The Student Federation opposes Loyalty Oath

The Student Federation, the students' representative body in the University, has issued a strongly worded proclamation in opposition to the proposed oath for freshmen in the University. The statement reads: "We, the students of the University of State, hereby declare our opposition to the proposed Loyalty Oath for freshmen. This oath is contrary to the principles of freedom of speech and expression. It is a violation of our basic rights as citizens of this country."

The statement goes on to say that the oath is a threat to the rights of self-expression and the right to dissent. It also states that the oath is a violation of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, which guarantees the right of free speech.

The statement concludes with a call for the University administration to rescind the proposed oath and to respect the students' right to freedom of speech and expression.

Notice
"Look Before You Leap"

There is a movement around campus at this time to start a sympathy picket of a local chain store in regard to its actions taken in the current lunch-counter segregation issue in the South.

This movement on our campus is being indicated by a group of individuals who obviously do not observe the old adage "look before you leap." Whether or not all the makers, or at least a substantial group of the people who have made this move, are aware of the implications of this action is debatable. This is aimed at the entire student body and we believe that a great deal of thought should be given to this problem of segregation.

We assume that these individuals have read the articles on the "sit-ins" that have appeared in the current press, and are aware of the implications of the actions taken by the students of the South. We are also aware that there is a great deal of attention-getting attempts to get the people to listen and believe the reports they are hearing.

"Sit-ins" have been occurring all over the South for the past few months, and we believe that this movement on our campus is a result of the efforts of the spin-doctors of the South. We also believe that they have succeeded in their attempt to stir up the emotions of the people on our campus.

Integration will never be an easy task. We feel that it will be a long and hard process, but we also feel that it will be worth the effort. We are aware that there are many who will never be able to accept the idea of integration, but we also feel that it is a necessary step in the advancement of society.

We feel that the majority of the people on our campus are aware of the implications of this action, and that they are willing to listen and believe the reports they are hearing. We also feel that they are willing to take the necessary steps to bring about a solution to this problem.
