Kangaroos And Kabinet...
When the cabinet met with the administration this week, several points were brought up that are worthy of repetition.

One is the fact that various student committees go in and out of the administration on new plans, that their attitude is usually a defensive one. They expect any constructive advice from the administration. Their assumed attitude is usually a more immature one! Ringe, summed it up nicely when he said that the editorial board meetings. Fortunately, the News doesn't have the complaints about the News. It seems that the administration will discuss these important items and pass their recommendations meet with Senate Committee who dealt with the Rivalry Bill in the first place.
