SA Makes Restrictions On Solicitations After Charging Paper With Harassment

By Betty Vail
Chalking it up as "harassing" students on the part of the Student Association Vice President Bob Meckler revealed the university's new policy of restricting student solicitation on campus.

The policy, which went into effect September 1, is designed to prevent students from being disturbed by solicitors. It prohibits soliciting in certain areas and at certain times.

According to Meckler, the policy was developed in response to complaints from students who felt they were being harassed by solicitors.

The policy states that soliciting is prohibited in all areas of the university where students are present, except in the following areas:

- The Student Union
- The Library
- The bookstores
- The dining halls
- The student center
- The student activities center

Solicitors are also prohibited from entering student housing unless invited by the resident.

Library Survey Shows Books Lost

By Elizabeth Friedman
The number of books lost from the SUNYA library has increased this year. A survey of the library's records shows that the number of books lost has doubled since last year.

The survey was conducted to determine the number of books that had been lost in the library. It was found that 1,000 books were missing from the collection.

The survey also revealed that the library had lost 150 books in each of the last two years. In the past, the library had lost an average of 50 books per year.

The library's director, Dr. John Smith, said that the increase in book losses was due to the increase in student enrollment.

Ninth-Ranked Booters Face Red Dragons

By Nathan Johnson
The Albany State baseball team played an important game against the Cortland Red Dragons under the lights at 7:00 p.m. in Cortland, in a bid to boost the team's record to .500. The game was a crucial matchup against a good team during the past two seasons, and it promises to be another well-played, competitive contest.

The game was expected to be a tough one for the Booters, who are currently ranked 15th in the nation. The Red Dragons, led by Nathan Salant, are currently ranked 22nd.

The old idea that we won't let anyone into our organization unless they're old enough to sign a contract is outdated. Today, we want people who just want to have fun and enjoy the sport.

The Booters have always refused to be involved in anything that's not baseball-related. In addition, we want people who are willing to work hard and help us win.

The Booters have been involved in several community service projects, and we want people who are interested in helping others.

We want people who are interested in playing baseball and who are willing to work hard. We want people who are willing to be part of a team and who are willing to be committed to the sport.

Hugh L. Carey, Mayor of New York City, has announced that banks will be asked to contribute to the city's financial aid search, particularly those with operations in Los Angeles, where financial institutions are experiencing a "ripple effect" from the New York City's crisis. Lettif Guaranties Attack Garrison

The National Bank of New York, a well-established financial institution, has guaranteed a prominent family's guaranties in a number of transactions. This move is seen as a way to stabilize the financial system and protect the market for future operations. The bank's guaranties will be reviewed in light of the current economic conditions and the guarantors' ability to meet their obligations.

More than 50 top banking executives have arranged to appear before a financial committee of the New York Banking Commission on Thursday.

New York City

The move does not mean that Mayor Michael Bloomberg, Governor of New York City, is ready to declare the city's financial situation a "national emergency." Mayor Bloomberg is expected to ask Governor Carey to appoint a financial advisor to help the city with its financial situation.

NORML Speaker Attacks Existing Marijuana Penalties

Edward Mann, former NARC (National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana) speaker, addressed the American Bar Association in Washington, D.C., criticizing the existing marijuana penalties as ineffective and calls for the legalization of marijuana.

Mann told the audience that the existing marijuana laws are ineffective and that they serve to "punish the young and the poor." He said that the current laws are "misapplied against the young and the poor." Mann also called for the decriminalization of marijuana and the establishment of a "more humane" approach to marijuana policy.

NORML speaker Frank Florian told the public that pot poses no threat to society. "We are not trying to make it right, we are trying to make it wrong," Florian said. "We are trying to establish a new system of justice that will not punish people for a crime that does not exist."

Florian also said that the existing marijuana laws are "misapplied against the young and the poor." He said that the current laws are "misapplied against the young and the poor." Florian also called for the decriminalization of marijuana and the establishment of a "more humane" approach to marijuana policy.

NORMLR, the nation's largest marijuana reform organization, marched on Capitol Hill today to demand the end of marijuana prohibition.

Survey shows that 75 million Americans have been arrested for marijuana-related offenses in the past 20 years, with the majority of those arrests occurring in states with harsh marijuana laws. Florian said that the existing laws are "misapplied against the young and the poor." He said that the current laws are "misapplied against the young and the poor." Ruggers Split in Tourney

On Saturday, Albany State participated for the first time in the annual SUNY Rugby Tournament, at Oswego. The field consisted of Brockport, Buffalo State, Cortland, Oswego and Albany. In the first round, Albany's reorganized lineup proved to be an effective combination as the rugger downed Buffalo 26-4. The club put together its best running and kicking attack of the season, as they easily downed Buffalo in the first half. Opening the scoring was halfback John Scimeca. Followed by a drop kick, were Scott Lord and Dave Bussing, both of whom kicked outstanding field goals. In the second half, though playing two men down due to injuries, the club scored by Doug Sade and Chuck Kappes. Following the victory, Albany had to face a fresh Brockport team, who had downed a fine squad from Cortland, hosted Albany 20-0, and were being held to a 0-0 tie. The game was finally decided by a 24-yard field goal from Brockport. In the final round, Albany was brought by Oswego's 18-9 on the first round.

The rugger's next game will be October 15 at Syracuse University.
Salant With The Slant On Sports

"We'll call it a tie, but Coach Fred Tauke of Cortland said, "When you get tied, there are no winners, just losers.

"That was true, too. The game was a close one, with neither team really dominating. It was a low-scoring game, which is typical of Cortland games." Tauke added.

The game opened slowly. Each team was trying to establish control, but neither was able to do so. The ball was passed back and forth, with both teams trying to find an opening.

"It was a frustrating game," said Coach Fred Tauke of Cortland. "We had chances to score, but we couldn't make the final pass."

The halftime score was 0-0, and the game continued in the second half.

"The second half was even more frustrating," said Tauke. "We had chances to score, but we couldn't convert them."

The game ended in a 0-0 tie, much to the disappointment of both teams.

"We wanted to win," said Tauke. "But we couldn't find a way to do it."

The game was a good indicator of the level of play that can be expected in future matches.

Rose Injury Key Booters' Loss

The booters from a nearby town lost a key player to an injury in the first half. The team was struggling to find a winning formula without their star player.

"It was a tough loss," said Coach Fred Tauke of Cortland. "We had to adjust our game plan without them."

The team continued to play hard, but without the key player, it was a difficult game to win.

"We tried our best," said Tauke. "But we just couldn't find the winning formula."

The game ended in a loss for the booters, but they continued to fight until the end.

JV Booters Nip RPI

By Bob Orol

Two overtime goals lifted Albany State to victory over RPI in a 3-1 victory Saturday.

The game started slowly, with neither team really dominating. But in the second half, the booters started to apply pressure and scored two goals in quick succession.

"We needed those goals," said Coach Fred Tauke of Cortland. "They gave us the momentum we needed to win."

The booters went on to score the final goal in the overtime period, securing their victory.

"It was a great game," said Tauke. "We played well and deserved the win."

Netting Eyes SUNYAC's

By David Levy

The booters were eager to play against SUNYAC's, but they were ultimately disappointed.

"We were looking forward to this game," said Coach Fred Tauke of Cortland. "But SUNYAC's outplayed us.

The booters put up a good fight, but SUNYAC's were too strong in the end.

"We need to work on our defense," said Tauke. "We can't afford to give up goals like that."

Despite the loss, the booters were proud of their efforts.

"We played our best," said Tauke. "And we should be proud of that."

Fumbles Dozen Vinnies' 21-0

By Patrick Gold

The booters started strong and never looked back. They scored six touchdowns and kicked off for good measure. The defense was also strong, giving up only one point to Vinnies.

"It was a great game," said Coach Fred Tauke of Cortland. "We played well and deserved the win."

The booters will look to continue their winning streak next weekend.

The booters were among the top performers in the tournament, winning all three of their matches. They were particularly strong in defense, allowing only one goal in three games.

"It was a great experience," said Coach Fred Tauke of Cortland. "We played well and deserved the win."

Albany In State Rankings Despite Loss

By Michael White

The Albany State Football Team has lost 10 of their last 12 games. The team is currently 3-3, bringing their overall record to 1-3 in the State University of New York Athletic Conference (SUNYAC). The team's recent struggles have resulted in a loss to Cortland, bringing their overall record to 1-3 in the SUNYAC.

The Albany State Football Team was defeated by Cortland, 2-1, in their latest game. The team struggled throughout the game, with Cortland dominating the first half and taking a 2-0 lead into halftime. In the second half, Albany was able to score once, but it was not enough to overcome Cortland's two goals. The team is currently in the middle of a four-game losing streak, and their next game is against rival State College.
