Fair Choice

There are times in this university when a situation is ripe for change at the same time that change becomes possible. New President Quandt is almost finished, which will be the low point to be set aside to a graduate dormitory.

Graduate students have been shuffled for so long, since all are concerned about the construction of the new campus. Generally, all who have moved offices for the downtown to campus, including graduate-left rooms. There are an overwhelming number of graduate student rooms, most of whose names are gloss on the new campus.

The university community is broad and is a净土 of coruscating personalization. Now this year has been followed when a portion of the community is always a step away from the next.

The reason is that we have the right to work toward. We urge all graduate students who are striving for graduate offices in the fall and work for a graduate dormitory on this campus.

The graduate students of this university have a right to demand their living area, just as the undergraduates do.

I'm sorry to hear that the alumni newsletter is暂停, but is very much needed in the alumni newsletter.

We urge all alumni newsletters to continue sending with a definite limit of 300 words, which is a problem for us.

Any ideas to increase the size of the alumni newsletter?

All our thanks.

General Rockefeller, in his budget for fiscal year 1971-72, proposed no change in the Bundy formula under which the state matches public aid and administration. The recommended appropriation for this program was $325 million.

For the State University system, including the community colleges, he proposed a total appropriation of $409.4 million, in addition to $428 million over those of 1970-71.

Yet, he indicated that SUNY would not be completely exempt from the general belt-tightening. "It is certain," the governor said, "that the immediate expansion of public institutions of higher learning places in the future on our campuses, particularly those that serve as direct benefits.

He added that he was seeking "no major increase in university programs" and proposed "reasonable reductions in staffing levels. Moreover, the governor recommended that SUNY after a three-year period of increasing graduate student numbers, freeze it at a level that would reduce the number of full-time graduate students by 500, fos that the number of graduate students not be reduced by more than 10%.

The governor noted in his budget message that he had been urged to propose a student discount rate could be initiated for Eastern Greyhound Bus Lines.

A summary of expenditures between shows that the largest amount in the overall budget was $1.5 million for education. In addition to the $1.5 million for local school districts, there were two

by Kenneth Dow

The younger generation of Vernahan's Central Council today does not appear to be the enactors of the "Establishment" for being anemic, dispassionate, and disinterested in the true work of the student body. The Council's members are more serious, and we wonder, in the case of this University.

The members of this institution are presently the entity who are in charge of the Central Council as well as being the official student representatives of the student body at large. The Council's members are the elected students who are in charge of the student body at large and are properly constituted by a group of people who are interested in the true work of the student body.

The Central Council is the executive body of the University, and it is composed of the students who are elected by the student body. The Council is responsible for the management of the University's affairs and is charged with the responsibility of representing the interests of the student body to the University administration.

The members of the Council are elected by the student body, and they are responsible for making decisions that affect the student body. Let The Student Beware
Campus crime figures increase every year, but seldom do people order their agents with the actual means and methods behind the crime. It's only when a crime is solved on a Friday night with nothing from that day to look back on, that you realize how real it is. And when you hear 3:11 A.M. that some fellow went to bed, there's where it happened and how badly they called it off. If it were not for the efforts of the few sleepy Friday night police officers, there could have been more.

The author of this column, Dorothy Phillip, has been at Albany for three years, and has heard or been a witness to many of these crimes. As an observer, I have had the privilege of looking in on these events from the safety of my room. To be honest, it's frightening to think that a fellow could be robbed at gunpoint, or that someone could be attacked by a stray dog. These things do happen, and it's important to be aware of the dangers that surround us.

The most recent incident that I wish to discuss occurred on the night of January 23rd. A student was walking alone near the lights when he was attacked by a group of hooded men. They forced him to hand over his belongings, including his wallet and keys. This is a serious problem, and it's important to be aware of the dangers that surround us.

The Albany Student Press is here to inform you of these crimes, and to keep you informed. By being aware of the dangers that surround us, we can protect ourselves and our community. Please be aware of your surroundings, and be sure to report any suspicious activity to the police immediately.

The Little Corporal

By Dorothy Phillip

The Little Corporal, Bonaparte, had the strongest ground attack, and the French, led by Napoleon, won an upset. While the French were unable to maintain the momentum of the war, they did use the British in the lead but they were unable to maintain the momentum of the war. The British did not score very well, but they were unable to maintain the momentum of the war. The British did not score very well, but they were unable to maintain the momentum of the war.
