Sale of Bonds and Stamps Resumed

Edward Bookstein '43
Heads Milne Campaign

The sale of war bonds and saving stamps has been resumed this year under the able direction of Edward Bookstein. Each home room has been assigned a sale captain, so that the campaign may be carried to every member of the student body. Each treasurer will act as a salesmen and it will be his personal responsibility to see that the sale of stamps and bonds is pressed to the utmost in his home room.

High Mark to Shoot For

Bookstein and his associates will have a high mark to shoot for. Last year the treasurer sold over seven thousand and one hundred and eleven dollars worth of bonds and stamps under the direction of Richard Bates, '43, who is now serving as president of the Senior Student Council. This was accomplished in a little over five months, as the drive was started in January. This year students are expected to contribute even more to Uncle Sam.

On Sale Every Morning

The savings bonds and stamps will be on sale every morning during the school week from 8:30 to 9:00 a.m. at the desk in front of Dr. Cooper's office on the second floor. Stamps of ten, twenty-five, fifty cent and dollar values will be sold. Should the purchaser wish to buy a bond, the sale may be arranged through Mr. Bookstein. He or one of the treasurers, will be on duty each morning.

Emphasizes Importance

Bookstein emphasized the importance of the sale in the following statement: "With our Allies giving their very lives in defense of land far away from us, we must do our part by buying bonds and stamps. Every dollar can make a difference in the war effort. Let us all do our part to support our own troops fighting on many far-off frontiers."

Practice for Fire Drill

Practice is going to be held next Friday, October 23, at 2:30 p.m., in the Page Hall Auditorium.

The money and plans for a '42, room were presented to the school last year by its respective senior class. Since these plans were not carried out, the class of '43, has received permission to go ahead with the original program. This dance will be in room 135 and will be exclusive for senior use.

Class of '43 to Finish

The senior class decided to undertake the completion of the senior room, at a meeting last Monday, October 12, at 2:30 p.m., in the Page Hall Auditorium.

The Milnites are making the most of their week-ends, since studies tie them down on week nights. Saturday was the first Milne dance. It was for the junior school and it's a topic for gossip now with the seniors. The Junior Band and the Hamilton Street Band were brought in by making all announcements. Couples that attended are: Joy Price, Peter Hunting, Peggy Gallivan, Dick Bingham, Walt Griggs, Grace, Gretchen Phillips, and Margaret Hodeck.

Joan Davidson, ex-Milinite, was visiting Barbara Bogardus over the week-end. While she was home a birthday party was held by the ninth grade girls. The Milne boys are "hard to get" so the fellows at the party were from C. B. A and Albany High School. The party was held at Shirley Coburn's house in Delmar.

At the end of the evening, they migrated to Herbert's. The girls who were there are: Janice Hau, Audrey Blume, Zaida Weinberg, Mousey Mart, Marjorie Spector, Tom McCracken, Roberta Smith, Sue Hoyt, Joyce Knapp, Inez Warshaw, Richard Bates, Paul Distelhurst, Elaine Fite, Janice O'Connell, Frances Morah, Lucia Swift, Shirley Odell, Betty Pettig.

By the way, next week a home room census will be taken to find out how many people have paid their tuition and student tax, so take heed and pay it now.

Items of Interest

By Tom McCracken

Friday night, Albany High School played Nott Terrace High School in Schenectady. The unbeaten, un­conquered H. S. did it again, and turned the tide to a 7-0 victory in the second quarter. The diverting interests in the game were many, including five fights, six cheer leaders and a bottle of alejack.

State Approves
New Sport Rules

Dr. George D. Stoddard, state's education commissioner said that new state inter-scholastic rules have been adopted to "step up" the program of physical education in line with war-time training needs. The rules affect schools playing in inter-scholastic sports.

The present rules as they affect girls are as follows:

1. Post schedule games are permitted under certain circumstances, but post season games are still barred.

2. Age limit lowered from fifteen years of age to fourteen for inter-school competition. If a student is nineteen, on or after September first, he may play in inter-scholastic matches for that school year.

3. In basketball the maximum number of games is increased from sixteen to eighteen, with additional games permitted when necessary to break league ties.

4. The winter sports season is established as the period between November first, and April seventh.

This new program may be a boon to schools. It gives a wider field of competition by increasing the number of games to be played. It gives a person a greater chance to improve his skills by playing against other schools.

Girls Elect Captains
For Soccer and Hockey

With the start of intra-mural hockey and soccer games, elections have been held by the girls in both junior and senior high schools to decide the captains of the class teams.

Heading the senior class hockey team are Ruth Kettler, Harriet Hochstrasser, and June Brookman. The junior class having complete faith in Marilyn Bates, has elected her their only captain. Elaine Bissi, who was a new Milrile last year, has already been chosen captain of the seniors along with Barbara Brookman and Elaine Sex.

The "ninth grade is carrying on with the same teams as they had last year when they played soccer. Their teams are so well organized after last year that they don't feel they need captains.

Mabel Martin, Betty Jane Flandin, and Florence Flint are the captains of the eighth grade soccer team. The seventh grade is learning the fundamentals of soccer and as yet have not taken time to elect captains.

The inter-murals will be played off after school and varsity practice will take place on Friday.

Frederick Speaks On Draft Problem

Dr. Robert W. Frederick, principal, gave an address last Monday, October 12, at 12:45 p.m. over station W. G. Y. on the subject of "What of our Eighteen Year Olds?"

Some of the high points of Dr. Frederick's speech were: "The question is in reality not should we draft eighteen year old boys but what is the best possible service eighteen year old boys can give for their country? What is best for America, that is the question; not what is best for the parents of the boys immediately involved?"

Dr. Frederick continued by explaining the various draft laws. "Democracy is still in operation in spite of any concessions we have had to make to get efficiency by centralizing authority. The English, the Chinese, and above all the Russians have given us dearly purchased time to think."

In conclusion Dr. Frederick remarked—"Privately I shall be glad to give you my own decision. I don't do so now because I don't believe I have the right to express publicly my opinion at this time. I will help us all, I know, if we will remind ourselves constantly that the issue is not simply, shall we send our younger men to the war, but—can our boys do more for their country now—or after the war when a new kind of world must be established?"
