Freshmen to Prepare History of Art Murals

Four Milne freshmen, Robert Baskin, Marjorie Bookstein, and John Thompson, have been selected by Miss Katherine Kates and Miss Kent, librarian, to prepare an article on the history of the Milne murals. The article will be published in an early issue of THE VORTEX magazine of the New York State Historical Society.

Milne's murals, of which fourteen adorn the library walls, are the work of David Cunningham Lithgow, famed Albany artist. They portray the history of Albany from early days to modern times.

The group of writers has conferred with Mr. Lithgow, Dr. Sayles, president of State College, and Mr. Frederick, in gathering material for the story.
Working Juveniles

A very alarming fact has recently been brought to light. Mainly that one half of the children in the state between fourteen and seventeen years old hold either part-time or full time jobs. This is for the year 1913.

It is evident why this is so. The shortage of adult labor because of the war has caused such an acute labor shortage threat, wages have increased tremendously and the younger children find a tremendous temptation in these comparatively high wages for them. More alarming is that as the war continues, an increasing number of children from 11 to 17 employed either part-time or full-time will result.

The result of this employment has been that many boys and girls have left high school before their graduation in order to take full-time jobs. Many who have part-time jobs and remain in school have combined school-work weeks as high as sixty hours. The result of this has been a decrease in the health of the children of this age group. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has reported an increased death rate from tuberculosis during 1942 for its insured children of the 14-17 age group.

At present the law in New York State permits a child to go to school and still work an eight-hour day. A certain bill now pending would limit the school-work week of children under sixteen to forty-four hours and that of the sixteen and seventeen-year-olds to forty-eight hours.

Still more alarming is that in the long run after the war is over, these children will be a glut on the labor market. Without even a high school education, they will have difficulty in getting anything but an unskilled job. With the return of adult labor, they will even have difficulty in getting a job at all.

The most important job of these youngsters is the continuation of their education. In the long run it will benefit the nation the most.

Senior Spotlight

by Janice O'Connell

All of the kids of Milne have a lot to thank Bob Beckett for in ease they don't know. All of us have seen at the basketball games and have enjoyed them. Remember a few months ago there was no basketball schedule but today over half of the games have passed and the season is behind us, nearing its completion. Although we couldn't play the games without our team, our team couldn't have made a name for itself unless we had a well planned schedule. This had been done by Bob. It has been a good job too. Business manager of the BAC is his official title.

All this build up is for the business manager of the team that behind all of the games and sees that everything is taken care of.

Six Years Here

Bob has spent his six years in Milne the same as anyone else. He has been in and out of several offices and committees such as: this year's president of Adelphi, active member of H-Y, due to CAP, member of a tableau, son of class, father and sons banquet committee for the past three years. In the ninth year he was in the cooking club and in the tenth grade, he was a cub manager.

Enters Adelphi

Also in the tenth year he had to suffer with the rest of the new members of the societies. In the past two years he, along with the others has planned for the coming invitations with a gleam on a chance for revenge. The poor younger members are sorely missed.

Bob is planning a career in the Army Air Forces. He is, at present, in the Civil Air Patrol Cadet Corp. He is a staff officer with the rank of a sergeant. He has been studying and has had practical experience in the field of aviation.

During the summer Bob hopes to go to college to study aviation until October when he will be 18.

Now for the old questions of likes and dislikes: His major dislike is English class—he always did. His likes consist of leisurely hours for eating and sleeping, square dancing and Polkas, which are right down his line when the dancing begins.
Red Raiders Face V.I. In League Tilt

Milne Defeats Brothers, 24-20; Seventh Straight

Take Second In A League Standing

Crimson and White

By NAT MANN

Gaining revenge for an early season defeat, the Milne Red Raiders nosed out the league leading CBA team, 24-20 on the Brothers' court Wednesday in an all important league tilt.

Getting off to a fast start, the Milne team took an early lead in the first quarter, but was on the short end of a 15-13 count when the first buzzer rang.

Brothers Score First

CBA chipped up the first two points which was followed by a foul shot made by Milne. Captain Dutch Ball, bangbang game at guard, finished out the scoring for the quarter with two tall points, giving CBA a 4-2 lead in the game score 5-2.

CBA Sparko Second

The second quarter was sparked by a CBA offensive, scoring 13 points despite the loss of their outstanding forward, Captain Bill Lewis. Lewis, who missed action in a few early season encounters due to a broken finger, was hurt after five minutes of play in the second period, but came back to play in the last quarter. Milne rang up eight points to finish up the half.

The third quarter was a see-saw battle all the way with Milne holding a one point edge when the whistle blew. The Brothers added 20 points at the beginning of the fourth quarter, and were held scoreless by the Milne quintet.

Milne Freezes Ball

The New Scotland Avenue boys were afraid to break through, enabling Milne to freeze the ball in the last quarter until it was too late. Then in a last minute attempt, they used a close pressing zone, and tried in vain to get the ball. A double foul was committed, and Charlie Terry scored one point, while Gorman of CBA missed. Baker ended the scoring with a lay up shot from the left side. CBA had the ball while the game ended with Milne holding down a four-point margin.

Aronowitz High Scorer

High scorer of the day was Lee Aronowitz with ten points to raise his league total to 64, beating out Bob Powell of Albany High for sixth place. Joyce Bland was high for the evening with 15.

The Red Raiders emerged from the game on the long end of a 37-31 score. This was the sixth straight for the varsity cagers. It was a nip and tuck affair the whole game until the last half of the last quarter. Milne was ahead 8-6 at the first quarter, but dropped back to 18-14 at the half. The third quarter score was 27-22. At the half of the last quarter Milne was ahead 29-26. This was when the Raiders really put the pressure on to win by the score of 37-31.

Good Teamwork

Milne has displayed fine teamwork in the last seven games, and it was able to freeze the ball in the last quarter. Milne was ahead 8-6 at the first quarter, 14-12 after the first half, and 27-22 at the end of the third period.

Seek to Even Score

The Red Raiders, under the capable leadership of Captain Dutch Ball, will be trying to get even with V.I. for the defeat they suffered at the hands of the Lions earlier in the season, 42-38. Milne's "marvel," Bill Baker; the sophomore standout, Chuck Terry; captain and "crack athlete," Dutch Ball; "hugger" Ed Muehleick; "long-shot ace," Ed Muehleick, will all see plenty of action. Tommy Orange, Charley Aronowitz, and Charlie Terry will also flash their stuff.

Vincentian ran its basketball winning streak to three games by outclassing Cathedral 40-18 to move into the fourth slot in the Class "A" League standings. V.I. has average score of 34 points and lost five.

Cathedral Fifth

Cathedral has dropped into fifth place because of their loss to Milne two weeks ago. Cathedral team has scored 5 points.

Bill Baker, Milne's six-foot-four-inch giant, has dropped to third place in the individual scoring race. Joe Busch, Vincentian's high scorer, leads the league with a total of 103 points. Baker has played only two league games in which "Drink" could raise his score. The first of these was the Cathedral game in which Bill scored only four points because of the fact that he was put "on the shelf" early in the game. In the CBA game "Drink" scored 5 points.

Joe Busch, Vincentian's high scorer, leads the league with a total of 103 points. Busch has a 13-point lead of Chick Cleveland of Al- bany. Two tallies last week against Albany High to raise his total to 90 points and to take over the second slot. The

Jarratt Appoints Coffin As Committee Head

At the last meeting of the Junior Student Council on Friday, February 25, 1944 in Room 124, Donald Jarratt, vice-president of the organization appointed the following committee to see what can be done about getting a clock in the little gym or the locker rooms: Tristram Collins, "F," chairman; Judith Hunting, "A," assistant; Betty McQuade, "C," and Bob Clark, "F.

According to Mr. Jarratt, "This is the beginning of an effort to get improvements for Milne. We would appreciate any suggestions the students have that they have any suggestions they have to their homeroom representative."
Eighth Grade Committee Distributes Book Fund

Eighth grade students have voted to use $125 of their book fund for books for the Milne Milne. The eighth grade last year did the same thing.

The books were selected by the eighth graders and the final work was done by a committee consisting of: Ruth Danzig, Judy Hunting, Sherwood Kerkor, Gregory Angier and Howard Ecker.

The book will be left on reserve on the last of this year for the eighth graders and next year they will be placed in the general library collection.

In order to show who contributed these books, a contest was sponsored among the eighth graders for the best design of a book plate to be put in each book. Anyone who wanted to, drew a plate and the students voted to see which they thought best.

The winner of the contest was Suzanne Pelletier.

Assemblies View Film On Physical Fitness

On Tuesday, February 29, Senior and Junior High assemblies viewed a film on the physical fitness program in New York State.

The program, instigated by the New York State Regents Board, includes various commands, judo, swimming, obstacle, boxing, and wrestling courses. Included were actual scenes from the operations of the British Fifth Army in North Africa.

The theme centered around one job (Bob Rappaport who graduated from Albany High last spring had an anticipating induction in the armed forces after graduation, decides to test his physical fitness. Finding himself far short of what was required, he entered a training program. On induction he found that he was better prepared to meet army requirements.

Several scenes were photographed in front of State College and Milne.

Sophomores Meet In Page; Grace Leads Discussion

A meeting of the newly organized sophomore class was held Monday, February 25 in the Page Hall Auditorium. It was the second of its kind to be held.

The meeting opened at 12:27 by President, Dick Grace and the subject under discussion was payment and amount of class dues. A motion was made and almost unanimously to have class dues starting soon. A motion was then made and carried to set the dues at 50 cents a month. The reasons given for having dues was for the amount of sophomore expenses (book, etc.). The amount was decided could be discussed by a committee, and several suggestions ready to offer the class. The meeting was then adjourned.

Quin Sophs Suffer At Society Shindig

Last Thursday at 3:03, February 28, a party was held at the Milne country club. There were over 300 sophomores who attended and many, many, many, many, many songs were sung.

In addition to the CBA party, there was a "Lovely Way to Spend an Evening." Obviously all the sophomores thought it was a great hit. As many, many, many singers are judged by their surface personality instead of their singing voices, Sue Paul Frank is knocked for his bow ties instead of his mellow crooning.

Famed Lena Horne

And take Lena Horne, famed far and wide for her dazzling beauty; much more so than that blue voice she possesses. She is less renowned as a chanteuse, than the not-too-good looking Dinah Shore, yet her voice is five-times better. It has a true beat than Shore's and a real instinctive feeling for the jazz, which is something Shore will never have. But Lena is known as "georgeous," now that she has gained prominence, instead of paying attention to her voice.

And you might take Betty Brewer, the Dorsey vocalist, dig, dig, dig, who smiled twice and merited a lot of applause. A nice voice, but far from exciting. However she's pretty girl. Incidentally I heard reports that the Brewer sugar-sweet smile turned lemon-sugar back-stage. About the only thing I think of the recent woman who was judged for her voice alone is Helen Forrest. Even so, Miss Forest saw fit to have her nose uplifted. Such is life, who says beauty's only skin deep? It seems to have gotten under our welsi skin.

Milne Defeats CBA

Grace was high scorer for both teams with nine points.

The Milne Milne was filled to capacity even for an afternoon game. The tension of the Milne "freeze" as the fourth quarter started building up to a terrific pitch as the Brothers' roosters kept yelling for their team to get the ball. They were not able to break the "freeze" until three full minutes of the quarter had passed and still they could not score in the remaining five minutes.
