A Message From Whitman

"Listen America—what do you think of me?"

Do you think a great cityendum?
Or a burning manufacturing state? or a pure-worked constitution? Or of any church-church of engineering, fortis, severities?

Away! These are not to be considered for themselves.

"Long, long America, travelling roads and peaceful you haven't been put up by us, and prosperously only. But now, oh now, to turn from crisis of upheaval, advancing, crowding with those that are not wanting, and rolling on.

And so to reassure and to show the world what you children are really up to! Long over a long, hateful, empty, non-functioning, non-existing, non-marked, non-dead, non-living, non-talking, non-imposing, non-creating.

For the pride I have of each at last is the world.

"I seem to begin to see the meaning of things; it is not the earth, it is not America that is great. It is not a god, it is not the earth, it is You. Understand all, individuals.

I am nothing in God, and I am nothing in man.

The only government is that which makes friends of individuals.
The whole theory of the sublime is directed invisibly to one single individual —

"I see that this America is only you."

Its power, weakness, insignificance are you and I.

Its crimes, bow, mistakes, delusions are you and I.

Its Congress is you and me, the officers, articles, articles of you and me, and in the officers of you and me. The presidents, the senators, the representatives, are you and I.

The president, the senator, is you and I."

"This is what I have learnt from America— this is the amount, and I know it all."

"When we put on our immortal mask, we feel the power of our own thought."

"This is the dance, the dance of Thought, electrical, agricultural."

Our Safety, invention, power, we are in this! This is the dance and melody in this! Our freedom is in this! Our very lives are in this!"

"Thou Union holding all, facing, working, winning all, With Victory thy left, and at thy right hand, Love, Then, ever than, I sing!"

——Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass."

Sorority Sister Speaks

Communication

To the Editor:

In response to the recent letters discussing the role and influence of sororities in collegiate life, I would like to present my perspective as a current sorority member.

Sororities are an integral part of the collegiate experience for many students, offering a sense of community, support, and personalized academic and professional development opportunities. These organizations often provide resources and networking opportunities that are valuable in navigating college life.

While there may be criticism of sororities, such as concerns about their cost or potential exclusionary practices, it is important to recognize that these organizations are adapting and evolving to meet the needs of their members.

As a sorority member, I have found the experience to be quite positive. Through sororities, I have been able to connect with like-minded individuals, build lasting friendships, and develop skills that are beneficial both personally and professionally.

Furthermore, sororities often serve as a platform for social and philanthropic activities, allowing members to make a meaningful impact on their communities.

In conclusion, I believe that sororities should be considered as a valuable aspect of collegiate life. While there may be challenges and criticisms, it is crucial to acknowledge the positive contributions that sororities make to the college experience for many students.

Sincerely,

"To get back to Chan ey and our school, it's necessary that we be prepared to make the best impression when we finally meet after our tedious wait. The first order of business is to select a suitable dress, one that is in harmony with our personal style and the occasion.

Generally, dresses should be made of lightweight and comfortable materials, such as chiffon, tulle, or taffeta. Choose a style that flatters your figure and enhances your natural features. Consider the color, as well, to complement your skin tone and hair color.

Accessories are equally important. Choose a pair of high-heeled shoes that are comfortable and complement the dress. Add a matching clutch or handbag, and don't forget to accessorize with earrings, bracelets, and a necklace.

The next step is to arrange for hair and makeup. This is not something to be left to chance. Try to find a stylist who is experienced in prom hair and makeup. They will be able to create a look that is both glamorous and suitable for the occasion.

Finally, don't forget to practice your social skills. It's important to be confident and comfortable in your own skin. Remember, the night is about enjoying yourself and creating lasting memories. Have fun, and good luck!"

"Listen America—what do you think of me? Do you think I am a great or a little endorser? Are you a manufacturing state or a prosperous constitution? Are you a chief of engineers? What do you say? America!"

It is not that I am great or to be great, it is you. For the prize I see at issue at last is the world. Long yet your road, fateful flag—long yet but now, ah now, to learn from crisis of the moment."

"To the Editor:

Dear Sir,

I have been asked by a friend to write a letter to the editor of the State College News. I appreciate the opportunity to express my thoughts on the topic of sorority membership.

I truly believe that sororities are a positive aspect of college life. They provide a supportive environment and a sense of community for their members.

Yours truly,

War Work With a Future

UNITED WE STAND

As much as the nation needs soldiers in the field, it needs the behind-the-scenes workers who keep the front lines supplied with the necessary resources. The only difference is that the soldiers are the ones with guns, while the workers are the ones with tools.

Thee, Thee, Thee!

With Victory they go, and with the whole team, they return.

I swear not only to fight, but to live. Underneath the earth, without knowing it, the earth is preparing for its harvest. The conditions of the working woman in the war-torn world will not cease with victory. However, we must be ready to protect our mothers and sisters in the event of a new war.

Do you think we are finished? Or is there more to be done? Or will this be the end of the road? And where do we go from here?

"Long, too long, very long."

It is not the end. It is a new beginning. And the future looks bright.

I am here, and I am in the field.

"We are..."

We are united, and we are strong. We are the nurses of the world, and we will not be defeated.

"Well, yes, great...

It is not the end. It is a new beginning. We are united, and we are strong.

Syracuse University's Farm Boys Section, Charles, Andrew and William, all members of different fraternities, decided to have a farm party for their friends and a few guests. They were aware of the fact that it was not to be expected to find 300 Syracuse students in this corner of the world. They came dressed in dungarees, hunting clothes, sweaters and various other clothing and brought along their favorite brand of tobacco, the Virginian, and all the others, along with today's Coca-Cola and ice cream.
