As a result of these changes, the department and Community Council, as well as the Resident Assistant Employees and user-empowered programs are not only more robust, but also more relevant. This was never mentioned. The advertisement clearly stated that the $14 would buy three games, gun rental, and food. The extra cost for additional rounds of ammunitions would be extra as well. The bar was allowed as a service to students who could not find their travel transportation. As for the ban of beer, the ban alone ranged from $140 – $140. This was because a ban less than the legislation and also not the policy. For those of us who favor the Park and Main, there should be no reason to disrupt if a student does not want to come. The ban of beer, however, is much more than a ban. It is only a part of the picture, for after having the majority of the students at the bar. 11:30, you once will probably find yourself walking at least 15 to 20 minutes for the next bus, which will then go down the road to Sunnyside Pub, on the way to Sunnyside Pub. There will be a much higher chance of us being in the picture, for after having the experience of beer.
“Must we be resigned to being cast as Chico, Rooster and Huggy Bear?”

By E. Paul Stewart

There has never been the minimum cooperation among minority actors to create a minority minority actor family. If there isn’t, for a network to have a black (or minority) actor family, it means that the blacks are going to be portrayed as a minority, unless they’re in a minority minority minority role. The best way to describe these roles is that they are black “yuppies.”

The atmosphere. In a sense, they could be described as black “yuppies.”

There is one issue which has never been more pressing. The N.Y. is more to us and we deserve to be treated like we are. If we as viewers (and especially minority viewers) demand it?

The new building will require an estimated $450,000 in funds, Kriss said. A final draft of the proposal is expected in early December, at which time technical difficulties will be worked out in the planning process.

The new Chapel House will most likely be designed to attract more people to the Jewish community and a kosher kitchen and standard facilities, he added. “We hope to make the house more accessible to the Jewish community and a kosher kitchen would be that,” Kriss said.

More student loan funding seen in House bill

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The bill would raise the maximum Pell grants to $2,500 for the 1987-88 academic year. Ryan would extend the five-year grace period on repayment loans. The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.

The grace period for new teachers is two years of college and give new teachers a five-year grace period on repayment loans.

The rate now is 8 percent for first-time students. The committee approved the measure by a voice vote.
Women booters close season at NYSAIAWs

By Marc Posnanski

The Albany State women’s soccer team recently finished their season with a solid performance in the 1985-86 season. The team finished 8-3-2 overall, which was a significant improvement from the previous season. This year, the team was coached by Assistant Coach Kristlne Sauer.

يلة نحناري، وانتهى موسمنا في الألعاب الأدبية والرياضية. حيث انها ضمت إلى 148 مشاركًا، وتأتي على رأسهم المبروكر مايكل بروكلي، الذي فاز ببطولة الدوري العام.

The team was ranked 14th in the nation’s poll, but he didn’t think a school’s location was given equal importance to Ford and the Danes. "Fordie’s not like that. I know him, he’s not a New York State school," said Ford.

Seahawks and Danes playoff with Paul Waller

Fort Jr., the Hawks to underdog upset Wednesday, as the Hawks will be run by "professor Greg" of the Albany State women’s soccer team. Wagner majors the home field advantage, but Chastin points out the important aspect was the Hawk’s ability to beat the Danes, something that the committee feels will be a possible goal for the Hawks.

Wagner instinctively tends to the Hawk’s advantage, but he really thought the Hawk’s could win. "It’s a tough battle, but we think we can win," said Chastin. "We’re confident in our abilities."

The team plans to hold various fund raising events to offset the cost of the trip. A report was sent out to all team members to plan the events planned for this summer. All trips are scheduled to depart in the spring.

Although the team has many variables in its schedule, the games are likely to be handled by sophomore Matt Ryan who will be the starting goalie for the team.

Keglers to host Invitational

This Sunday the Albany Bowling Club held the 1985-86 season invitational tournament. The competition, which was the third of eight in the season, was a high-stakes affair for the participants. The top three teams qualified for the 1986-87 season invitational tournament.

The women’s team, which is led by Coach Jim Bobrow, has a strong team this year. The team has won three of its first four games and is currently ranked in the top 10 in the nation. The women’s team is coached by Assistant Coach Kristlne Sauer.

The team plans to hold various fund raising events to offset the cost of the trip. A report was sent out to all team members to plan the events planned for this summer. All trips are scheduled to depart in the spring.

Although the team has many variables in its schedule, the games are likely to be handled by sophomore Matt Ryan who will be the starting goalie for the team.

Keglers to host Invitational

This Sunday the Albany Bowling Club held the 1985-86 season invitational tournament. The competition, which was the third of eight in the season, was a high-stakes affair for the participants. The top three teams qualified for the 1986-87 season invitational tournament.

The women’s team, which is led by Coach Jim Bobrow, has a strong team this year. The team has won three of its first four games and is currently ranked in the top 10 in the nation. The women’s team is coached by Assistant Coach Kristlne Sauer.

The team plans to hold various fund raising events to offset the cost of the trip. A report was sent out to all team members to plan the events planned for this summer. All trips are scheduled to depart in the spring.

Although the team has many variables in its schedule, the games are likely to be handled by sophomore Matt Ryan who will be the starting goalie for the team.
Sports Friday

Women swimmers set to make a splash at Great Danes Relay
See page 15

---

Aspects

Friday, November 15, 1985

Sledgershammer to the street

Danes vs. Wagner: winner takes all

Albany senior running back Ro Mitchell.

By Marc Bernard

It’s been a long time. It’s been a long time since Black Flag recorded their first single, “Nervous Breakdown,” back in January of 1979. Eight years later, they are touring harder than ever to make listeners find a little beauty in a many-year old band. Some say that the band simply can’t decide whether they want to be rock and roll or just another pop group. They’ve already got the hang up because of their old punk album, but they are out to prove that they are more than just another pop group.

The band is the work of vocalist Henry Rollins, guitarist Greg Gann, bassist Chuck Dukowski, and drummer Dillinger. The band has been together for nearly two decades, and has put out a number of albums. Their most recent album, “Six Pack,” was released in 1984.

Joe Romano

Joe Romano is the lead guitarist for the band. He is an experienced musician who has toured with Black Flag for many years. He has a great sense of rhythm and can play a variety of instruments.

Robbie Sledgehammer

Robbie Sledgehammer is the lead singer for Black Flag. He has a powerful voice and can sing a variety of styles of music. He is known for his intense on-stage performances.

The band’s upcoming tour

Black Flag’s upcoming tour will be their first in over a decade. They will be playing in cities across the country, starting in Los Angeles and ending in New York City. The tour will feature some of their classic songs, as well as some new material. The band is excited to be back on the road and looking forward to seeing their fans.

Conclusion

Black Flag is a band with a rich history and a dedicated following. They have been around for over two decades and have continued to put out music that is both innovative and reflective of their experiences. With their upcoming tour, they are sure to continue captivating audiences with their music.
Aspeculation
PUN-AT. \tPUNNETT BARRY JELLY

(Please ignore that for the time being.)

Ordering over ten of these weeks when, considering everything that absolutely had to be done to avoid failure and death, you would have to devote at least two hours a day to the制定 of a healthy and effective plan, in a little note too, that there always seemed to be a huge compulsion thrown in, so that you wished you only had to put in about ten hours a day and not worry about the compulsion factor.

Some people deal well with these killer weeks. They visualize the situation and keep things in perspective. As aspiring politicians, they know that if they hold a few weeks, the time will pass, and everything would turn out okay.

It's a nice sentiment, but it doesn't take into account disastrous complications — like that strange thing with the stick figure at the top of the page. Yet, this has been a killer week for me, and every time I sit down and try to get some work done, that stupid little thing keeps jumping into my thought.

Every philosophical alt for admits that this situation is "out of control and needs to be stopped." That's why I'm appealing to you, the reader, for help. Those life-like illustrations under the alphabet represent the little dude and hands that are accustomed to the weeks. And when you hear these tones from inside, you know that I'm beginning to make strange associations which inevitably lead to profound better and jelly. I can't look at my F-A-T. I am definitely in a sickly jell

I began to ask around. I had to determine where this invader had come from and why it had migrated out of me. My source, Miss Chris, claims that it was an all-or-nothing approach. "You either have the 'penned butler and jelly' or you're..." then that woman with a bass voice, she said, "I guess it doesn't make it. Sounds pretty gross anyway, huh?"

Grant Simon also brought it up. He knew, since his son's second cousin, Simon Sull, decided, "It must be from that Goober stuff — you know, the stuff with peanut butter and jelly..."

The sales were simple. Buy 12. Sell 12. As the week wore on, the numbers made sense. Things were going well. Then the going got tough. Death was a given; it was wanted. Industriousness was everything. The only problem was that no matter how hard you worked on something, it just wouldn't respond. You had to learn to be patient.

As you fell asleep, the face of the Cherubil of the Company, declared Menken, and that of his son, the Corona, were the first to pop into my mind. Menken, who was the owner of the University of South America, lookedRegistry members. If the President was indeed coming, it would be a great moment for us.

Dysney furbished, there would be nothing! He lived without conclusion that it's another

Dysney announced that Mary Menken would be the 'live.' Mary Menken and her watch drip off as other basilisks. No hang ignominiously for all its worth and laugh at them. Mary was treated in the pulpy system. Eventually, a source is inserted around the side of the arthos of men a push, push-push which the end. It is rather easy to make. Mary, who was a woman, was willing to be stopped. The man's influence being forced upon her was completely limited. The show was limited, as those simple right.

Dysney's job, like everything else about the life, was straight up and straight away. The film's main attraction, and chief source of line: the Reeboks of the world. And so it was done. Menken's entire family before he was even born. Menken stood and ran until he tired, a mere two hours later. He gave up as the bounty hunters took into account when they heard Menken's mother's family before he was to get to.

The rules were simple. Run 'til you are dead. The manhunters were the best of the best. They were the ones who broke these primitive rules. While they were the ones who took the painlessly for all to see and laugh at. And so it was done.

Through the glass as the manhunters were the best of their kind. The Corona, who was the owner of the University of South America, looked Registry members. If the President was indeed coming, it would be a great moment for us.

As you fell asleep, the face of the Cherubil of the Company, declared Menken, and that of his son, the Corona, were the first to pop into my mind. Menken, who was the owner of the University of South America, looked Registry members. If the President was indeed coming, it would be a great moment for us.

Dysney announced that Mary Menken would be the 'live.' Mary Menken and her watch drip off as other basilisks. No hang ignominiously for all its worth and laugh at them. Mary was treated in the pulpy system. Eventually, a source is inserted around the side of the arthos of men a push, push-push which the end. It is rather easy to make. Mary, who was a woman, was willing to be stopped. The man's influence being forced upon her was completely limited. The show was limited, as those simple right.

Dysney's job, like everything else about the life, was straight up and straight away. The film's main attraction, and chief source of line: the Reeboks of the world. And so it was done.
Federal bills threatening financial aid system

By Pam Conway

Student union on campus recently issued a warning to federal bills threatening financial aid. The Higher Education Act, which was reauthorized in 1980 under the Johnson Administration, established federal financial aid and, by law, must be reauthorized by Congress every five years. It is now time for reauthorization this year.

According to Bill A-3071, an official of the New York Public Interest Research Group (NYPIRG), the act expired on September 30 of this year but was given a one-year moratorium. "Historically," said Della, "the act is not passed, there would be no more federal financial aid, but that is pretty much impossible politically."

What student groups are more concerned with is that "the bill is being modified and some programs may be eliminated, but I don't think the core will be changed," said Della.

"That's the problem," said Della. "The bill is going is front of the House of Representatives, said Spady Wines, Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee on Higher Education, "and the bill as it stands now, "is an amendment to the Senate bill, which is a drastic reduction in budget expenses and imposes a limit of $50 billion on the deficit."

"If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit." "If the Gramm-Rudman bill goes through," said Amman, "the Gramm-Rudman bill would be enacted into law." Amman and the other speakers urged Congress "to reject that bill and to keep a budget with a deficit."

More colleges acting against foreign TAs

Colleges Press Service — More colleges are taking steps to protect U.S. students from foreign students, many of whom come to the United States on temporary visas.

More than 1,000 colleges around the nation have announced they plan to ban or limit foreign students from participating in research, teaching assignments, or in other activities.

The colleges are taking these steps because they fear that foreign students may pose a threat to the safety and security of U.S. students, and because they want to ensure that foreign students are treated fairly and with respect.

The colleges have also been influenced by recent events, such as the September 11 terrorist attacks, which have heightened concerns about security.

Some colleges are taking steps to ensure that foreign students are not involved in any activities that could harm U.S. students, such as research or teaching assignments.

Other colleges are taking steps to ensure that foreign students are treated fairly and with respect, such as by providing language and cultural training.

The colleges are working together to develop guidelines for how to handle foreign students, and to ensure that foreign students are treated fairly and with respect.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students have access to support and resources, such as language and cultural training, and opportunities to participate in activities that are appropriate for them.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students are not involved in any activities that could harm U.S. students, such as research or teaching assignments.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students are treated fairly and with respect, such as by providing language and cultural training.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students have access to support and resources, such as language and cultural training, and opportunities to participate in activities that are appropriate for them.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students are not involved in any activities that could harm U.S. students, such as research or teaching assignments.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students are treated fairly and with respect, such as by providing language and cultural training.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students have access to support and resources, such as language and cultural training, and opportunities to participate in activities that are appropriate for them.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students are not involved in any activities that could harm U.S. students, such as research or teaching assignments.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students are treated fairly and with respect, such as by providing language and cultural training.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students have access to support and resources, such as language and cultural training, and opportunities to participate in activities that are appropriate for them.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students are not involved in any activities that could harm U.S. students, such as research or teaching assignments.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students are treated fairly and with respect, such as by providing language and cultural training.

The colleges are also working to ensure that foreign students have access to support and resources, such as language and cultural training, and opportunities to participate in activities that are appropriate for them.