On-Target Danes Gun Down Plattsburgh, 70-63

By LARRY KAHN

The name of The Albany Great Danes' 70-63 win has been burned into Albany's heart. Last Saturday, Albany lost only 57 percent of the time they played in Division I or by eight points. But on Tuesday night the Danes were back on the floor. Their dominant SUNY Albany basketball team, with an 8-0 victory, crushed through the 31-17 regular season record, while nudging into a play-off position.

On the West Division's SUNYAC East Division Standings, Albany leads, with 8-0, followed by 7-0 in State University of New York at Cortland, 6-1 in State University of New York at Oneonta, and 5-2 in State University of New York at Plattsburgh.

The impressive win against SUNY Plattsburgh was won with an 83 percent mark. SUNY Plattsburgh has been a formidable opponent for Albany, as they've been out of the SUNYAC's for two years. However, the Danes were able to make it a perfect game, and the game ended with a final score of 83-67.

Confident Grapplers Preparing for SUNYACs

By BARC GERNER

The men's wrestling team is building for SUNYACs, which are to be held from January 11-14 at the University at Albany. The team has had an excellent season so far, with a 7-1 record, and is looking forward to competing.

The team has been working hard to improve their skills and prepare for the SUNYACs. They have been practicing every day, and are ready to compete against the other SUNYAC teams. The team is confident and ready to take on the challenge.

Funds Allocated to Rehire Popper

By JUDIE EISENBERG

The Board of Trustees recently made a decision to allocate funds to rehire the popular Woody Popper. The decision was made in response to student demands to bring back the beloved Woody Popper.

The funds will be used to create a position of executive director for the SA office after his departure. This decision was met with mixed reactions from students, with some welcoming the return of Woody Popper and others feeling that the funds could have been used for different purposes.

Gregory Lashes Out At Gov't Leaders

By TERRY KAPLOWITZ

Social critic, Dick Gregory, has been targeted for criticism by President Ronald Reagan and his administration. In an interview last week, Gregory stated, "I have no respect for President Reagan's policies. He is a pawn of the Big Business interests."

Gregory has been a vocal critic of the government's policies, particularly in regards to civil rights and social justice. He has been a prominent figure in the civil rights movement and has spoken out against discrimination and inequality. His activism has led to him being labeled as a "radical" by some, but he remains committed to his cause.

Wharton is Center of Student Protest

By LISA MIRABELLA

Students gathered at the University at Albany to protest against the administration's decision to fire Dick Gregory. The students were upset that the university administration would make such a decision without consulting them.

The protest was a peaceful demonstration, with students holding signs and chanting slogans. The administration eventually relented and decided to keep Gregory on the faculty, much to the relief of the students.

Central American Paralysis

Todd Tadciak

United States efforts to prevent revolutionary change in Central America have reached a dead-end point, dominated by a series of programs characterized by confusion, inconsistency, and failure. The United States, in a state of panic, has sought to prevent Central American problems and revolution by imposing a military solution rather than working on the social and political causes of these problems.

While either option entails considerable drawbacks, and despite the American military's failure to defeat leftist guerrillas in El Salvador, now more than 90% of the population of the isthmus region, many Central American nations are primarily concerned with the development of constitutional democracy and civil liberties. The United States has failed to achieve its goals and to prevent the development of constitutional democracy in Central America. The United States has failed to achieve its goals and to prevent the development of constitutional democracy in Central America.

The United States then, has failed to prevent the development of constitutional democracy in Central America. The United States has failed to achieve its goals and to prevent the development of constitutional democracy in Central America.

Freedom of Choice

To the Editor:

S. A. has written an editorial concerning the vice-president position, which appears to imply that the position of vice-president is unnecessary. This is not the case. The vice-president is an important part of the Central Council's executive committee and is necessary for the smooth functioning of the student government.

For Viktor, and all others like him, I would like to extend my most sincere sympathy to you. Viktor is one of thousands of students who have been affected by the recent political turmoil in the United States. His death is a tragic loss to his family, friends, and the entire student body.

In an effort to break out of the Central American trap, the United States has imposed a military solution rather than working on the social and political causes of these problems. The United States has failed to achieve its goals and to prevent the development of constitutional democracy in Central America.
