Sitting in the Sun

State College News, in the persons of Stanislaw Baranowski, Bertha Morgan, and June Porter.

SUB Sponsors Dawn Dance

Dawn Dance will be held in Lower Draper with a variety of things from dawn until after the sun is up. All of the fun is in the sun. Anyone who has never been to a sun dance should make an effort to attend. Also, the students from the Bucknellian—mind and besides, "What me worry?"

Answer: Jayne Mansfield—I like her..." the editors will lie followed by the opinions of the members in the various colleges. There will be a contest to see who can predict the outcome best.

Some students at Albion State College for Teachers are going to present the "Twenties" style of living for life on the Page Hall stage, the Broadway production of "The Boyfriend." A three-act musical comedy which had an extended run in the Avenue, brings to life again the atmosphere and the epoch which were a part of the period. It will have Miriam and back to their youth and show James and Blitl that Elvis Presley and his Rock and Roll Union were not always the principal ingredients in the world's make-up. Colin Going Up

The action of the play takes place in and around a girls' preparatory school in the French Quarter. The setting and costumes suitably reproduce the period, and the curtain goes up. Even with its ups and downs, the direction of the play is excellent. The person who has to have a male and the ending has to be a happy ending.

Cheer(s) For Stoodnez Ken It?
The Saturday pre-dawn convention of Stoodnez Ken It? at March, as held in Joe’s Confederation Shop (as opposed to the old meeting place of Olenberg’s) for obvious reasons.

The question of government revival was thrown out for discussion by President Joe Smokes. All agreed that the institution had gained in strength and that it was time to celebrate.

As for the Stoodnez Ken It?, it was decided that the next convention should be held in the spring, but that the current one should be well attended.

What, Me Cut?

This week a new fight in Progressive education was reached at State with the passage of an administrative ruling that only those who have an average below 2.0 could have unlimited cuts. This is the first concrete step taken by the administration to totally reject the old custom of unlimited cuts. The new rule is a workable and feasible one since those on probation can finally get the attention they deserve.

The administration recognized the fact. The “clods” (as Dean Plenferd called those on Dean’s List) must go to classes at least once a week. The “grinds” (those with averages above 2.0) will be a workable and feasible one since those on probation can finally get the attention they deserve.

The story’s good, the music’s great, come on Statesmen, gotta go to Greatest Ever State Fair of 1958.

The KB men have got a show, here’s one show that’ll really rate. Be Frisky. Try MYSKY.

Phantom’s farewell to talent—Is this your trouble, bubble? Is this your trouble, bubble? Do you fancy yourself a Detective? Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes.

What’s the weather like today? Come-a-on to State Fair at the Cafeteria rail. It’ll be delish, so come without fail.

Come to BRU’S booth, get your degree, Sam, Sam, the marryin’ man, what a sight! Try the MUSIC COUNCIL.

The old custom of unlimited cuts was taken away from those on Dean’s List, and those having averages above 2.0 must go to classes at least once a week. The administration felt that anyone anyway and the “grinds” (those with averages above 2.0) ing that only those who have an average below 2.0 could go to classes.

DORRILL MADISON’S Joint at of State Fair. Stop and see who’s gathered there. The scene will be gay and lively when—The 90s are brought to life again.

The Pres hasn’t adopted them yet (square baskets, that is) but you can see them at the UNION HEIGHTS Booth.

This year the Parents’ Day Committee has spent endless hours in trying to arrange a program that will give you an overall view of our college life. You will have an opportunity to meet the faculty administrators and administrators, as well as other students. The dormitories and group houses are open for your inspection. Classes are being conducted for the benefit of your sons and daughters. You’ll have a chance to take part in one of the oldest collegiate traditions—a coffee hour! This evening, our Parents’ Day Program will close with the presentation of ‘The Keychain’.

The Saturday pre-dawn convention of Stoodnez Ken It? was moved, so the issue was floored for one month. This is the first concrete example we have had of Ken It? even considering the question. Keep up the good work!

To Greatest Ever State Fair of 1958.

For the College, I am happy to extend to you a warm welcome to the Parents’ Day of 1958. The activities of the day have been designed and developed by the students of the College, in an effort to give you, and your parents, some sense of what the College is all about.

It is entirely appropriate that your sons and daughters should arrange this day for you. To send a son or daughter to college in these days means, for almost any family, real effort and sacrifice. The students who are here want you to share their experience of college; they want you to know what you are giving them.

To convey a sense of what it means to go to college is difficult indeed. In the two hours you are here, you may get a sense of the place and the people, and a glimpse of the program—a class or two, a glimpse of the musical or dramatic or social activities of the College. To get a sense of the intellectual life of the College is more difficult—indeed, it evokes some undergraduates whose stay here is almost what longer than yours. And most difficult to convey is the quiet and sense of purpose that motivates the College and its students.

All these and more are here for you to see and share. You have been to college, after all. It is our job to try to make your visit a memorable one.

We are proud of our institution of higher learning and we hope that when you leave, you will feel this pride, for you are an important part of Allbat State College for Teachers.

John Tager,

President of Student Association
