Youth Presents Giant Benefit Auditions May 4

Auditioning for a gala show on the order of “Ziegfeld Follies”, produced by the united class of 1946, Albany will take place on Saturday, May 4, at the Elks’ Hall. The show, “Here’s To Youth”, will be produced June 4th at the Strand Theater for the purpose of raising money for Denial Day. Last year the Denial Day campaign, held in concert with Harry Grogan, the city, and girls to camp during the summer was a failure. This year the youth have a chance to succeed, and are urged to help the world what the show is about. They may be with or without talent. The only required necessity is the ability to portray a character. At this time, the committee has been selected and charged with the production of the show. Those on this committee are: Alice Greene, David Volmer, New Paltz State Teachers; Rosada Smith, Ithaca; Nancy Abernathy, with Bill Plunkett, John Thompson, Jack Rickels, Art Walker and Richard Taylor.

Seniors Choose Annual Present

The Senior Class of 1946 has chosen the annual class gift, and an announcement made following a recent class meeting. The presentation of a display case designed to match the one already on the first floor. As in the other, this case will be used to hold trophies, exhibits and many other articles of interest to Milnites. The case will be used to hold trophies, exhibits and many other articles of interest to Milnites.

Juniors Present Movie, “Top Hat” Feature Film

For the annual class night, the Junior Class of 1946 has accepted by colleges. Others expect to hear from them about the middle years and senior class. They decided upon “Top Hat” for the evening. The committee is planning for several additional shorts.

Various Schools Accept Seniors

The Watercolor Art Exhibit, held last week on April 29, is the result of the work of the senior art students under the direction of Miss Grace Martin. The display, being presented in the Art Room, consists of many familiar scenes around Milne done in watercolors. Various drawings by these students were done on the outdoors while the rest were made inside the building with different subjects included.

HURRY HOME!

We're very sorry to hear of the illness of "Gay" Appleton, a member of the Crimson and White staff. We miss her smile and humor around school and hope that she'll soon be well again. Hurry back, Gay!
TO YOU

This is it. Here again is that annual, tiresome editorial letting the school know that a new staff has taken over the paper and as usual they will do their very best. Fine. The school is glad to hear that, but unfortunately the school is still just a bit in the dark. They want to be sure that they'll get the right kind of representation and that on Fridays the paper will be on their homeroom teacher's desk so that they can grab a copy and scan it.

The kids from the various classes, mostly this year's juniors, are the ones writing the columns, the sports, the everyday school news which goes for high school enjoyment. These staff members are just like you. They want the paper to be a success just as you do, but if they didn't, they certainly wouldn't waste their afternoons up in the C. & W. office. Therefore if we have the support of the writers, why can't we have the support of the whole school? You who feel that the paper has nothing to do with you, that you have no direct interest, will be the first ones to be sure the paper is not a success. We want to be pleased just as much as the next fellow so that when you have a gripe, you can let us know about it. We are all human and so for that very reason, we want to know when we let YOU down.

There are many changes. Yet, without some kind of change a paper can never hope to grow. It is the new staff's true desire to advance in such a way that there can be no question next year at Columbia of the victor.

Lims Prominent In Cheerleading
Candiates' Walk

If you saw a few unfortunate girls limping around, carrying a uniment bottle, and staggerin up the stairs, you saw the remnants of next year's cheerleaders. Those poor creatures were practicing wedding, thursdays, and Friday afternoons. They tried valiantly to drag their torture bodies into the first gym

Those who tried out were: Diana Ostramaer, Nancy Beapper, Barbara Zemah, Whitmore, Haf, Ruth Weil, Maronee Baucom, Barbara Leslie; sophomores: Mary Jane riske, Doris Long, Dearie Beapper, Ariene Blum, one r'le'tier, Nancy French, Leslie Towner, Laura Les Paxton, Janet Paxton, Janet Kilby, Marjory Norston, Nancy Simmons; eighth graders: Mark MacMillan, Barbara Loote, Janet Hicks, June Haut, and Ann Coniglio.

The junior varsity will consist of three freshmen and three sopho­more while on Varisty will be three juniors and four seniors. The squad will be assisted by Mrs. Te滋en.

Paland Receives Naval Award

It has been announced that Lieut. Richard W. Paland, '39, has been awarded one of the Navy's highest honors, the Navy Cross, for his heroic action in the low level torpedo bombing of the Japanese battleship Horuna in Yokohama harbor.

At the time of the attack on the Haruna Liet. Paland was attached to the carrier Bunker Hill, and was one of the party of the carrier's aircraft which took the Shangra La with the famous Task Force 38.

While in Milne, Paland was president of the Junior Student Council. He captained the basketball squad, served as both business manager and treasurer of Hi-C, senior class business manager, and was the assistant sports editor of the Crimson and White in his senior year.

On the day before V-J Day, Lieut. Paland was shot down while making an attack over Tokyo Bay, but fortunately was soon re-cued by the destroyer Blade. Taking part in the battles of Tarawa, Truk and Rabaul, he has received the Purple Heart, five aid medals, and Admiral Nimtz's citation.

Ex-Milne Faculty
Out of Service

The return to the Milne faculty of three World War II veterans, Mr. Paul Bulger, Coach Harry Grogan, and Mr. James Conraine, was warren a report on the returning faculty in service or serving again overseas.

According to Dr. Robert W. Freisler, principal, there are no former faculty members still with the army forces. Mr. James Conraine, former junior high school English supervisor, has been discharged, and has returned to his teaching career, for he is now a teacher at Teachers College, New York City. Mr. Conraine left Milne in 1943.

Mr. Thomas Kinseala, who prior to his induction served on the Milne faculty as Commerce supervisor, has returned from the army and is now engaged in the paper industry in the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D.C.

Former supervisor, Mr. William Fullinger, has abandoned his teaching career, for he is now engaged in the hardware business in Rochester.

Apparently the only other Milne faculty individual planning to return is Professor Yorke, musician in Milne until 1943. He is expecting to return to the school in September. At the present time, Mr. Yorke is taking a special study course at Syracuse University.

Musicians to Present Spring Concert

Plans for the annual Spring Concert presented each year by the music department of the school have been announced by Miss Ruby Blaine, music instructor this year. The orchestra, Millettes and the junior choir, under the direction of Miss Blaine, will present a concert consisting of songs and instrumental numbers.

Miss Blaine hopes to present the concert in the auditorium one evening in the third week of May. All five divisions of the department will join the first selection. According to the department, the first number is to be the most dramatic on the program. Also on the program will be a solo by Mary Mapes who will play the flute. Sophomore Sue Petillo, accompanied by the glee club will sing a number.

Miss Blaine said, "I'm glad that there is going to be a story about the concert in the paper, because we will call the school's attention to it."

Junior Girls Drop Blazers

The junior girls, according to Pat Snyder, '47, have abandoned the project of purchasing blazers, a project begun early in the winter. The group was concerned that the money received from the sale of blazers would be used for the preparation of clothing and textile material.

As a result, the class has decided to buy small navy blue and white hosiery. To remember the class, this new project consists of Nancy Bezug and Carol Spence. These girls will make their report at the next junior class meeting.

GIVE TO THE CANCER DRIVE!

Dear Joe and Josie Milnite:

Well spring has finally come, or so the song writers seem to think, because they have suddenly burst forth with a big stock of new songs to really see you singin'. A tour of the record centers has proved this.

The first thing I ran across was a Columbia recording of Frank Sinatra's "Full Moon and Empty Arms," taken from Rachmaninoff's Second Concerto, a number you've been hearing quite a bit of late. The reverse side entitled "You Are Too Beautiful" features Frankie who really put it over. If you're in a sentimental mood, you'll enjoy this, if you're not, it will see that you'll get into one.

Next came the Andrews Sisters swinging along with "Coax Me a Little Bit" and on the same turntable, "Atlanta, Ga." The former is a cute, catchy little tune, bound to carry you for quite some time into the arrangements of "Atlanta, Ga." is good, but nothing exceedingly wonderful.

Say, Josie, I knew you used to like Glen Miller and his music, and I thought you'd pick up an ear to this one by the new outfit back, together with Tex Beneke, recording two new tunes, rather inappropriately named "California" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." The latter is in that well Glen Miller swing style, and, boy, it seems good to have that kind of music back again.

Martha Tilton makes the front page also with her rendition of "That's Good Blues Tonight" with some added platters including, "Ah Yes," and "As If I Don't Have Anything to Hide." She's good, and I'm sure she'll like her new album of western songs. Both time he put out an album like this.

"They Say It's Wonderful" shapes up to be a popular platter of increasing sales. Done by Perry Como, this number will be soon appearing among your best music corner and as an added treat the flipover features "Laughing On the Outside, Crying On the Inside." Perry needs to add his popularity list, as sales soar in this latest vocal effort.

See you soon.
Forever Ambler.

Ode to the Senior Room

By BARBARA SMITH

Blessings on thee, little room, That looks like Bill Bull. (But don't make me laugh.)

Blessings on thee, little room, That looks like the inside of a chariot. It looks like crying to me.

Thy corner still recalls the way,

To squeeze the Senior Class inside.

We're sorry that we marred thy door used by students on the third floor and the southern most boys' lockers, will be used by the students to the people of New York? Blackie and Sherry, "What Was He Doing in New York?"
