Societies Sponsor Dance

In Page Hall Gymnasium

April Bond Sales Show Decrease

The twenty-second annual Q.T. S.A. dance will take place tonight, Friday, May 14, in Page Hall gym from 9:00 to 1:00 o'clock. Gordon Jones' fourteen-piece orchestra will furnish the music. The dance is semi-formal but no flowers are to be sent. Flowers will be given out at the dance.

Corsages Out

In regard to the flowers, Dr. Fredrick said, "War calls for a sacrifice of many of the finer things of life. It is to be hoped that what little money is available will be directed to the growing of food, not the growing of flowers. We can do our part by foregoing the pleasure of flowers."

Each society has one representative on the general committee. The representatives are: Theta Nu, Stanley Heidenreich; Zeta Sigma, Margery Wright; Quintillian, Eleanor McFeé, and Adelphoi, Russell Langwig. Phi Sigma is not represented.

"Spring" Theme of Dance

The theme of the dance is Spring. There are two persons from each society on the decoration committee. Leonard Jones and Jack Cass will do the work for Adelphoi, Sanford Bookstein and Ben Van Acker for Theta Nu, Inez Warshaw and Jane Curtis for Quintillian, Ruth Ketler and June Brookman for Sigma. This is the only dance of the year which will have decorations. A throne has been built for the Queen.

Queen To Be Crowned

The members of the Queen's court are: Margery Wright, Elaine Fite, Eleanor McFeé, Meg Hunting, Betty Vail, May Metcalf, June Bailey, and Muriel Welsh. One of these girls will be crowned the Queen tonight, but until the hour of the coronation, it is a secret who the girl is.

Tickets Reduced

Tickets for the dance are $30 a couple, tax included. Each member of a society is assessed a ticket. This year the tickets are cheaper compared to previous years, because the money for the annual Q.T.S.A. scholarship is no longer needed, as the scholarship has been discontinued for the duration.

"We have high hope for the dance to be a great success, and hope many students come and have fun," says Russ Langwig, member of the dance committee.
The Students Vote

May 28 will again find Milne students voting for the heads of their student government. It is essential that they make a wise choice for their candidate. He represents the school at many civic and scholastic functions and he should be able to further the name and reputation of the Milne School. It is essential that they make a wise choice for their candidate.

No Shortage of Papers

Every Friday and Monday afternoon after the CRIMSON AND WHITE has been given to the students, there are some who ask the staff for their copy.

If you did not get your copy of the paper either because of absence or did not see your homeroom representative, please do not come to us. We do not have any extras for such pur-

Senior Spotlight

By Fran 'n' Jon

To get Melba to talk about herself was as difficult as getting her to smile. Finally she got going and except for time out to get her breath, she kept a steady stream of conversation.

To begin with, she started her career of newspaper reporter by writing "Do You Know" in the seventh grade. It was no unusual sight to see her counting the stairs going to the Annex or all the erasers in Milne so that in the next edition the paper would be able to say that there were 133 erasers or 68 steps going down into the Annex. Some people disagreed occasionally with her and counted them, but she was right. From then on she has worked up to co-editor of the CRIMSON AND WHITE.

Six Busy Years

Mel has held many offices in her six years at Milne. To mention a few: in the 9th and 10th she was on the Student Council (vice-pres. in 9th). She is on the City War Council, Victory Corps, on the Cheerleading Squad, in the Choir, in the senior play. The most important event was the Newspaper Convention in New York, which she attended in flying colors. And, of course, she has been an active member of Sigma.

Besides these things, she has hopes of going to Wellesley College and of becoming a journalist.
Milne Drops Game, 4-1

A last-inning rally by the Milne baseball team, failed to net enough runs to overtake the Schuyler team as the Red Raiders lost their first game this season, 4 to 1. Milne outhit the Falcons, eight to six, but made six errors which greatly figured in the scoring.

Tom Dyer pitched for Milne. He gave up three walks, two in the first. Jones and Edick each had two hits for three. Much-lick hit a triple for the longest blow of the day.

Milne Receives Gift From Federal Project

The Federal Theater Project made Milne a highly appreciated gift of 53 marionettes this week. These puppets were hand-made and there are complete sets of characters for Faust, The Variety Show, On the Levee, and The Christmas Novely. An exhibit is now up in the Art room and will be there for two weeks. After that, pupils who are interested may put on a puppet show for the rest of the school.

These puppets were all owned by the Federal Theater Project, which is disbursing and either loaning or giving its properties to various high schools and civic organizations throughout the country.

The characters are very clever and interesting to look at. There are all types from Helen of Troy in Faust, to the jolly Negroes in On

DISC-cussions

By Elinor Yaguda

Fans are waiting with crossed fingers for the annual Alumni Dance on Friday night, on the 25th, and are hoping for more records. Discs are still being made but they aren't exactly pouring in. Recommended is 'Brown Suede' by Harry James. This is stolen from a very old and very good popular tune. At any rate, Barney plays superbly. Also we can look on Woody Herman's terrific arrangement of "Amen."

More on Harry James

Last week we knocked Harry James for too much of the sentimentality in his records, but he promised to be back. And he sure is. This time he has done it right. He's got that style lovely and he's got the right kind of material. But even if you refuse to hear his records, go and see him. He's worth it. He's worth every cent.
