WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes of winning Democratic Jimmy Carter in the November election were dimming today as President Ford to devote more time, energy and money in some states that they pass as their rivals.

“Sometimes I don’t see more than three or four,” said a Franklin, “but if you give them a chance, they’ll turn out in droves for you.”

“I would like to see them with what they have been doing the last few years,” said a Carter aide, who added that he did not expect them in other states where they need to do well.

The states of the South seem to be an especially favorable one for Ford. Campaign polls show that he could win 15 to 20 percent of the vote in the region. The President’s most eloquent campaign foray so far was a southern swing which included a mammoth road show under the Mississippi, a motorcade along the Gulf coast and a major speech in Miami.

Ford said Florida party officials did not expect a serious challenge from Carter, simply more a “battle of education.”

Ford pledged obedience to the party chairman, the post that he now occupies, and that the official Hsinhua news agency, which also includes the Philippines, is ahead.

But the official Hsinhua news agency, which also includes the Philippines, is ahead.

Ford said he expects to give much more time, energy and money in some areas, but Carter remains a formidable opponent.

Prostitution Expose Puts Editor Out Of Print

By Tom Smith

Ned Tolbert is currently facing charges of libel and moral turpitude from the University of the Pacific, a small school in Stockton, California. What could he be doing to cause such a reaction at this otherwise quiet university?

Well, last spring, a couple weeks before he became editor of the Pacifician, Tolbert decided to run a story that uncovered a campus scandal involving three administrators. The three administrators had been accused of running a prostitution ring, singly operated by several women who rented their private rooms to men who paid for their services.

Tolbert, who received a tip from a student who was two confirmed sources, would verify the accusations. The student told him that the school had been notified by the New York Times about the prostitution ring on campus.

Tolbert went to the administration that his status at the school was untenably insecure. The story was reported to student activities fee and wear glasses or contact lenses, we would like you to comply with budget regulations. The story shouldn't have been printed, Tolbert explained. "He said that our newspaper doesn't have those kind of articles." Another student explained that the student government of the university was not aware of the story's publication until after the university had been notified by the New York Times.

Placements Tips

If you are a senior this year, one of the options you might be considering is a graduate school. It is an exciting time because you are one step closer to graduation. However, if you plan to attend graduate school, there are several important things you should keep in mind to maximize your chances of success.

1. Research Graduate Programs: Make sure you have a clear understanding of the requirements and expectations for the graduate programs you are interested in. This will help you determine if they are a good fit for you and your career goals.

2. Prepare Your Application: Make sure you have all the necessary documents and information ready to submit your application. This includes transcripts, letters of recommendation, and any required tests.

3. Network: Reach out to alumni and professionals in your field to learn more about their experiences and to gain valuable insights.

October 18 New York University, 6:00 pm

November 5 Syracuse University, School of Management, 6:30 pm

November 6 University of Rochester, 6:00 pm

If you decide to apply to a graduate program, the application process can be quite stressful. You will need to prepare thoroughly, meet all the deadlines, and submit your application by the specified date.

It is also important to note that the application process is competitive, especially for top schools. To increase your chances of acceptance, it is recommended that you submit your application at least a year in advance of the start date of the program.

Should you choose to pursue graduate school, it is important to have a clear understanding of the benefits and responsibilities associated with attending graduate school. This will help you make an informed decision about whether or not it is the right choice for you.

Letters of Reference

If you are considering applying to graduate school, you will need to obtain letters of recommendation from professors or professionals who are familiar with your work. These letters can significantly impact your application and help you stand out among other applicants.

Letters of recommendation should be submitted online through the electronic submission system, either by the recommender or directly by you. Make sure to follow the specific instructions for each program you are applying to.

If you have any questions or concerns about the graduate school application process, please don't hesitate to reach out to your academic advisor or the admissions office for guidance.

Career Services

The Career Services Office is here to help you navigate the graduate school application process. We are available to answer your questions and provide guidance throughout the process. Please make sure to visit our office or reach out to us via email at career@ivy-leak.edu.

Good luck with your graduate school applications!

BOGART ON OVER

BROOKLYN, N.Y. — In the World Series, the Dodgers faced off against the Yankees, with the Dodgers winning 3-2 in six games. The series was marked by an extraordinary performance from Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher Sandy Koufax. Koufax dominated the Yankees, striking out 18 batters in four games. His performances earned him four World Series MVP awards and solidified his legacy as one of the greatest pitchers in baseball history.

The Dodgers' victory in the World Series was considered by many to be one of the most significant moments in baseball history. The series was closely contested, with the Yankees and Dodgers splitting the first three games. However, Koufax's统治 in Game 4 was enough to give the Dodgers a 3-2 lead in the series, and they held on to win the final two games.

The World Series victory was significant for the Dodgers, who had not won a championship since 1955. The victory also marked a turning point in baseball, as it was the first time a team from the National League had defeated the American League in the World Series.

The Dodgers' World Series triumph was achieved through a combination of strong pitching, solid hitting, and exceptional defense. Koufax's performances were particularly impressive, as he allowed only 12 hits in 24 innings pitched, while striking out 30 batters and walking only four. His dominance earned him MVP honors for the series, and he was later inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame.
The Albany State soccer team had the chance to win its fourth straight SUNYAC championship, but it was Binghamton who walked on the field to take the number two doubles title.

Paul Feldman took the number three singles title, but it was Binghamton's Mark Peters who defeated him to win the number two doubles title. The Albany State doubles team of Leyton and Vansommer outlasted Denny and Ackerman in a two hour, 54 minute match. The two teams had a tense match, but in the end, Binghamton took the number two doubles title.

The umpire, in a fit of anger, said that he would have to disqualify the match. However, the Albany State doubles team of Leyton and Vansommer remained composed and continued to play the match. In the end, they were victorious, and Binghamton took the number two doubles title.

The match was a tense and exciting one, and the spectators were on the edge of their seats. The match lasted for over two hours, and the spectators were on the edge of their seats. In the end, Binghamton was victorious, and the spectators were thrilled to see their team win the championship.
