Netmen Capture Third Straight SUNYAC Title

by Michael Gurevich

Saturday was just another day, a fluke. Rob Karen won his match as Albany captured their third SUN YAC Championship last weekend. They knew they had to play much harder, everyone else will pick up the slack. "We have to be inexperienced right now, but as Dane co-captain Chuck Prior hinted. "The Danes had the game all sewed up. Certainly, the Danes will contend that the new cells are hazardous wastes.

Bull Offense No Match for Rebounding Danes

by Larry Kahn

The SUNYAC Championship final was exactly what the Danes had wanted to see in many ways (IM are Midland). Albany moved the ball well from line, but an offensive pass in the third quarter led to an incomplete pass under heavy Buffalo pressure. Prall was helped off the court by the trainer Jack Koelmel.

Knee Injury Downs Pratt; May Be Out for the Year

by Mike Harper

It had been the major injury on the Danes' bench. John Pratt's knee has been bothering him for weeks. The surgery was performed last week, but it was not a success. Pratt will be out of action for several weeks.

Study Reveals Hazardous Wastes

in Bob Parks

A spokesperson for no Hooker Chemical, Olin, Union Carbide, and DuPont explained.

Ulster Students Win the Right to Vote

by Bruce Carter

The $500 million bond issue, to raise funds for the construction of a new prison, has become a hot topic in recent weeks. The proposal has been opposed by many in the community, including students at SUNY Albany. The bond issue will not reduce the crime rate in New York State, according to FBI statistics.

Referendum For State Prison Bond is Contested

by David Bell

The referendum on the state prison bond issue will be held next week. Voters Against Crime, a group opposed to the bonding, has launched a campaign to defeat the proposal. The referendum has been opposed by Governor Mario Cuomo and is supported by the teachers and students at SUNY Albany. The bond issue will not reduce the crime rate in New York State, according to FBI statistics.
Canetti Wins Nobel

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) - The Swedish Academy awarded the Nobel Literature Prize Wednesday to Elia Kazan, whose movies were banned in America in the 1950s for their liberal views.

Kazan, who won the Oscar for best director in 1951 and 1953, directed the movie which brought him worldwide fame, "A Streetcar Named Desire," in 1951. The academy cited "his work as a film director, which is shaped by his personal commitment to the cause of peace and freedom" in awarding him the prize.

Reagan Pushes AWACS

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) - The Obama White House on Thursday proposed a $2 billion program to develop a new generation of missile defense systems, including a space-based system called "incipient." The president said the new system would provide an "incapable" defense against any potential threat.

The proposal follows a planned increase in funding for missile defense programs next year, which would raise the total to about $5 billion. The president said the new system would provide an "incapable" defense against any potential threat.

Campus Briefs

Return to Returnables

On October 21, 1981, the New York Times reported that the SUNY Albany Campus Center was being converted into a "returnables" center. The center, which was once used for students to return their textbooks, was now being used to recycle them.

Humanists Are Higher

Awards for a single state were given by the New York State Humanities Council to the New York State Association of Teachers and the Association of American Colleges. The awards were presented to the association for its contributions to humanistic education and the association for its leadership in the development of the humanities curriculum.

Attention All-Americans

The SUNY Albany Student Senate has named six All-Americans, including three members of the basketball team, for the 1981-82 academic year. The awards were presented to the students for their contributions to the university and the nation.

Make Friends With China

An effort to establish a new relationship with China is underway at SUNY Albany. The university has signed an agreement with the Chinese government to establish a new campus in China. The agreement calls for SUNY Albany to provide academic programs and support to students at the new campus.

Desegregation Spurs Uproar

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) - The University of Albany announced Wednesday that it had suspended its plans to desegregate its student body, following a court ruling that the university's plans were unconstitutional.

SUNY Albany, which has a large African-American student body, had been planning to desegregate its student body by 1982. The university's plans were challenged in court by a group of white students who complained that the university was violating their rights to equal protection under the law.

Remedies to Pre-Audit Problems to Be Studied

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) - The Department of Education announced Wednesday that it would be developing a new system of auditing public schools, following a series of problems with the current system.

The new system will be designed to address the problems that have been identified in the current system, which includes the lack of a single, comprehensive system for auditing public schools. The new system will be implemented in the fall of 1982.
Reverend Moon Charged With Tax Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Sun Myung Moon, leader of the Unification Church, and six of his aides were charged yesterday in a federal tax fraud and conspiracy case that could send Moon to prison for up to 26 years.

Moon, 74, and his aides were accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The case, which was filed in federal court in New York, accuses Moon and his aides of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accused of concealing $250,000 in bank deposits made by the Unification Church, a religious group founded by Moon.

The church, which has a following of thousands of members, is known for its controversial teachings and its leaders' wealth.

Moon was not present in court yesterday, but his aides appeared.

The aides included Myung Moon, who is also known as Rev. Moon, and his wife, Han Hak Ja, who is known as Anyon.

They were joined by other church leaders, including Rev. Hak Ja, the Rev. Emerick, and Rev. Moon's brother, Rev. Moon's brother-in-law, and Rev. Moon's brother-in-law's wife.

The aides were also accused of concealing funds from the government, tax authorities said.

The aides were accuses...
Oct 16-18
SECOND CHANCE
with Catherine Deneuve
LIFE OR BRIAN
MOBOSO DOES NOT BELIEVE IN TEARS
THE GETTING OF WISDOM
TELL ME A RIDDLE
ERASERHEAD
LILI MARLEEN
WHERE'S POPPA
NOV 17-NOV 19
I SENT A LETTER TO MY LOVE
with Simone Signoret
THE TRIALS OF OSCAR WILDE
NOV 20-NOV 22
MY BRILLIANT CAREER

ADMISSION: $2.75
$5.00 with this ad

Our snack bar features coffee, teas, pastries, cakes, Haagen-Daz, popcorn, and candy.

Tickets go on Sale TODAY - Tuesday, October 13th at 8:00am in the Record Co-op

Ticket Prices: $7.50 w/tax $9.50 w/out
Nazi-type stereotyping of a Jewish in the government-controlled press clearly demonstrate the Soviet agenda of Jewish mass produced writings ostensibly attack hatred and cultural genocide. Census has dramatically declined in recent decades. Many intimidated Jews deny their house rapid distribution of anti-Semitic literature throughout the USSR. These government harassment, yet the Soviel have a central coordinating body, nor can separate even such assimilated Jews not see professions of millions Jews, there are no Jewish schools bis in all Russia to serve the country's three restrictions than any other in the USSR. Restrictions in the USSR have been forcibly shut; in the early 1970's have once again been reversed, thus tightening the clamp upon Soviet Jewish rights. And they are arc powerless to escape from due to Soviet anti-Semitism in the USSR, a situation they are arc little aware of; its very real and exists. Each school involved will focus on a specific problem related to give a personal concern in its efforts to humanize society. "SUNYA's campaign will be for the officials. The music is the same and the ads are so many people listen to commercial radio. To the Editor: A good show; I'd, like load-west. To the Editor: The best way to figure out whether or not to oppose the sale of AWACs is to know what the sale is. We do not. But the best way to figure out whether or not to oppose the sale of AWACs is to know what the sale is. We do not. But the best way to figure out whether or not to oppose the sale of AWACs is to know what the sale is. We do not. But the best way to figure out whether or not to oppose the sale of AWACs is to know what the sale is. We do not.
Get Down

Each time I return to town, I make a point of seeing the old haunts of Albany. The place is a living museum, and I always find myself drawn to it. I was just at the old Cornelia and it hit me. The Cornelia was once the center of my world, and I feel a deep sense of nostalgia when I'm there. The place is now a restaurant, but it's an old haunt of mine. It's a place where I used to go when I was younger, and it always brings back memories of the past.

I was just there the other day, and I couldn't help but think about the times I spent there. I remember sitting at the bar with my friends, drinking and chatting. We would stay there until late at night, and it was always a fun place to be. I still go back there every once in a while, and it's always the same. The place hasn't changed much, and it's still as lively as ever.

I think about the people I used to know there, and how they've all moved on. Some are still around, but most have gone on to do other things. It's a bit of a surreal feeling, knowing that the place where we used to spend so much time is still the same. But the memories are still there, and they always bring a smile to my face.

I suppose it's just a part of life, going back to places where you used to be. It's a reminder of the past, and it always brings back a flood of memories. I think I'll go back there again sometime, just to see if it's still the same. Maybe I'll run into some old friends, and we can reminisce about the good old days.

I suppose it's just one of those things. You know, going back to places where you used to be, and remembering the good times. It's a nice feeling, knowing that some things never change. And that's what I love about the Cornelia. It's like a little piece of the past, preserved for all time.
Albany's Greenwich Village To Some, Lark Street Faces The Challenge of Growth

"I think it's a drab and stuffy neighborhood," said one Lark Street shopper recently. "I'm not a fan of Lark Street at all."

But others disagree. "I love Lark Street," said local artist Mark Kelly. "It's my first love."

Kelly operates a small antique shop on Lark Street, and he's come to see it as more than just a place to do business. "I see Lark Street as a community," he said. "It's a place where people can come together and share their interests."
The Local Scene Is Sound

Newcomers And Traditionalists

The Jukes are certainly no strangers to this city. Four years ago the group played behind behind The Fabulous Thunderbirds at the same venue. For their part, The Jukes put on a show that made most fans forget Little Feat. They

A Story Of Battle Is A Triumph

A Sell-out Crowd Catches Jukes’ Fever

Updike Updates The Rabbit Saga

John Updike's newest novel, Rabbit Redux, is a big movie, an

Rabbit Redux reflects the immediate past, with a

John Updike's Rabbit Redux, a story of battle, is a triumphant tale of the

ASell-out Crowd Catches Jukes’ Fever

The Jukes are certainly no strangers to this city. Four years ago the group played behind behind The Fabulous Thunderbirds at the same venue. For their part, The Jukes put on a show that made most fans forget Little Feat. They

The Jukes are certainly no strangers to this city. Four years ago the group played behind behind The Fabulous Thunderbirds at the same venue. For their part, The Jukes put on a show that made most fans forget Little Feat. They
Anwar Sadat: A Perspective

Anwar Sadat was a man of many paradoxes. A man of tremendous political savvy, he was also a dreamer. A man of great faith, he was also a man of doubt. A man of the people, he was also a man of the elite. A man of the past, he was also a man of the future.

Sadat was a dreamer who believed in Egypt and in a peaceful Middle East and, possibly, a just and durable peace. His vision of a Middle East free of conflict and injustice was shared by many of his Arab neighbors, yet his faith did not permeate deep enough to inspire the political will necessary to make the olive branch from Meir something more than a mere diplomatic gesture.

Sadat also differed from other Arab leaders by his willingness to recognize the state of Israel and to seek a negotiated settlement of the conflict that has divided the region for over half a century. His initiatives in these areas were met with opposition both at home and abroad, particularly in the Arab world, which considered him a traitor.

However, Sadat's determination to achieve a peaceful settlement of the conflict and to promote closer ties with the Western world was shared by many of his Arab neighbors, and his program of economic and social reforms was also met with approval.

In conclusion, Anwar Sadat was a dreamer who believed in Egypt and in a peaceful Middle East, yet his faith did not permeate deep enough to inspire the political will necessary to make the olive branch from Meir something more than a mere diplomatic gesture. He was a man of many paradoxes, a dreamer who believed in a just and durable peace yet was also a dreamer who believed in a just and durable peace. He was a man of the people, yet he was also a man of the elite. He was a man of the past, yet he was also a man of the future.

Crossword Puzzle

An Educated Guess

We agree with the occasional pre-auditing of money that will be refunded to students for school and must also use loans—which will eventually have to be repaid by the student.
One of our members, with large car, working sentimentally. Reward offered. Lost: Gold "A.S." initial ring. Details, 438-7570.

Big Brother wanted for special selection. Typewriter. Call 273-7218.

Craig. The best in recorded rock, Ramada Inn. Shop. By appointment. Necessary. University Services — Masses. Sal. 6:30 p.m., Sun. 12:30 p.m., Fri. 10:30 p.m. in the Chapel Lounge. "The Giver." Performance by the Chamber Choir, Oct. 17 at 10 p.m. in Henways Night. Ladles free with tax cards.

Non-smoking female needed to help with 4 frantic, screaming kids or combination there. Details, 459-5112.

Methany, Al DiMeola. Call 7-7937.

Overseas Jobs — Summer/year rehiring. May offer small stipend to someone as salary. Box 52-NY-1, Corona Del Mar, CA 92625.

All fields. $500-$1200 monthly.

Toxic Wastes

Students from across campus raise $65 fast.

Karen and Jode, we have to get together. Be good and love, April.

We love you.

-steve

September 17, 1981

Page Eleven
THE CLASH in RUDE BOY

$1.00 with tax/card
$1.50 without
LC 18

Cosponsored with WCDUB

Subway Promises You Great Food And Great Prices

And WE DELIVER

Orders taken between 6:00 P.M. and 8:30 P.M.
Tuesday-Saturday

Order now at your University club
6:00 P.M. - 8:30 P.M.

We support honored on delivery.
Minimum order is 2 feet long.

---

THE PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

A CONCERT THAT WILL LIFT YOU OUT OF YOUR SEATS CHEERING!!

LIVE ON THE STAGE OF THE MAIN THEATER

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17 8 PM

SUITE FROM "THE SOLDIER'S TALE" BY STRAVINSKY

Ensemble conducted by Nathan Gottschalk

SONATA FOR 2 PIANOS AND PERCUSSION BY BARTOK

Stanley Hummel & Robert Cookwell, pianists

Chancy D'Ambrosio & Richard Abagli, percussion

SUNYA STUDENTS FREE WITH TICKET - GENERAL ADMISSION $2.00

---

THE LAVENDER HILL MOB (1951)

starring ALEC GUINNESS and STANLEY HOLLOWAY

THE RECITAL HALL AT 8:30 PM FRIDAY & SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16 & 17

Students/Alumni/Citizens/Alumni Association Members with ID $1.50
General Admission $2.25

JOIN THE FUN AT THE PERFORMING ARTS CENTER EAST END OF THE PODIUM

The College of Humanities and Fine Arts

CALL 457-8804 FOR INFORMATION

---

Batmen Slug Way Through Week of Doubleheaders

(by Michael Carmen)

The Batmen's season turned around amidst the excitement of a scheduled doubleheader last week. Binghamton flexed its offensive muscle with a pair of shellackings as junior Mike Gartman. The second game saw out a triple and solo homer for his Account. Binghamton's 2-0 shutout on Saturday. Volk was the victim of Binghamton's Leslie Carmen, who lost her game to the final time of the after...
Intramural Athlete of the Week Begins Monday October 19

SUNYAID. presents the intramural program for the fall semester.
For information call Cathy Russo, 457-7842, or Donna, 455-4736.

Women Booters Stay Undefeated

Women's soccer team is now 14-3 after beating Vassar, 1-0.

Saturday Night Fever
The Doonesbury Special

100 Proof Jeremiah Weed

Women Spikers Look Uninspired

In Union Win

The Albany State volleyball team is now 17-2 after an easy win over Vermont Tech.

Women Boaters Stay Undefeated

The women's soccer team improved to 14-3 after beating Vassar, 1-0.

SOVIET JEWRY AWARENESS DAY

Monday Oct. 19
10-3 p.m.
CC Fountains
World Jewry Committee

For more info call
Howard 7-7848
JSC 77938
SA Funded

Fireside Theater Presents

Saturday Night Fever
and
The Doonesbury Special

Shown in LC 7
FREE
7:15 and 10:00 pm
Wednesday October 21
SA Funded

 Jeremiah had a powerful influence on my life.
 He taught me the finer points of drinkin' and dancin'.
Barbara Jean, Dance Hall Girl

Long after the other girls were gone, that the milliner Jeremiah Weed was still going strong. He liked dancing more than much as singing in Jupiter and looked up to Humpy Gurdy girls.

Jeremiah Weed is more than a legend, it is a living, breathing 100 proof madrassic.

Albany Student Press
Sports
October 16, 1981
Page Fifteen
Bad Luck Booters Search for Some Answers

by Marc Haspel

The Albany Slate football team's defense has limited opposing teams to an average of under six points per game. Against Buffalo one week they held the Bulls to 4 points (Photo: Garry Chase)

The Albany Slate offense has averaged 75 points per game. They have rushed for 325 yards, and passing for 335 yards per game. They have been held in check by the defense of the Stony Brook Bears and the Hofstra Bears.

Great Dane Sports This Week

by Marc Haspel

Women's Volleyball vs. Siena, 2:00

OCA Director Dunlea Answered

by Marc Haspel

Off-Campus Association Director Mark Dunlea

The OCA has been questioned by the State Citizen's Party about their spending of OCA money for the Citizen's Party candidates. Dunlea has denied the spending of OCA money for the Citizen's Party candidates.

Resignations Leave

New Paltz SA in Doubt

by Marc Haspel

The New Paltz SA has been in doubt due to the resignation of several SA members. The SA has been in doubt due to the resignation of several SA members.

Police Ponder Pine Hills Assault

by Marc Haspel

The police are trying to find the assailant who attacked a woman in the Pine Hills area. They are questioning several people in the Pine Hills area.

Senate Tuition Tax Credit Bill Pending

by Marc Haspel

The Senate Tuition Tax Credit Bill is pending. The bill would provide tax credits to students for tuition payments. The bill is being debated in the Senate.

Garland Rocks J.B.'s See Aspects Page 7