DR. BRUBACHER TO PRESHIDE AT DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS' MEETING

President Brubacher will deliver the principal address at the annual meeting of New York State district school superintendents on April 11 at Chancellor's hall, State Education building.

900,000 DOLLAR APPROPRIATION TO BE GIVEN TO THE COLLEGE BUILDING FUND

State Legislature Expected To Pass On Building Fund

An appropriation of $900,000 is to be included in the general appropriation bill of the state for the erection of a new addition to State College. Superintendent William T. Byrne of Albany, chairman of the building committee, has assured President Brubacher.

Dr. Brubacher estimates that the cost of the building will be between $1,200,000 and $1,500,000. The building will be known as Milne hall.

A FRESHMAN'S WAIL

The freshman class has been informed on a number of occasions that it may have no spring dance. "It is a college tradition," they are told. We have noticed that in the past college traditions have been revised with very little difficulty. Also, the class of '27 is the largest that has yet graced State's halls, and therefore is leaving more with the college than has any previous class. Should not the class doing more for the college receive a little extra consideration?

To the Freshman Who Waits:

Would you be very happy if you could do everything in the world that you wanted to do; if you had everything just as you liked it, always? Would you be happy in a world of a very different sort, where there was nothing to look forward to, nothing to leave a bit better than you found it?

Would you really be happy here at College, if you could do just what you wanted to do just when you wanted to do it?

To those whose privilege it was to hear the lecture given by Mr. Lorado Taft at Chancellor's ball Tuesday evening, March 25, little need be said as to its real worth; to those who were not present we can only hope that you will not be prevented from getting a glimpse of the value and enjoyment of being given an opportunity to see something of the real life of a seator. Mr. Taft's first aim was to give an elementary knowledge of the human body and its relation to art. His next was to show by use of various models the manner of expression and the methods employed to produce it in the field of sculpture.

In the person of Mr. Taft was present not only the genius but a wonderful and congenial personality as well. He made an instant appeal to the entire audience not only to those interested in this phase of art but to all interested in the beautiful things of life. His various models were taken from life and presented in a manner which made the lecture more than the moulding of clay; it showed that Mr. Taft was heart and soul in his work and wished to impart to others a little of the real which he felt.

The Dramatic and Art Association deserve much credit for having secured such an artist as Mr. Taft to come before the students of the college and those interested in art to live them a deeper and truer understanding of that great art, sculpture.
EDMUND HALLEY
1658-1742
Son of a London soap-boiler who became Astronomer-Royal. At the age of 20 headed an expedition to chart the stars of the Southern hemisphere. Financed and handled the printing of Newton's immortal Principia.

The comet came back

The great comet that was seen by William of Normandy returned to our skies in 1910 on its eleventh visit since the Conquest. Astronomers knew when it would appear, and the exact spot in the sky where it would first be visible.

Edmund Halley's mathematical calculation of the great orbit of this 76-year visitor—his scientific proof that comets are part of our solar system—was a brilliant application of the then unpublished Principia of his friend Sir Isaac Newton.

The laws of motion that Newton and Halley proved to govern the movements of a comet are used by scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to determine the orbit of electrons in vacuum tubes.

As spectacular as a comet has been the world's electrical development. By continuous scientific research the General Electric Company has accelerated this development and has become a leader in the industry.

CLASSICAL CLUB HEARD
HUMOROUS TALE OF WOE
OF LATIN TEACHERS' FATE

"Bubbles, bubbles, who has troubles?" The Latin school ma'am, of course, as proved by Alice Sisson at a recent meeting of the classical club, held Wednesday, March 10. In a humorous article composed by Miss Sisson, the terrible struggles of a Latin school master of the past and a Latin school teacher of the present were amusingly depicted. Members of the Club laughed in the very face of such difficulties and lustily entered into the singing of Latin songs. An enjoyable half hour was passed by all in spite of the cloud of financial embarrassment which overhangs the association. It may yet pay its bill to the pedagogue board by means of the drive for dues and the cake sale held this week.

CHANGES IN NEW CATALOGUES

Reduction of the number of required hours in major subjects and a proportionate increase in the number of elective hours will be noticeable in the 1924-25 catalogues, it is announced by Dr. Brubacher. The catalogues will probably be ready for distribution in about a month.

The change in the system of required subjects for majors is based upon the practice in other colleges and universities, which has been steadily gaining in favor throughout the United States. That practice is to allow wider choice in the selection of courses in which a student is specializing. The selection will be based thereby more on the personal sensibilities of the student, than on the faculty.

The change to go into effect at State next September will also affect not to as great degree as majors. Notable reductions in the number of required subjects will be marked in the science departments, chiefly Physics and Chemistry.

Another feature of the new catalogues will be regarding in the master's requirement. Holders of bachelor's degrees from other institutions, who work for their master's degree at State College, will not be required to take as many courses in Education as heretofore, providing they have had the requirement for their bachelor's degree, similar to the requirement at State. This new system, Dr. Brubacher avers, will allow graduate students to pursue more courses in their special subject.
