To Our Readers

1917

F. Herrick Connors—Commission in Quartermaster’s Department—Madison Barracks.

Reinhart A. Holmes—Navy Militia, stationed at Kingsland Point, N. Y.

Our daily newspaper also came with the news of the resignation of Miss Edna I. Avery, who has been in the faculty of the State College for Teachers for several years.

Miss Agnes E. Futterer—New Instructor of Physical Education

Dr. Harlan Hoyt Horner—New Instructor of Physical Education

The country’s military program besides greatly depleting our enrollment of young men has brought about a change in our faculty. Mr. Arthur C. Marooney is to be instructor of physical education taking the place of Mr. Claude H. Hubbard, who has been assigned to the position of physical instructor at the League Island Navy yard at Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Marooney is a graduate of the Springfield V. M. C. A. and was a former instructor in the Scanton School of Physical Training, Cambridge, Mass.

Resignation of Miss Edna I. Avery

Dr. Andrew S. Draper was recently appointed to the position of Director of the Administration Division, and for the last seven years has occupied the responsible position of Director of the Examinations and Inspections Division. He has spoken and written widely upon educational topics, and has had a unique and varied experience in educational administration. He received the degree of M. A. from the State College in 1915, and spent the summer of 1916 in special study at Harvard University. We give him a cordial welcome to the State College.

Miss Edna I. Avery, who has been instructor in Domestic Art at State College since 1915, has resigned her position here in order to accept a place in the University of Cincinnati. Her work will be quite similar to what she has been doing here.

To Our Students

I have been asked by the editor of the “News” to say a word of greeting to these columnists to the students of the College. All summer long I have been conscious that my mere paper acquaintance with you is very inadequate. The records of upper classmen and the credentials of new students have been much in my mind in recent weeks. The immediate prospect of making the personal acquaintance of every student is doubly gratifying to me at this time. People are more interesting than records and personal interviews more satisfying than correspondence. I have found pleasure and interest during the summer in the paper approach to the work before me, but I am glad the college year is opening and you are coming. Empty college halls, I must confess, do not much inspire me.

I am quite serious in the desire to know personally and to be of some possible service to every student in the College. I shall be most in year of your help in realizing that ambition. I shall plan to be in my office every day except Saturday from 10 to 12 o’clock, and shall be happy to see students at other hours by appointment. We enter a new year which is inevitably to be of great moment in the history of our country and of the world. We can all do our “bit,” in part at least, by making the year’s college work thoroughly productive.

With kindling greetings and very best wishes to all, I am cordially and sincerely yours,

Harlan Hoyt Horner.
There are no moments of our life which bring more happiness than those spent with friends, in forming new friendships or in renewing of old ones. For this reason the opening days of College are milestones in a student's life never to be forgotten. The warmth and sincerity of the welcomes fills one with an inexplicable joy, which can be gained nowhere else.

At this time the "News" claims a share in the "rejoicing" and extends to the Faculty and to each and every student a most hearty welcome. We have assembled here under circumstances which are entirely different than those marking other semesters.

At no time has the college student body distinguished itself more than those men from our College who have dedicated their lives to democracy.

Most of us feel that we cannot go on living our plain, common, everyday lives while those we love are "somewhere in France." We feel that we must suspend our usual labors, give up our little happinesses, and do something heroic— as they are doing over there. But there are different kinds of heroism, and ours must be another kind.

We must live normal, healthful, happy lives, if we would serve the nation. The time may come when we feel that life holds for us no more real joy—then we must live and be happy deliberately.

We must live normal, healthful, happy lives, if we would serve the nation. The time may come when we feel that life holds for us no more real joy—then we must live and be happy deliberately.

The personnel of the student body was also very gratifying to the College authorities. There were 80 college graduates, 43 normal school graduates, and 44 State College students in the 1st. Among the whole number were 106 high school teachers, 12 high school principals, 7 high school preceptors, 12 elementary school principals and supervisors and 32 elementary school teachers.

Much interest was manifested in the special lectures and conferences and social gatherings. A special convention was held in the auditorium on July 4th at which President Brubacher delivered an address on "Causes of the War."

Dean Homer who acted as director of the session gave a course in Educational Administration, and expressed his satisfaction at the enthusiasm exhibited by both students and faculty throughout the session. Other members of the faculty were:

- Professors Woodard, Birch-
- enough, Decker, Risley, Kirt-
- land, Smith, Dr. Hall, Van
- liem, Drs. Hastings and York,
- Miss Rafferty, Dr. Power and
- Dr. Belk.

Mr. Royal Bailey Farmum of the State Education Department gave courses in Fine Arts and Miss Naomi Howells of the Albany High School in Domestic Art.

The College authorities hope to widen the offerings for the next summer session and to make earlier announcement of the courses.

After November 19th no one will be permitted in class without the full regulation costume. Sneakers are absolutely required on the first of November when the classes start.

Notices of General Interest

Physical Examinations
All Freshmen girls are required to have a physical examination before entering any of the gymnasium classes.

The Rest Room for Girls
The crowded conditions of the building has made it necessary to convert the "Girls' Rest Room" into a regular class room.

In case of illness, Saturdays or Sundays, or any other special need, telephone Main 395-M.

Room 107 has been equipped as a Faculty Women's Room.

Locker Keys
Miss Gray will give out the girls' locker keys on Friday the 21st and Monday the 24th from 11 A.M. until 12:30 and from 2:30 until 4:00 P.M.

Get in line.

Physical Examinations
All Freshmen girls are required to have a physical examination before entering any of the gymnasium classes.

Each girl will be scheduled for a definite period during which she must report at the gymnasium office for her physical examination.

Watch the locker keyboard for notices of these periods.

The Birthday of "News"

The first Summer Session of the College, which was held from July 2 to August 11, 1917, was a distinct success. Announcement of the session was not made until about the first of May, but the registration in many of the courses was quite as large as could be permitted.

In all 250 students were enrolled, the registration in English being particularly heavy.

The College authorities hope to widen the offerings for the next summer session and to make earlier announcement of the courses. It is probable that graduate credit will be given in certain courses next summer. College students will be admitted to certain courses, but the summer session will be devoted primarily to the needs of teachers in service.

Our Honor Roll

There is an honor roll in this paper, on which are the names of those students from the College who have dedicated their lives to the service of their country. Are we going to do the same?

Most of us feel that we cannot go on living our plain, common, everyday lives while those we love are "somewhere in France." We feel that we must suspend our usual labors, give up our little happinesses, and do something heroic—as they are doing over there. But there are different kinds of heroism, and ours must be another kind.

THE BIRTHDAY OF "NEWS"
WEDDING BELLS FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS

Dan Cupid has brought about almost as many changes in our midst as has Mars.

On June 9, Prof. John A. Mahar, instructor of French and Philosophy, married Miss Anna May of East Greenwich. The ceremony was performed at St. John's parochial residence, Reusche, Prof. and Mrs. Mahar later left for New York.

On July 27, the wedding of Miss Edith E. Rose '17, and Dr. George Macdonald Connell took place at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Wilber Rose, in South. Miss Edith Rose '17, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Miss Helen Rosebrook '17 played the wedding march. Mrs. Williams will continue as instructor of English at the Veterinary College. Miss Betty Conwell received her B.A. degree from Princeton in 1915; his M.A. in 1916 and his Ph.D. in 1918.

The third member of our Faculty for whom wedding bells have rung is William G. Kennedy, instructor in Chemistry, who married Miss Jennie Davis '14, on August 25. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's aunt in Loveville by the Rev. Dr. John Clark of Round Rake. Miss Florence Burt, who was married last June.

FORMER MEMBER OF THE FACULTY DEAD

Dr. Hamilton graduated in 1879. She taught at Rome for a while and then a few years later she accepted a position here as instructor in physiology. In 1900 she left to present the first course, and for the past five years she was the head of the department, credits her with doing a splendid piece of work. Her death was caused by pernicious anemia. The body was cremated and the ashes were buried at Pittsfield, N. Y.

The only way we have of judging your ability and expected to write articles this year. Are you going to receive the publications of the State College News and " The Echo " this year.

That everybody is going to receive the publications of the State College News and " The Echo " this year.

DO YOU KNOW?

THAT the college looks forward to the registration up to date. Will there be a smaller attendance this year at College?

THAT practice teaching starts next week at Muhlenberg High School opens Sept. 25.

Promethean.

Prometheus is the one literary society of State College. Membership in it is open to all students who have been recommended by two members of the society and elected by a majority vote. The society aims to promote literary and social culture in the college by awakening interest in music, literature, debating and dramatics. At the regular meetings unusually fine programs are presented.

Chemistry Club.

Chemistry Club has continued to grow since its establishment last year. People of the strongest organizations in college. It develops an interest in the science of chemistry by having regular discussions and lectures on the old and new theories in chemistry. The club during the year makes many expeditions to local concerns where chemistry is applied.

Language Clubs.

Spanish.

In the fall of 1915, as a result of the introduction into the college curriculum of the study of Spanish, the Spanish Club or El Circulo Castellano, to use its proper name, was organized.

The aim of the club is to encourage and aid its members in the attainment of high scholarship in Spanish and to further the study of the language.

Professor Stinard has contributed largely to the success of the club by his helpful suggestions, and his interest in the programs of the regular meetings.

French.

The French Club is comparatively new here, having been organized in March of 1917. The purpose of organization was to give the French students of State College a fluent speaking knowledge of the language, and to give them information about the life and customs as well as the country of the French people. It received the hearty cooperation of Dr. Ward and Prof. Simonin and much was accomplished.

Sororities and Fraternities.

At State College there are at present six sororities: Kappa Delta, Eta Phi, Kappa Xi, Psi Gamma, Delta Omega, and Alpha Epsilon Phi.

There are two fraternities: Kappa Delta Phi and Sigma Xi.
