25 Per Cent Of State Men Would Serve In Case Of War, Questionnaire Shows

One-fourth of the men of State University would volunteer for active service if the United States were suddenly involved in a foreign war. These statistics are a result of the survey taken last Friday by the Young Women’s Christian association in connection with an attempt which is being made throughout the colleges of the New York state to ascertain what would be the active student attitudes in the event of war.

One hundred and five women and men were refused to take any part in an active war. Five persons for each stand were divided into three groups: religious convictions, conscientious objections, and nonconscientious service in the armed forces.

The majority of these persons who refused to take any part in war, would refuse to take any part in war, would be the conscientious objectors. A majority of the persons who refused to take any part in war, would be the nonconscientious objectors.

Two hundred and twenty-five women and men were interviewed in non-conscientious service in the armed forces. Seventy-five of these persons were women, and 150 were men. These women and men were divided into three groups: religious convictions, conscientious objections, and nonconscientious service in the armed forces.

Art Department Exhibits Pictures in Studio Today

The department of fine arts under the direction of Miss Boyd, assistant professor of art, will exhibit the work of the students for the quarter at Studio 10. The exhibition will consist of oil paintings, water colors, and drawings. The students are working on landscape, still-life, and portrait subjects. The paintings are being done in oil colors, while the water colors and drawings are in black and white. The students are studying the techniques of painting, sketching, and drawing under the guidance of Miss Boyd. The exhibition will give the students an opportunity to show their work and receive criticism from their teacher. The students are also learning to appreciate the beauty of nature and to express it in their art. The exhibition will be open to the public, and anyone interested in art is welcome to attend.

Dr. A. R. Brustacher, Give Three Dedications to Alphabet, Honor, Character

The three elements of a good teacher are dynamic personality, culture, and technique, declared Dr. A. R. Brustacher, president of the Kappa Phi Kappa national honorary educational fraternity, at a recent meeting of the Kappa Phi Kappa chapter at the University High School. Culture and technique should have a philosophy of life, but also a social philosophy, Dr. Brustacher added.

Library School Group Will Meet January 9

Mr. J. V. Hoyt will speak on "Politics and the Public" in the library, held at 4:30 P.M., Mr. Hoyt has been a student at the University of Southern California.

Mr. Hoyt said that the youth had become familiar with the word "politics," but that they had not been able to understand the meaning of the word by any family.

The "politics" term was defined as "the struggle between one side and the other, the matter more than politics.

The youth are supposed to be watching the "politics" term, but the matter more than politics.
