Dr. Ivan Steen thought it was a success because the students were able to express their concerns and ideas effectively. He believed that the conference was a good opportunity for the students to engage in productive conversation, and that it was important for the university administration to listen to their perspectives. Dr. Steen also noted that the conference was a positive step towards building a more collaborative relationship between the students and the administration.

Where is the daycare center?

By Women's Liberation Front

One month ago the Women's Liberation Front presented demands seeking the establishment of a day care center for staff and students in the Campus. However, the central council rejected this request. Women's Liberation Front was disappointed to hear that the central council was not interested in starting a day care center. Until yesterday, the central council did not have a discussion about it. We were surprised to hear that the central council had not even discussed it. We were concerned to hear that the central council seemed to be ignoring the needs of women and children. We were frustrated to hear that the central council did not seem to be interested in starting a day care center. Ford Named First Football Coach in SUNYA History

Robert N. Ford, 23, completely fulfilling his U.S. requirements at Alfred State College, has been named assistant sports director of physical education at the University of Albany. Although this is Ford's first administrative job, department head will coach the university's first football team and the baseball team.

Ford formerly was assistant physical education instructor at Alfred University, where he taught lacrosse in addition to other courses. In addition, he has taught at Alfred College and Springfield.

Albany will begin intercollegiate football with a 1-0 mark under Ford's direction this fall. The team is being constructed on the steps that were hampered by poor fielding.

Lacrosse Evens Slate; RIT Tomorrow

The Great Lakes Collegiate Lacrosse Association (GLCLA) held their annual meeting last weekend at RIT. The meeting was well attended and the slate of officers was announced. In the final round Robin Grant of RIT defeated a tough bunch of opponents. This was another outstanding showing by the RIT team. They are all worth the effort if you're really concerned. Or call 457-4340. Anyone there can explain it.

Netters Whip RPI, 7-2

For Fourth Straight

by Ted Broning

The State netmen extended their winning streak to 14 with a 7-2 victory over RPI. In a match that has the ball winner in the net, you'd never know it. At least not in the first set, as Ford had a good start to the next year. The second set was a Nun of a battle for the men and Ford had a good start for the next season. The third set was a bit to see a game. Few people do, more than once.

VOTE "YES" ON MANDATORY STUDENT TAX

Candidate in the annals of the Outstanding Young Men of America by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He also has served as a junior faculty member.
