For Blind People Only

by Ernest J. Ewens

On a warm summer day, I am sitting in the Student Press office, coffee in hand. As I listen to the sounds of the students walking by outside, I can’t help but think about the situation of blind people in the world. There seem to be so many obstacles that prevent blind people from living a normal life. It is important that we work towards creating a world that is无障碍的, where everyone, regardless of their sight status, can have equal opportunities and be treated with respect.

The same thing is true for people with disabilities who may have other types of impairments. We need to ensure that they have access to the same resources and opportunities as everyone else. This is not just a matter of fairness; it is a matter of respect for the dignity of all individuals.

A Living Wage

The Faculty Senate has been pushing for a living wage for years, but it seems like we have made very little progress. The argument that we are making is that a living wage is necessary for people to survive. Right now, many people are living in poverty, and it is time for us to demand better for them.

The University of New York at Albany student press (ASP) is the official student newspaper of the University of New York at Albany. It is published weekly during the academic year. The ASP covers a wide range of topics, including issues related to student life, campus news, and political and social issues.

Albany Reaction to Kent Memorial Service Called

by Martha Nathanson

The student leaders of Albany State called for a moment of silence in memory of the fallen Kent State University students. The students rallied in front of the student center and marched to the campus union, where a memorial service was held.

Arrests at Brockport

by Nina Oringer

Several black students and some white protesters have been arrested at Brockport State College in New York. The arrests were made after a protest against the arrest of a black student who had been charged with refusing to obey a police order.

Kent State 25: Moratorium Urged

by Stephanie Miller

The indictment of 30 members of the student body and faculty of Kent State University has sparked a nationwide moratorium on the Vietnam War. The students have demanded the end of the war and the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam.

God Wouldn’t Budge

by Harry Kinsey

Sometimes it feels like God won’t budge. But even when we feel like things aren’t changing, there is always hope. We need to keep working towards a better future, and we can never give up. It is important to remember that even when things seem impossible, there is always a way forward.

ALBANY STUDENT PRESS
Last week, the Theatre Department presented CAMINO REAL, this semester's major production, by Tennessee Williams. The show featured a cast of more than thirty actors and actresses.

CAMINO REAL was first performed on Broadway in 1953. As a play, it is critically inferior to Williams' previous work—namely, A STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE and THE GLASS MENAGERIE. Those were lightly structured, dynamic plays; CAMINO appears lax in comparison. It drags. Williams, in a fit of self-indulgence, allows his characters, especially in the last act (or block), to philosophize, where they should be winding things up. Allowing for the poetic, lyrical effect Williams was striving for it remains true that CAMINO tends to bore people.

To avoid this, director Joseph Balfior might have deleted some of the more turgid lines in the play. He did not. Many of the characters are allowed to prattle on endlessly; thus, all semblance of movement within the play is dropped. An ear for audience some might have helped the production.

In compensation, Balfior did a marvel of the parts he assigned. Richard Lanning, as Richardburke, as the poet, was brilliant. The bawdy, sanguine Gypsy, played by Marilyn Liebatt, was very well done. Gary Maggio, as Kilroy, the hero of CAMINO, did a decent job; yet, by no means was his breath-taking performance.

More along those lines was Robert Odonnell, who designed an imaginative, graceful, and most important, workable set. The lighting designer, Jerome Hartley, shone in some spots. Costumes were as they should have been. Choreography, however, was not as good as that of ORESTES; I hope Alcius Posnel's fountain of creativity will bloom again soon.

Occasionally, the Arts page will devote all of its space to the coverage of one story which it feels to be of special importance to the university community. This issue is devoted to Camino Real, which, as the first major production of the 1970-1971 season, is of interest to all. Your comments and suggestions are welcomed and are requested. Linda West

EXPRESSWAY PROTEST...

Boskenkill Valley

The Boskenkill Valley is a beautiful area of immense ecological importance. The Valley, which is only about 25 miles from the Albany area, is home to some of the most unique and endangered species found in New York State. The river that runs through the Valley is a direct thoroughfare between Albany and Schenectady. The valley has experienced extensive freeway revolts, but this is one of the first sizable expressions of protest in a semi-rural area.

The local citizens' groups have been raising concerns about the proposed Susquehanna Expressway, which is in the planning stages and will connect the Albany area to Schenectady. The valley is home to a variety of wildlife, including many species that are unique to the area. The valley is also home to many historic sites, including the Bozenkill Valley Preserve, Sheldon Falls, Darby Hill Wildlife Preserve, and Bear Swamp as well as many other natural landmarks.

When people are confused about issues of public policy, the false is easy for political opportunists. With the insomnia of elections, there seems to have been a birth of a false legislature reviewing the highway and the valley area from all kinds of candidates. One of the more popular schemes in a photo is that people were against the highway. But people are confused about issues of public policy, the false is easy for political opportunists. Gridders Travel To Towson State Saturday

by Mike Pfeifer

The Great Dane gridders journeyed west to Towson State last Saturday afternoon. The trip was a short one, only 30 minutes, as the gridders took the 7:00 p.m. train to Towson.

The game was played at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday afternoon. The Great Danes won the game with a score of 20-13. The Great Danes were led by quarterback Tim Flanagan, who threw for 200 yards and 2 touchdowns. The running back was Mike Benedict, who ran for 100 yards and 1 touchdown.

The Great Danes will now play their next game at home against New Paltz. The game will be played on Saturday, October 23rd, at 2:00 p.m.

Danes Crush New Paltz Run Mark to 9-1

Coach Bub Munsey's Harriers have improved their record to 9-1 this season. They have a good chance to win the New York State Conference championship.

The Harriers defeated New Paltz last Saturday afternoon, winning 35-7. The Harriers' quarterback, Tim Flanagan, threw for 200 yards and 2 touchdowns. The running back was Mike Benedict, who ran for 100 yards and 1 touchdown.

The Harriers will now play their next game at home against Siena. The game will be played on Saturday, October 23rd, at 2:00 p.m.

Soccer Team Loses Overtime Decision to Hamilton

The soccer team lost a close game against Hamilton last Saturday afternoon. The game was played at 2:00 p.m. and ended with a score of 2-2 after overtime.

The team was led by midfielder Tim Flanagan, who scored both goals for the team. The team's goalkeeper was Mike Benedict, who made several key saves.

The team will now play their next game at home against Vassar. The game will be played on Saturday, October 23rd, at 2:00 p.m.

State Judo Club Begins 4th Semester

New members are now being accepted into the State Judo Club. The club, beginning its fourth semester on the SUNYA campus, has been a major success in training judo players for the national tournaments.

This year, the club's instructor, Mr. Robert Peterson, Nidan (2nd degree black belt), has been able to guide the club in preparing for the national tournaments. Mr. Peterson has instructed the club and has organized the club's activities. The club has several new members this year, and they are trying to improve their skills.

The club meets every Wednesday night from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the Main Building. Anybody interested in joining the club should contact Mr. Peterson, either by phone or by email.

Sailing Club Wins Corinthian Trophy

In a thrilling final, the Sailing Club won the Corinthian Trophy for the fourth consecutive year. The club's captain, Tim Flanagan, led the team to victory with a brilliant performance on the water.

The team faced strong opposition from the rival club, but they were able to hold off the challenge and win the trophy.

The team will now face another challenge in the upcoming season. They will be looking forward to another successful year, with many of their key players returning for the next season.

FOR WOMEN ONLY

At the sunya camp, there will be a special program for women. The program will be held on Thursday, October 21st, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the Main Building. The program will be geared toward women's sports and will be led by Mr. Peterson and his team.

The program will be open to all women, and they are encouraged to attend.

Students have begun the State Quad suite in Eastern Tower which was the scene of a fire last spring.

Epilogue on Fires

By Bob Almen

FIRE, the creator of Colonel John Haynes, is said to be the same as that of the last Muy according to an estimate of the dormitory authority. The fire, which began in the fourth floor of Eastern Tower, is being treated non-incendive.

The Dormitory Authority of the dormitory has expressed concern about the possibility of fire in the future.

The fire was contained quickly, and the damage was minimal.

The Dormitory Authority is considering new safety measures to prevent future incidents.

The Kent State 25

We have witnessed the slaughter of thousands of American, Vietnamese, and Cambodian citizens. The US government continues its systematic destruction throughout most of Southeast Asia. Yet, when American students take to the streets to protest this daily violence, they are ignored by the National Guard and then found guilty of their own murder. The situation of student leaders at Kent State symbolizes the Bush administration's brutal application of force and justice in response to non-violence. We have witnessed the death of a 19-year-old student at Kent State and the fact remains that the sense of morality and proportion still exists and will not be beaten into submission. We are tired of fighting and the fact remains that the erosion of democracy and minority rights here and abroad will continue.
