SPANISH CARNIVAL

The Spanish Club reminds you of the Spanish Carnival which will be held Friday and Saturday, April 29. The program provides for an evening of dancing, music, and entertainment for everyone. The committee is carrying out its plans which are entirely novel. There will be new dances, new costumes, fortune-telling, and other amusements. Entertainment led by the Queen of the Carnival, her attendants and flower-girls. Another feature is the decorations, different from any which have heretofore appeared in the gym. You can't afford to miss them. Tickets are on sale now at 25 cents each. Everybody come and bring your friends.

THE CHEMISTRY CLUB PARTY

The science of alchemy must have been a truly wonderful one. If any one of us had any doubts before, the Chemistry Club party removed them all. The chemists were all men of mystery and magic. Their work would probably be lost forever were it not for the fact that certain members of the Chemistry Club spent their summer vacations in excavating the secrets of alchemy somewhere in Europe. You people who did not attend the party don't know what you missed. The experiments which we made were indeed marvelous. Dr. Edmund Enderle Osborne made quite a "hit" with his invisible projectile. In the opinion of many of those present, he should join the navy.

The next revelation was the most marvelous of all. Prof. Ignatz Holmes certainly must have done a lot of digging to find all the secrets of alchemy. He exhibited his experiments by blowing bubbles. These were not ordinary bubbles, but trained bubbles. Upon command of the learned men, they would go up or down. Prof. Holmes, with his invisible rod, was able to control the bubbles. Upon command of the learned men, they would go up or down. Prof. Holmes, with his invisible rod, was able to control the bubbles. The science of alchemy must have been a truly wonderful one.
They would stage their play May 25th and play May 26th. Now May 28th is the Saturday night which comes within our Decoration Day vacation. Without the drama, the class thought of that, and yet they really believe that it will be a real show. It is too bad that they made last year. Of course all of the students take advantage of good short vacation, but many can, and may, and do. Perhaps those who do not are not even a majority of the student body but at any rate they are a considerable minority which very much feels that they would have the chance of seeing these plays without having to give up their vacation. It is for a basketball game, or an ordinary party by a certain one of the organizations or clubs, no one would especially object, because there are plenty of others of the kind. It is rare to have a chance to see the dramatics class play just twice a year. They are always so attended. They are a thing that the student body looks forward to with no ordinary appreciation. It looks upon a decided catastrophe.

We regret the ill health of the Editor-in-Chief, P. Reginald Bruce, Jr. Mr. Bruce has been out of college for over three weeks. His condition is improving and it is expected that he will be able to return soon.

In the Editor of the "News":

The freshman class, that is the girls of the class, are to be congratulated upon the unusual and attractive stunt which was presented by them to the student body in the chapel on April 1. The preparations certainly give us the surprise treat which they promised. It was an entirely different type of class stunt. These little 1924's are not so green or so inactive as the sophs would have us believe.

The music committee of 24 did slightly more than its share so far as this stunt is concerned. It is really a shame that such unusual talent as that demonstrated by the men of 1924 could not be tapped on a college audience. Why do not the join the music committee and appear in such theatres as the Empire college audience. Why do not the join the music committee and appear in such theatres as the Empire?

Dear Mr. Editor:

Everybody out for tennis! Tennis racket and wall decorations are in season. There are 1925's out for tennis, and 1924's out for tennis. The music committee of 24 did not forget that you have signed up.

MUSIC CLUB

The program at last Friday's meeting of the Music Club included the following numbers which were enjoyed very much.

Soprano — Miss Helen Fayle, '19. Accompaniment, Katherine Studert, '22.

H. E. SENIORS VISIT WEIDMAN, WARD & CO.

A most interesting and instructive visit was made to the wholesale house of Weidman, Ward & Co. by the seniors of the Home Economics Department. It included the inspection of the wholesale building, together with explanations in detail as to the methods employed. In the large warehouse were the work rooms of the firm, and by observing the machinery, the tea and coffee expert. The packing department in operation demonstrates the indispensability of the wholesale, for it is from this department that goods are shipped to merchants, who then sell and distribute the goods.

Efficiency is obviously the keynote of the establishment. Time, energy and money are intelligently and economically used in the entire building, together with the Home Economics Department.

ALBANY CHORUS

Several annual features were included in the program arranged by Roessler McKinney at the rehearsal of the Albany Community Chorus held recently in Chancel­lor's Hall. Through courtesy of the Personen, '22; Timony, '24; and Victor Koler. Mr. Hesscr is instructor of music at the Albany schools and formerly conducted music festivals in the West with Garrett Hovindus, Cadman and Victor Koler. Mr. Hesscr's group of songs were by American composers. George J. Abbott sang "Hymn of Republic," "A Merry Life," "Silver Ling," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Mighty Lak' a Rose," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," "Married and," and "Your Eyes Have Told Me So."

COTGATE IN SPRING GRIDWORK PRACTICE

Hamilton, April 17.—The spring football practice of the Colgate University eleven opened yesterday with fifteen men in uniform. Most of the early participants for positions on next fall’s varsity were of the freshman class, but it is expected that the squad will be doubled this week by the addition of football veterans with him and plenty of spring practice the men will be thoroughly grounded in the rudiments of the game and will be ready to go in the fall.
