Socialist Harrington criticizes U.S. policies

By Bonnie Jollay

Although Chairman of the Democratic Council of America Bill Hartington called for a "modest" monetary restraint program in his speech at the New York State Senate on October 18, his recommendations for the 1983 budget were much more expansive.

While the President called for a $2.5 billion decrease in government spending, Hartington proposed a $2.5 billion increase. He also called for a permanent devaluation of the dollar in order to stimulate the economy.

"I believe that we need a more activist approach to the economy," said Hartington. "The current policies are simply not working. We need to do more to stimulate the economy."
Cocaine confiscated

(Albany, Ga.) Federal and state agents acting a week after a cocaine-touted small aircraft crashed in an Atlanta airport and killed seven men in the crash have seized a 1,000-pound shipment of cocaine, federal authorities said.

The plane, which was chartered by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, crashed outside Atlanta's International Airport on Oct. 12. The cocaine had been stored in Colorado, officials said.

ukes were later removed from the aircraft and an investigation was underway, authorities said.

Phony N.Y. Times printed

(Albany, N.Y.) The New York Times said Monday it has ordered a review after finding that the paper had been printed on the wrong day.

The Times said it found that the newspaper was printed in Chicago and delivered to subscribers in the New York area on Monday morning.

The Times said it has no plans to reprint the newspaper.

There's no way to use the events where tickets are in high demand as a basis for estimating when the capacity of the sport's stadiums should be expanded. It's contradictory to say the least. SUNY-Cornell's office of student activities and the Cornell student government are at odds over whether to charge students, non-students, or both for the right to attend events. SUNY-Cornell is the only one to charge students.

The budget proposal seeks SUNY-Cornell and the N.Y. state budget to increase the funding for music, dance, and drama departments. The S.A.E., which has a reputation for attracting students from other universities, has reported that the number of students attending music, dance, and drama classes is increasing. However, the S.A.E. is not the only one to charge students for the right to attend events. SUNY-Cornell is the only one to charge students.

AMIA crowns new softball champs

By Barry Gifford

The All-American wrestlers were named through a vote against the field. TheDansex-championed by the Danes in the tournament, the Danes took on four other teams, including American and Harvard. The Danes won the first game against American, 7-3. They then went on to beat Harvard, 6-0, and Yale, 5-2. In the final game, the Danes defeated the All-Americans, 4-3. The Danes were led by Captain Tim Chase, who scored two goals and an assist. Captain Chase was honored as the Most Valuable Player for his performance. The Danes' win against the All-Americans was a huge accomplishment for the team. The Danes are now looking forward to their next game against the Yale Bulldogs.

Rival Cadets teach Danes tough lesson, 21-7

By Mark Harbom

Students at SUNY Albany versus SUNY Cortland for the 14th time Saturday afternoon in Davis Field were, for all intents and purposes, evenly-matched. Although the Danes lost to Cortland immediately after the season opener, the Danes beat Albany 4-4 defense. Every player on the field was in on the action. The Danes were lucky to win.

The Cadets took the last time the two teams met in early September and scored a 21-7 victory in a battle of equals. The Cadets were favored to win, and with the game on the line, they did not let the Danes down. The Cadets scored three touchdowns and led 21-0 at halftime. The Danes were down 27-0 at halftime, but they never gave up. The Danes were unable to generate much offense and could not score a touchdown in the second half.
