A flavor that neither possesses alone

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobaccos—Xanth and Cavalla in Greece; Samos and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos, originally from the United States, and British tobaccos, to create the special flavor of Chesterfield—nicely balanced and mild, but not a imitation of any other brand.

MOVING-UP DAY WILL BE FRIDAY

Ceremonies Will Begin at 8:30; Feature Will Be Tapping of New Meyikan

The annual Moving-Up Day ceremonies will begin at 8:30 o'clock next Friday morning, with the senior class leading the procession of classes across the campus from the front door of Draper hall to the auditorium of Page hall, where the exercises will be conducted. Raymond Harris, '33, will be grand marshal.

In order to begin the ceremonies at time scheduled, each class must assemble at their respective positions an hour before the time shown below, as they have been assigned for marching: seniors, Romance of Draper hall; juniors, first floor of North hall, facing east; sophomores, interior of North hall, near the annex and facing the museum; and freshmen, lower corridor of Draper hall. Seniors who do not march with their classes will be admitted into the assembly until after the class speeches have been completed, Harris said.

The program will be as follows: speeches of the College Alumni, class speakers by Elizabeth Gordon, '33, the retiring president; '33 North hall, class speakers by Elizabeth Gordon, '33, the retiring president; and 1933 class speakers by Elizabeth Gordon, '33, the retiring president. Presentation of awards for extra-curricular accomplishment; installation of the cabinet for next year. Selection of officials for next year.

The members of the '93 class, now old men, will hold the line of remembrance from the front door of the museum until the members of the class of 1933 and freshmen classes. The line of march will extend to the front campus, where each class will form before materials.

Ivy Speaker

While the classes are in formation for the parade, the '93 class may be entertained by Frank Young and Ralph Dottridge, who will deliver the ivy talk as usual. The talk will be followed by the ivy song. Students are reminded to be in formation until after the ivy ceremony is over.

The classes in which the freshmen will lead the procession of classes will begin at 8:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The most important of these classes are the first through the sixth grades at Edmeston, home of the '33 class; and the first through the fifth grades at Stump Miles, home of the '34 class. The classes will be followed by the ivy song. Students are reminded to be in formation until the '35 class marches into the gymnasium.

Three Seniors Receive Positions During Visit

Three men seniors have received teaching positions during the past week, according to Professor John M. Sayles, principal of Milne High school and secretary of the placement bureau. William House will teach mathematics at Walden, District of New York; Leonard Mitchell will teach English in the second through sixth grades on West; and Marie Redmond will be in the Lombard, Illinois, high school and library department at Easton.

Several other classes favor the College campus in the way leading into the moving-up day ceremonies. The classes will be divided into the main lines of instruction.

Following the main procession will follow the first through the sixth grades at Edmeston, home of the 1933 class; and the first through the fifth grades at Stump Miles, home of the 1934 class. The classes will be followed by the ivy song. Students are reminded to be in formation until the line of march reaches the gymnasium.
